

the Dominion Archives, granted the unrestricted privilege of examining and copying the Askin manuscripts under his custody, and his obliging corps of assistants did everything in their power to facilitate the task. Mr. George McDonald of Windsor and Mr. Clarence M. Burton and Rev. George Paré of Detroit have responded freely to levies upon their store of local historical knowledge, while Mrs. L. Oughtred Woltz, archivist of the Burton Historical Collection, in addition to assistance of like nature, has supplied the English translations of the French documents printed. To my immediate editorial helpers, Mrs. Clara N. DeSainz, Mrs. Winifred Moseman, and Miss Louise Rau, I am under a heavier debt of obligation for intelligent assistance cheerfully rendered than any mere formal acknowledgment can compensate. Upon Miss Rau, in particular, has been devolved the task of seeing the copy through the press and supplying the extensive Index. From Miss Gracie Krum, Librarian in Charge of the Burton Historical Collection, as from the Board of Commissioners of the Detroit Public Library, and Mr. Adam Strohm, Librarian, I have at all times received sympathetic co-operation and support.
