THE ACADEMY FOR SPIRITUAL FORMATION®
THE UPPER ROOM®

RATIONALE

The Academy (a center for specialized learning and experience) recognizes that the Holy Spirit is the enabling power in all Christian spiritual formation. It is designed to provide a setting for a spiritually disciplined community where lay and clergy can open their lives to receive God's love and grace to the end that they increasingly become spiritual leaven within the Body of Christ.

AUDIENCE

Lay and clergy persons who want to be a part of a community of seekers in order to learn the spiritual traditions of the church, to be open to God's spirit in new ways and to be further formed for Christian living and ministry.

PURPOSE

The purpose of The Academy is to provide an in-depth and comprehensive experience in spiritual formation for lay and clergy persons who are highly motivated in their sense of call to follow Christ and serve the church and the world. The sixteen courses offered over the two year period, combined with the recovery of the use of Psalms in worship and the ongoing participation in personal and group spiritual guidance, are efforts to help prepare persons to live out that call.

CURRICULUM ESSENTIALS

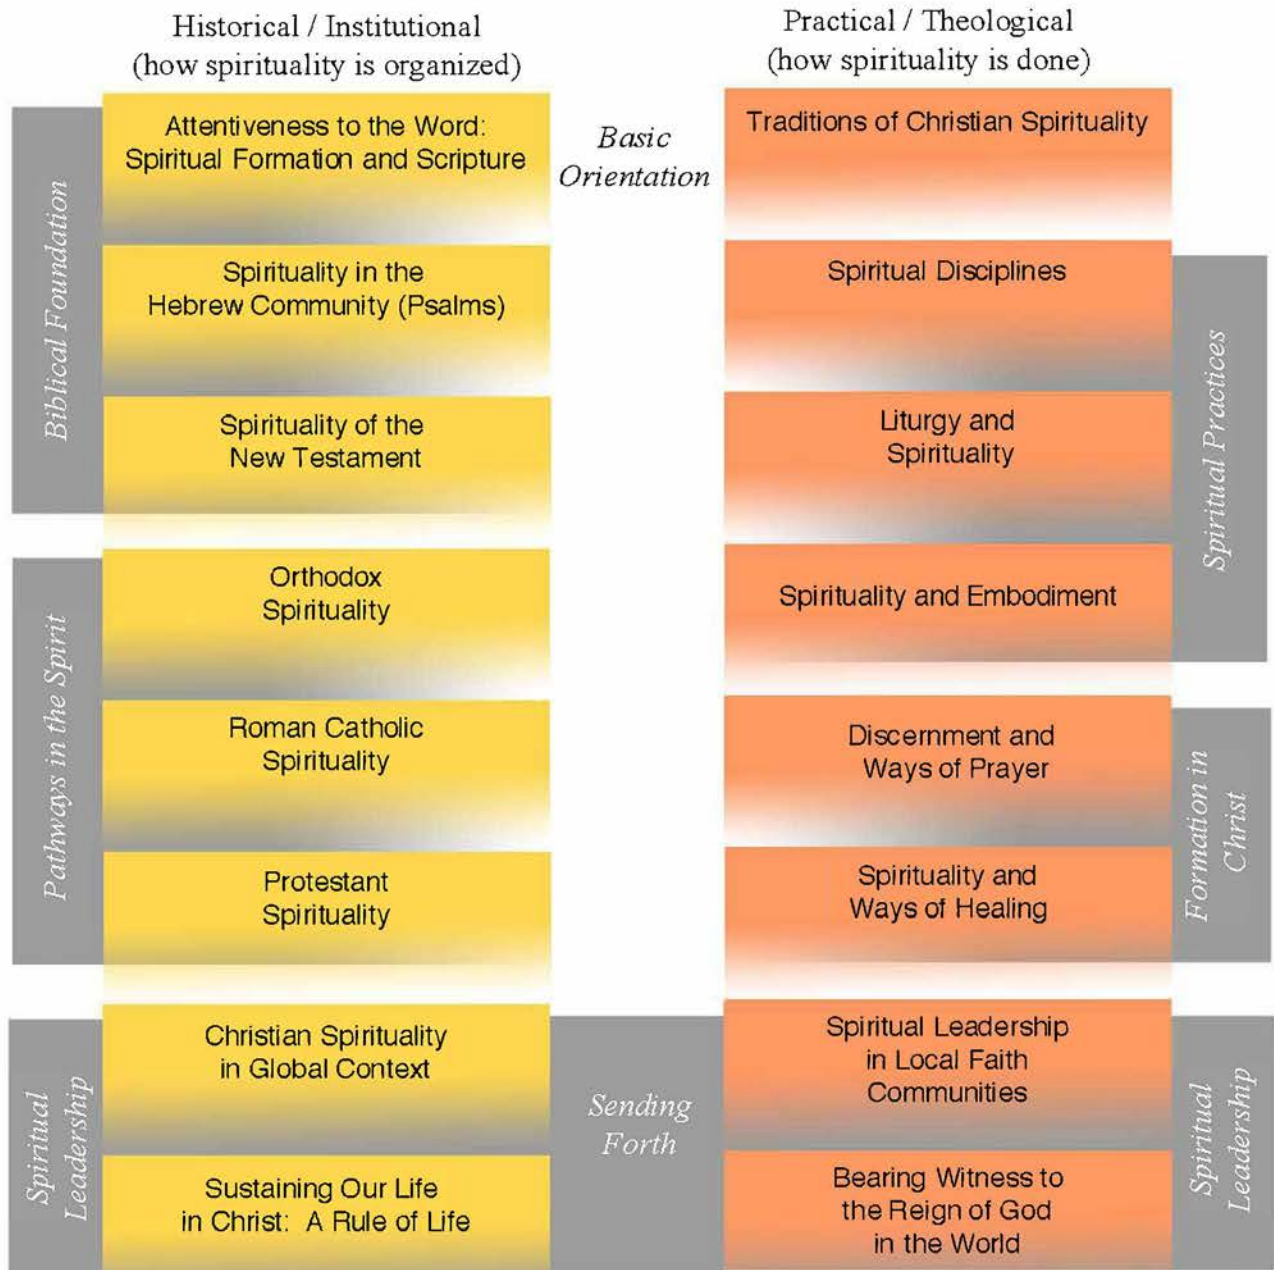

The following major areas will be addressed by specific courses in the curriculum:

1. The place and use of scripture in spiritual formation: the Bible as the word of God.
2. Models/types of spirituality reflected in Christian biography and devotional literature.
3. Guidance in spiritual disciplines.
4. Spirituality, psychology, and inner healing.
5. Historical framework for spiritual formation.
6. The relation of the interior life to the needs of the world (justice and servanthood).
7. The role of the corporate religious community (the church) in spiritual formation.

ACADEMY FOR SPIRITUAL FORMATION

Overview

THE SPIRITUALITY WE SEEK

