

The purpose of websites

1. Google is the most power full search engine on the internet so far, you can find any information about thing that you need, you will get a result as long as it's exist most of the thing are free but you may pay for some of the stuff.
2. IMDB: internet Movie Data base.
The purpose of this website is for movie trailers, music, Tv, show, actors, video games and celebrities which all for entertainment.
3. Angelina Jolie
the purpose of the this website is to give more information about Angelina Jolie's biography, filmography, and award. So that people will know more about her. Most of the celebrities have an official website.
- Ricky Gerais
4. this blog is about Ricky Gerais the comedian and it's about one of their programme and biography and youtube links.
5. Pitch&Co
it is a branding Graphic and design company. It is giving you more information about their work to the clients.
6. Fan forum
it 's sort of announcement forum is all about celebrities, Tv shows, Music, artist gives you more information and updates.
7. Ebay
is very popular online shopping website you can buy almost any thing which availaible online and cheaper then market also you sell your Items stuff new or used .
8. Facebook
is a social networking website, the purpose of this website to find your friends and new friend you can post your photos, video any thing interesting for your friends or for any one in public also you can make a page and people will follow your updates.