Being Indian and Innovating

As part of the introductions and kick starting session, Aditya Garg who is president of ITB Mumbai chapter tried to challenge all participants on rekindeling their being Indian feeling and contributing to India and the testing world by innovating some testing or any other software product.

Cloud Computing and Testing - Hadoop

The next session was by Shreya Chakravarty who drove all the way from Pune to share great insight into Cloud Computing and the testing challenges it offers. The session also highlighted storing large sized data on the cloud using Hadoop as the technology

Risk Based Testing

As part of series on ISTQB Advanced level certification Nimisha Shah shared her knowledge on Risk based testing, the difference between product and project Risks.

Agile Testing

Dinesh Madne who is a project director at Lionbridge and is a certified scrum master shared his vast experience in Agile testing. It was an hour long session and the entire population really wanted to go on and on with the excellent practical knowledge that Dinesh was sharing with all.

Problems on the table

There were three problems that were shared by participants.

- Brijesh wanted to know how to handle a situation where the testing team is always getting stuck with not finding enough time
- Mradul wanted to know how to increase the stability of the testing build that they were receiving
- Ujas wanted to choose a low cost test automation tool which can support RIA applications on multibrowsers.

Next Month's meet 30th April 2011 (Venue yet to be finalized)

Special thanks to Dhanashri Pote for helping with compering, Saptarshi Das for helping organize and coordinate the even and BIG THANKS to Lionbridge for sponsoring the event.
