Here is a girl. Can you point to the girl? She is bigger than a baby. She is growing bigger. God made bigger children. Thank You, God!

Bible Words

"God made people"
(based on Isaiah 45:12).

Let your child look at some pictures of people in magazines. Say the Bible Words while encouraging your child to point to the pictures of people.

(Sing to the tune of
"Are You Sleeping?")

God made children. God made children.
Thank You, God. Thank You, God.
God made little children.
God made bigger children.
Thank You, God. Thank You, God.

Playing Together

If your young child has an older sibling, encourage them to play together. Ask them to stand back-to-back. Compare their heights. Say, "God made little children. God made little children able to grow. Little children become bigger children."

I'm Growing Up

If you've been recording your child's height on a chart, look at the chart with your child. Talk about how he is growing bigger. If you have other children, look at their height marks also. Point to the marks and talk about how God made little children able to grow and how little children become bigger children.
