

MongoDB Services Certification

The MongoDB partner program has grown to more than 1000+ technology and services partners worldwide, extending the company's lead as the fastest-growing database ecosystem. The MongoDB Services Certification Program recognizes partners with proven MongoDB expertise and coverage in three tracks: Development, Operations, and Training (currently invite-only).

Partners with certified services receive exclusive customer-facing benefits, including but not limited to joint-marketing efforts, priority placement on MongoDB marketing and web assets, referrals from MongoDB's field and sales teams, and more.

MongoDB Services Certification allows partners to distinguish their offerings, accelerate engagements with joint prospects, and attract new customers.

Certification Benefits

Joint Marketing — Partners with certified services will be featured prominently in MongoDB events, news and online properties:

- Partners with certified services are differentiated in MongoDB assets and online properties with a Certified Badge
- Quote from MongoDB in partner press release regarding certification
- Event sponsorship is only considered for partners with certified services
- MongoDB's participation in external webinars is only considered for partners with certified services

Field and Sales

- MongoDB's field and sales teams may recommend partners with certified services to customers and prospects

Certification Requirements

Track		Exam	Min. # of Employees
Development	C100DEV		5
Operations	C100DBA		5
Training	C100DEV, C100DBA, Train the Trainer		2

Partners must be a member of the MongoDB Partner Program with a completed Partner Program Agreement to be eligible for service certification.

For Global level partners, at least 15 members of a partner organization must pass the certification exams.

Application Process

The application process is self-serve. You can get started here. Once you have fulfilled all the requirements, MongoDB will review the application, confirm your employee certifications and get back to you shortly. For questions about the process or the Certification Program in general, please contact partnercertification@mongodb.com.
