

the Ave, and the Credo, translated into your tongue. I could wish for a great deal more, if I did not fear to be importunate." Such are the words of the Father, which attest that these peoples, among whom we labor, will attract others to the knowledge of the great God. As soon as the Hurons shall have fully received Jesus Christ, the flame will spread to the great Nations of the South. The Devil, who foresees these great blessings, makes use of all his Demons and of all his instruments to close the door to us.
