

KCL Reading Capital presents...

“Capital, Exploitation and Economic Crises”

a talk by

John Weeks

John Weeks is author of the seminal book ‘Capital and Exploitation’. He will trace a path from Marx’s analysis of commodities to the capitalist crisis of the twenty-first century.

The current economic crisis is the worst since the depression of the 1930s. Mainstream economics has failed to account for this disastrous collapse of financial assets, which required massive state intervention throughout the capitalist world.

Karl Marx did anticipate this type of financial collapse, arguing that it was a product of the ‘fetishism of commodities’ inherent in the capitalist mode of production.

Monday 11 October, 6.30pm
Room K4U.12, Strand Campus
King’s College London

kclreadingcapital.blogspot.com
for more info contact kclreadingcapital@gmail.com

KCL Reading Capital presents...

“Capital, Exploitation and Economic Crises”

a talk by

John Weeks

John Weeks is author of the seminal book ‘Capital and Exploitation’. He will trace a path from Marx’s analysis of commodities to the capitalist crisis of the twenty-first century.

The current economic crisis is the worst since the depression of the 1930s. Mainstream economics has failed to account for this disastrous collapse of financial assets, which required massive state intervention throughout the capitalist world.

Karl Marx did anticipate this type of financial collapse, arguing that it was a product of the ‘fetishism of commodities’ inherent in the capitalist mode of production.

Monday 11 October, 6.30pm
Room K4U.12, Strand Campus
King’s College London

kclreadingcapital.blogspot.com
for more info contact kclreadingcapital@gmail.com