

make by Plowing and carting, etc., with the animals of The mission, shall belong wholly to Him, without the said mission exacting any portion thereof. 6th, The original stock of animals, or Their equivalent, Delivered to the said farmer at The beginning of his lease, shall be given back by Him on leaving, in the same number and of the same value, to the superior of The said mission; and all The implements for Plowing, carting, etc., which shall be Delivered to Him shall also be given back by him in the same form, condition, and value. For this purpose, an inventory shall be made of the said implements, as well as of the said animals. The produce of the said animals shall be shared equally between The said superior and the farmer. 7th, with regard to the buildings, The said farmer shall be bound to make ordinary repairs, and to give Them back at the end of his lease in the same condition as that in which he received Them. The lease shall terminate in 3 years unless The said farmer or The said superior wish to extend The term thereof. Agreed and stipulated between The said superior and The said janis, this 25th of july, 1751. Signed, Armand de La Richardie, jesuit Missionary; janis, not knowing how to write, has made a cross, +.

There is due to Father Potier, for masses which He and I have said, and The payment whereof is to be made at detroit: [θ] by The tremblés, 50 livres; by pilette, 27 livres; by madame desruisseau, 18 livres; [θ] by baptiste chapoton, 18 livres; and [θ] by Madame chene, 9 livres. In all, 122 livres.

Niagara is to Deliver to his successor 380 bundles of hay. *

End of Father De La Richardie's Book of accounts.