

tomed to do; they had to be fed, lodged, etc., during the winter.

The 15th of November,—the rumor prevailing that the prohibition was about to be published here which had been published at 3 rivers, to the effect that no one was to trade with the savages,—father Vimont asked Monsieur des Chastelets, general Manager, whether we would be in worse condition under them than under Messieurs of the Company. The Conclusion was that we would not be, and that this matter would proceed for us as usual, but that we should carry it on quietly; father Vimont added that we would notify father buteux, and Monsieur des Chastelets approved this.<sup>14</sup>

Concerning the Beaver trade.

This same Day, the lasting snows began: it had snowed heavily on the Day of St. Ursule, the 21st of October, but that did not remain.

Snows.

On the 21st occurred the marriage and the nuptials of Marie Giffar and the son of Monsieur de Maure,<sup>15</sup> at which father Vimont was present.

Marriage.

About this time, some excellent relics were given by us to the hospital; they were not enshrined, and for several years had been without veneration and reliquary; and the hospital nuns had reliquaries, without relics.

Relics given by us to the hospital.

At this time also, a Young Algonquain escaped from the Annieronon Enemies, and a little later a Huron, who were captives there; they reported that the Annier had no good will for the Algonquains. It is said that the Young Algonquain, before going away, seeing

Confirmation of the breach of peace.