

Askin & Fearson do consent that the terms on which a majority of them agree, shall be binding on the whole; as well as to the Port or Bay, where the Vessel should sail the first, or succeeding Voyages

6th That as soon as may be convenient, Captain Fearson will send to John Askin, accounts of all the purchases he may make Freight Notes, &^{ca} which said Askin promises to enter into a Book properly; and always to be ready for the inspection of all the owners without making any charge for so doing.

7th That all monies received for freights or any purchase of a share, in said Vessel shall be first employed to discharge what the Vessel may owe to the Master, Sailors; or others not partners in her before the dividend shall be made

8th George Meldrum promises to assist Captain Fearson so far as he can, in obtaining workmen and sailors cheap, to use his Interest to get freight for the Saguinah and to try and borrow stores or let Captain Fearson know where he thinks they can be obtained cheapest, & in all respects which relate to said Vessel to give what assistance he can, so as not to neglect his other affairs, & for which he is not to make any charge.

9th And it is mutually agreed on by and the parties aforesaid that in case they shall think fit in future to make any purchase of Flour, Pork, liquor of any kind Salt, or other Articles for their joint accounts That it must be done with the approbation of the whole and a Memmoranandum signed by them of the articles they agree so to purchase

Lastly in Testimony of the parties consent and approbation to this triplicate agreement according to the true Interest and meaning thereof they have hereunto set their hands and affixed their Seals the day and year first above written

Witness Present

PRICE OF FLOUR

Fort Erie February 1st 1804

John Askin Esq^{re}

Dear Sir I on the 18th ult^o wrote you a hasty letter