

Pegasus Friday

A History of Greatness

Origins

- First Pegasus Friday image – 3/14/08
- Inspired by “Dillinger Escape Plan” T-Shirt
- Sent to approximately 5 people

“I usually wear this shirt on Fridays”

-Some Hipster who accidentally started it all

The Story

- The previously mentioned t-shirt is the focal point of the conversation that started it all. It went as follows:

3/7/08, at a mid-size .com in northeast Ohio

“What do you think of my unicorn t-shirt?”

“Actually, sir, that is a pegasus. You can clearly see the wings.”

“Sorry, my mistake. I usually wear it on Fridays. I like to end the week on a strong note.”

8AM

“IS IT PEGASUS FRIDAY?”

“...What?”

“Did you wear the pegasus t-shirt?”

“...What?”

“The one you wear on Fridays.”

“...What? Oh, no. I forgot.”

“It can still be Pegasus Friday...”

Why Bea Arthur?

This slide was going to be about Bea Arthur and how she's hot, but it turns out she's so hot that if you look up Bea Arthur in Google Image Search, you end up with nude drawings of Bea Arthur, even with safe search on, and my job frowns on using company resources to look at Bea Arthur porn. At least I think they do. I may need to consult the handbook.

It's like that scene in Airheads where they demand a nude photo of Bea Arthur, except that's not what I asked for.

Pegasus Friday Miracles

- Pegasus Friday Miracles are any unexpected good thing that happens during Pegasus Friday. Examples:
 - Finding a quarter
 - Hearing a good song on the radio
 - Winning a door prize
 - Finishing a marathon
 - Rapture
 - Obligatory Clip Art

Hector

- This is Hector. He lives at my desk and hopes you've had a very educational Pegasus Friday (which counts as a Pegasus Friday Miracle)
