

GAIO

good air inside and out

GAIO is a conference with the goal of addressing air pollution in a meaningful, comprehensive, and productive way. It will raise people's awareness of the issue to create change and improvement for everyone.

Leaders in business and politics are the core audience. Focus is on energy, manufacturing and transportation. An environment will be created to encourage the exchange of ideas and creation of solutions.

