Community Bancorp LLC Subsidiary, Superior Bank, N.A., Acquires Assets and Deposits of Superior Bank

Continues Growth in Southeast and Brings New Services to Communities

BIRMINGHAM AND HOUSTON, April 15, 2011 – Superior Bank, N.A., a wholly owned subsidiary of Community Bancorp LLC (CBC), announced that it has agreed to assume all of the deposits and acquire substantially all the assets of Superior Bank. Superior Bank, N.A. simultaneously entered into an 80 percent loss share agreement with the FDIC with respect to certain assets.

Included in the transaction are 73 retail branches and banking centers across Alabama and Florida; six mortgage offices in Alabama, Florida and Tennessee, and 24 consumer finance offices, 16 of which operate under the name First Commercial Credit and eight as Superior Financial Services.

No Superior Bank customer has lost any money on deposit as a result of this transaction. Over the weekend, Superior Bank branches offering Saturday hours will be open as usual. Superior customers will have access to their accounts, and depositors will continue to be insured as prescribed by FDIC guidelines. While there will be no change to customer account number(s), checks, branch locations, ATM cards or locations, contact phone numbers, on-line services or website at this time, CBC intends to add services, products and make enhancements for its customers in the future.

“We are pleased to be joining forces with the Superior Bank team,” said Paul B. Murphy, Jr., CBC’s chief executive officer. “It is a win-win for Superior Bank customers, employees and the local communities in which we operate. Customers can rest assured they are now part of one of the best capitalized banks in Alabama and Florida and throughout the Southeast. In addition, this transaction represents a sound strategic move for Community Bancorp and an exciting growth opportunity as we continue to build our competitive banking franchise in the Southeast.”

Current Superior Bank employees working in the 103 Superior Bank retail branches, mortgage and consumer finance offices are expected to become employees of Superior Bank, N.A. Over time, CBC will evaluate all aspects of Superior's existing businesses to identify opportunities for growth and efficiencies. Superior Bank now will operate as the new Superior Bank, N.A.

Murphy added: "With the influx of new capital, Superior is well positioned to become a high-performing institution. We are confident growth will come through our resolute commitment to the highest level of customer service, delivery of enhanced products, best in class technology, being the employer of choice and continuing the tradition of Superior as a valued community partner. Superior has long been an asset to the people, businesses and communities it has served, and in the future, we will position Superior to make sound loans and facilitate community growth."

The acquisition represents CBC's second since its inception in 2010 and marks an important step in the pursuit of its strategy to build community banks in targeted markets throughout the region. CBC completed the acquisition of Mississippi-based Cadence Bank, N.A. in March and, with the addition of Superior, now operates two banking platforms that stretch across five Southern states, with a total of 111 branches and $4.5 billion in assets.

As part of this agreement, Paul Murphy is the new board chairman of the new Superior Bank, N.A. Mr. Murphy is the chief executive officer of CBC and serves on its Board of Directors and as chairman of Cadence Bank N.A. Murphy, who began his banking career in 1981 at Allied Bank of Texas, was previously chief executive officer of Amegy Bank of Texas, an $11 billion bank headquartered in Houston, Texas.

Murphy announced that Doug Hutt, a 30-year veteran banker and a member of the CBC management team, is president and chief executive officer of Superior Bank, N.A. Prior to joining CBC he was a group executive with nationwide responsibility for Compass Bank's Corporate and Specialized Industry activities. Mr. Hutt was previously president of Compass Bank – Texas, and prior to that he was with Bank of America. During his 24-year Bank of America career, he held a variety of executive level positions including president of Bank of America – Dallas.

"We welcome Superior's 65,000 customers and its more than 750 employees to the new Superior Bank, N.A. and to the Community Bancorp family," said Hutt. "As someone with substantial experience working in Alabama and Florida, I look forward to working with Superior's dedicated team of employees and to continuing Superior's proud tradition of customer service and community involvement. We are committed to providing a seamless transition for our customers—to ensure it is business as usual, with a can-do attitude and enhanced products and services. Customers can expect the same personalized service delivered by the familiar faces you know and trust."

Continued Hutt: "We intend to grow Superior, including new jobs, and with the fresh capital injected by CBC, Superior will focus on customers, employees and community. Customers can rest assured knowing they are now part of one of the best capitalized banks operating in Alabama and Florida and throughout the Southeast."

Hutt announced that Hank Holmes is the president and chief executive officer, Florida Region, for Superior Bank, N.A. He started his banking career at Amegy Bank of Texas in 1993, where he gained extensive experience in commercial real estate lending, private banking and special assets. Most recently at Amegy, Mr. Holmes led the Special Assets Group as Executive Vice President.
