I should be considered for a job even though I have no similar experience because:

I work hard

I attempt the impossible¹

I go the extra mile for things I believe in²

I am cheap³

I am self organised⁴

I am reasonably intelligent⁵

I am still learning⁶

I like asking difficult questions⁷

I know how to get to London from Coventry on the train for £5⁸

1 I organised and exported organic cotton t-shirts from Bethlehem. In the occupied West Bank.

2 Like the time I travelled all night on a third class train in Egypt. Hindsight is a wonderful thing.

3 I have been working unpaid for nearly five years

4 See above

5 I have a Masters in Environmental Science

6 Currently the only man on a sewing course at night college.

7 I love to attend random lectures at the Royal Society of the Arts, where I am a Fellow, and ask questions. It is a great way to be exposed to totally different people and ideas.