The Academy for Spiritual Formation® seeks a spirituality that is deeply rooted in the Christian faith and tradition, yet open and free to the movement of God in our lives and in our world. Other words to describe the spirituality we seek include:

- Incarnational
- Contemplative
- Communal
- Responsive to justice issues
- Sacramental
- Healing and integrative
- Reflecting good stewardship of earth's resources and our financial resources

We seek a spirituality that integrates body, mind, and spirit. Since spiritual formation involves the total person, all dimensions of the person are of concern. The Academy's emphasis upon holistic spirituality will, therefore, value development in all three areas.

BODY

A physical wellness emphasis, including fitness and nutrition guidance will be offered each Academy.

An effort will be made to offer nutritious meals at the Academy as negotiated with the retreat center.

Participants will be encouraged to pursue physical wellness as part of their growth in wholeness. A physical examination is suggested at the beginning of the Academy, particularly if one has not been taken for a period of time. A physical examination is required if the participant seeks to make major lifestyle changes while they are in the Academy. Personal wellness goals may be included as part of the first year covenant commitment.

MIND

Each Academy five-day session will include a Morning Curriculum and an Afternoon Curriculum as described on previous pages. A total of four books will be assigned as preparatory reading for each session (two books for each course). Faculty presenters will offer lecture and reflection material for each topic.

Engagement with books and faculty represents the core of the Academy's emphasis upon the mind.

SPIRIT

The participants will be nurtured in the Spirit through silence, contemplative opportunities, personal prayer, and corporate worship.

Beginning with the first session, spiritual guidance, including journal keeping, will be introduced, and will be a continuing discipline for ministry and spiritual growth.

