

and of a carpenter, so as to erect for them little dwellings, and to plough, in order to aid them in cultivating the land, she would exert herself therein with an ardor in proportion to the good disposition she sees in these peoples to settle down; but her arms are weak, as well as ours. Deus Dominus fortitudo nostra in æternum.