

- Christian Iroquois, 291; threatens Denonville with open hostility, 291; in spite of orders from London instigates Iroquois to war, 298; afraid of reprisals, 299; sends Magregorie to ask explanation of belt presented to Iroquois by F. de Lamberville, 300; does not permit F. Vaillant to come through Mohawks, 303; urges Iroquois to hostilities while restoring prisoners to us, and notifying Denonville of the orders of both Kings for neutrality, 281, 301, 307; succeeded as Governor of New York by Sir Edmond Andros, 308.
- DONGÉ F. PETER, Jesuit, brought over by d'Iberville, v., p. 127; ordered to return from Louisiana, ib.; death of, 130.
- DONNACONA, Indian chief of Stadaconé, i., p. 117, n.; visits Cartier, i., p. 117; endeavors to prevent his going to Hochelega, ib.; taken to France by Cartier, 122, n.; relates almost incredible things to that navigator, 124; lived four or five years in France, 122, n.
- DOUAY, F. ANASTASIUS, Recollect, sketch of, iv., p. 63, n.; accompanies La Sale in search of the Micissippi, iv., 63; present at his death, 96; proceeds to Illinois, 107; with d'Iberville at the mouth, v., p. 120.
- DOUBLET, Ile St. Jean granted to, v., p. 300.
- DOUBLET, CAP, i., p. 61.
- DOUCETTE, English Governor of Nova Scotia, demands absolute oath of Acadians, v., p. 296, n.
- DOUTRELEAU, F. STEPHEN, Jesuit, wounded by Yázoos while saying mass; his wonderful escape, vi., p. 86; taken to New Orleans, 88; joins army as chaplain, 89.
- DOVER, N. H., capture of, iv., p. 41, n.
- DOVERSIERE, ROYER DE LA. See DAUVERSIERE.
- DOYEN, ANDREW, settler at Placentia, kills a corporal and two soldiers, iv., p. 165.
- DRAKE, SIR FRANCIS, Sarmiento sent against, i., p. 45.
- DREUILLETES (DREUILLETES), F. GABRIEL, Jesuit, first Abénaqui missionary, ii., p. 201; sent to Boston to negotiate neutrality between French and English colonies, 214; result, ib.; sent back with Godfrey, ib.; commission and papers, 214-7; result, 217-8, n.; labors in Northern Canada, 243; iii., p. 20; obtains information as to Hudson Bay and Wisconsin, iii., p. 20; miracles ascribed to, ii., p. 247; friendship sought by English, ib.; goes to the Ottawa country, 272; said to have returned to the Abénaquis, 275; goes North to found a Kistinon mission, iii., p. 39; in the West, 196, n.; death, ii., p. 248, n.
- DROUET DE RICHARDVILLE, only prisoner spared by Chickasaws, vi., p. 121, n.; his narrative cited, 121-2, n.
- DUBOS, JOSEPH, Canadian partisan, mortally wounded by Indians near Kinderhook, v., p. 49; dies at Albany, ib.
- DUCASSE, Captain in the French navy, Governor of St. Domingo, v., p. 118; Iberville meets, ib.; outmanœuvres Admiral Graydon, v., p. 162.
- DUCHESNEAU, JAMES, Intendant, iii., p. 67, 191; see CHESNEAU.
- DUCLOS, MR., Commissaire Ordonnateur of Louisiana, vi., p. 17; judicial powers vested in Governor and, 18; memoir on Louisiana, 35; succeeded by Hubert, 38; acts well at Cap François, 35; Intendant of Leeward Isles, ib.
- DUCLOS, Clerk of Perrot, iv., p. 158.
- DUCLOS, Captain of a coaster, plundered by deserters, vi., p. 69.
- DUCLOS, French officer, distinguished at siege of Quebec, iv., p. 181.
- DUDLEY, JOSEPH, Governor General of New England, ii., p. 214; meets Eastern Indians, v., p. 160; prevents attack on Port Royal, 171; negotiates an exchange of prisoners with Vaudreuil, really to reconnoitre Quebec, p. 175; his son at Quebec measures fortifications, 176; not sincere in proposing neutrality, v., p. 180, 191; plans expulsion of French from Acadia, 191; correspondence as to siege of Port Royal, 195; offers to go in person, his son sent, 196; Queen notifies him of her determination to reduce Acadia, 201; recalls an expedition of 500 men, 208; cannot induce the Abénaquis to remain neutral, 225; learns Subercase's project, 226; refuses to exchange prisoners, v., p. 234, 237.
- DUGUÉ, SIDRAC, commands corps in de la Barre's army, iii., p. 249.
- DUGUÉ, brother of Boisbriant, v., p. 58;