ACADEMY FOR SPIRITUAL FORMATION

Overview

ACADEMY EMPHASES

1. Definition and development of a personal devotional lifestyle, including keeping a spiritual journal.
2. Daily community prayer times with encouragement to further develop one's personal daily prayer life.
3. Frequent emphases upon silence, meditation, and devotional reading.
4. Disciplines of the community.
5. Spiritual guidance given and received (see below).
6. Inner healing, content and experiences.

DYNAMICS OF SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE EMPHASIS

The Academy for Spiritual Formation® offers spiritual guidance through worship, lectures, silence and covenant groups. Faculty presenters and leadership team members are also often available for one-on-one guidance during the Academy sessions.

In the fifth session (half-way through), a course on Spiritual Guidance is included in the Academy curriculum. Emphasis will be placed upon the history and practice of spiritual guidance. Suggestions for finding a spiritual director (or guide) will also be offered. If participants have not already located a spiritual director by this time, they will be encouraged to do so as they enter into the second year of the Academy.

Covenant Groups meet each evening. These groups will meet to process the day, share their journeys, and to provide a setting for group spiritual guidance.

Spiritual guidance through journaling and scripture meditation will be introduced in session one. Myers-Briggs Personality Type Indicator will also be introduced in session one as a tool for community building and spiritual formation.

CHRISTIAN SERVANTHOOD

Our Lord reminds us that, "Whoever serves me must follow me; and where I am, my servant will also be." (John 12:26, NIV).

Servanthood is the calling of every Christian. The Academy provides a place for participants to rest and be renewed, so that they may be sustained and empowered in their ministry (lay or clergy). Often a new freedom in Christ is received so that the life of service is more freely chosen, rather than compulsively enacted.

ACADEMY FOR SPIRITUAL FORMATION

Overview

FIRST AND SECOND YEAR COVENANT COMMITMENTS: In the first session, participants will be encouraged to form a Covenant Commitment focusing on the inward journey. Participants may ask themselves the question, "Where am I being invited to grow in my personal faith?" What spiritual discipline is Christ inviting me to embrace?" The context of the Academy provides a supportive environment for personal growth and accountability. Prior to or during session two, participants will be asked to write a sentence describing their first year Covenant Commitment. They will be encouraged (but not required) to share it with their Covenant Group as a way to gain support and accountability. While this Covenant Commitment may be experimental in nature, it may become incorporated into a person's life as an ongoing spiritual discipline.

In the second year, participants will be invited to make a Covenant Commitment related to the outward journey. Participants may ask themselves the question, "Where is Christ leading me with all that I have come to learn and know through the Academy? What new ways may I be invited to risk and offer leadership to others?" During session five, participants will be asked to write a sentence describing their second year Covenant Commitment. At the final session of the two-year Academy (session eight), they will be asked to bring a report of their second year Covenant Commitment to share with others. A time of affirmation will be scheduled during session eight ("Vive Voce" – we give you voice!). The Theologian will then gather these together to share with the Academy Forum (those who have previously completed the two-year Academy) through the Forum Newsletter. The Covenant Group will be the arena for reflection, encouragement, and enrichment of all covenant commitments. The Leadership Team assists in the development of each individual's Covenant Commitment.

PERSONAL RULE OF LIFE: During the two-year Academy, participants will experience many different aspects of Christian spirituality. The variety of ideas, traditions, personalities, and influences reflects the rich heritage of our faith in order to integrate these new learnings, participants will be invited to write a personal Rule of Life in session eight. In this way the work of the Spirit, so clearly demonstrated during the two-year Academy, can continue to live on in each participant.

COMPLETING THE ACADEMY: In order to complete the academy, participants need to read at least 26 of the 32 Required Books; attend at least 35 of the 40 days in session; and complete the first and second year Covenant Commitment.

THE ACADEMY AND SPIRITUAL DIRECTION: The Academy is not a training program in spiritual direction, yet in many ways, it's the best preparation someone can have for that unique ministry. Some attend the Academy and then seek specialized training in spiritual direction. Some come to the Academy having already been trained as spiritual directors but looking for a place to deepen and broaden their own faith and practice. The Upper Room's commitment to spiritual formation is based on the belief that this serves as the basis for all specialized forms of ministry for lay and clergy persons.

RESEARCH AND THE ACADEMY: A comprehensive, independent survey of clergy Academy Forum members was Completed. In 2004 by Doble Research, Incorporated. We are grateful to the Lilly Endowment, Inc., for funding this project. A copy of the seventy-five page report may be borrowed from the Academy Office. Three doctor of ministry studies have been done on the Academy as well.
