I enjoy working in a multicultural environment and that there's the ability for men and women to work together at QF. I also like the fact that we work on international projects and hold meetings and events in different regions of the world.

My current job includes, but is not limited to, helping set up meetings and events, and meeting with suppliers to coordinate hotels, translation, transportation, souvenirs, restaurants and media contacts. I also work with suppliers to obtain necessary printed materials, and I research professional training opportunities and Media/PR conferences.

I establish excellent relations with so many diverse people from various organizations. I would say the interpersonal relations I have made it very rewarding.

I believe QF is an important organization to work for because of the historical change it is bringing to the people of Qatar. The importance QF has on a local and international scale is vast, and I feel that I will only learn more and be capable of enhancing my skills and abilities while working at such a strong, positive and multicultural organization.

I have gained many skills that allow me to work with people with various backgrounds. I have also advanced my spoken and written English language, which I believe is very important. QF provided me with a place of ongoing education and a learning space that has included advanced public relations courses, business English language course, as well as technical computer software training.

- Administration and procurement manager at Al Jazeera English.

I have a large respect for community awareness and corporate social responsibility and I wanted to participate in helping Qatari society develop. QF is trying to attract a lot of Qatari nationals to contribute and create a land of scholars, which really appealed to me.

My department is a "lean and mean" 56-person team that serves as the focal point for all shared services at the SDC. We coordinate with all QF departments to support our center's goals. Personally, I oversee our HR, procurement, administration and finance activities.

I've given hope to others, helped them feel valued and appreciated. It gives your life a purpose. I feel privileged to be here at this time.

At the SDC there is a great working environment where you feel like you are part of one big family looking out for the community and its development.

This region has always been a place of giving to the rest of the world in the fields of science, humanities, algebra - so it is great that Qatar has taken a prime role in bringing that back. To have QF on Qatari soil is a great honor – every Qatari should look at the opportunities and try to find a position for themselves to help develop this great project.

We have to develop a skilled workforce that understands how important it is to be here and be part of the mission and vision His Highness and Her Highness have for this country. Our size in the world is not humungous but our steps are.
