

The Latin version of Gobat is in the following collections: Lenox, Harvard, Brown (private), British Museum, and undoubtedly, in several of the other collections of Relations. It is often catalogued vaguely, and apart from the French volumes, and hence does not appear under its proper heading. Copies have been sold or priced as follows: Leclerc (1878), no. 2578, priced at 130 francs; O'Callaghan (1882), no. 1227, sold for $12; and Barlow (1890), no. 1016, sold for $21.
