These Gentlemen who are absent will I dare say on their arrival follow the good example of those who were present

Remark the whole of the Company present has volentarely offered to go on Service³⁴ yet as they are all more or less

Kingston. In 1802, another letter shows, he was teaching in the Grant family at Grosse Pointe.

³¹ This may have been Joseph Louis Thibault, who on Feb. 4, 1788, married, at Detroit, Teresa Boyer, daughter of Pierre Boyer and Louisa Pepin dit Descardonnets. His parents were natives of Acadia, who after marriage removed to the parish of St. Ours, Lower Canada. Teresa Boyer was buried at Detroit, Feb. 25, 1847. Her husband had preceded her in death. They had two children: Joseph, born Oct. 18, 1788, and Lambert, born Sept. 15, 1789, each of whom became in their turn progenitors of family lines.

Another Joseph Thibault, contemporary with the above, married Mary Geneveva Deloyse. For him see ante, 347.

³² Charles Langlois of the parish of St. Pierre, in the diocese of Rouen, France, married Mary Cordier. Their son, Nicolas, born in 1640, migrated to Canada and married at Quebec, Oct. 26, 1671, Elizabeth Cretel, daughter of William Cretel and Jane Godfrey, both of the parish of St. Maclou, diocese of Rouen. Nicolas Langlois and Elizabeth Cretel lived their lives at Quebec, where the husband was buried in 1704 and the wife in 1721. They had one child, Etienne Langlois, born Dec. 17, 1673. He married, Feb. 10, 1698, Elizabeth Faucher, also a native of Quebec, daughter of Leonard Faucher dit St. Maurice and Mary Damois. Jean Baptiste Langlois, the person here noted, was the great-grandson of Etienne Langlois and Elizabeth Faucher, his parents being Nicolas Langlois and Magdelene Pilet, who were married at Detroit, Sept. 7, 1761. Jean Baptiste, their eldest child, was born March 14, 1762. He married at Sandwich, Jan. 13, 1789, Charlotte Réaume, daughter of Bonaventure Réaume and Jeanne Deshêtres. They lived at Sandwich, where Jean Baptiste was buried, July 18, 1821, having reared a numerous family. Denissen, op. cit.

³³ François Baby was a son of Jacques Duperon Baby, and brother of Jacques Baby, for whom see ante, 293-93. He was born within the stockade of Detroit, Dec. 7, 1768. On Sept. 5, 1795, he married at Sandwich Frances Abbott, daughter of James and Mary Barkle Abbott. They settled on the south shore of the river opposite the town of Detroit, in what is now the heart of the city of Windsor. Here François Baby resided until his death in 1856. He was, during his active life, one of the foremost citizens of Upper Canada, serving several terms in the legislature as representative from Kent County, as colonel of militia, and during the War of 1812 as adjutant general. He retained his vigor of mind and body until extreme old age. See Casgrain, op. cit., 118-19.

³⁴ Apparently this remark has reference to the likelihood of being called out for service against the Americans under General Arthur St. Clair, whose campaign against the northwestern Indians was then being prepared.
