

off, and the largest representation in the cave. It is twenty-eight inches long, and thirteen inches from the hump to the feet. No. 4, an elk with its hunter, whole length eighteen inches the animal is ten inches long by fourteen from tip of front prong of horns to the feet; the Indian, partly defaced, eleven and a half inches high, by four inches from end of arms to the opposite side of the body. The weapon is nine by five inches.

"No. 5, represents a hunter, with a boy behind him, in the act of shooting an animal, with his bow and arrow weapon. The whole representation is twenty-five inches long; the animal from tip of tail to end of horn or proboscis, twelve inches, and from top of head to feet, seven inches; the hunter eleven inches high; the boy four and a half.

No. 6, is a group of five figures, representing perhaps a bison, a lynx, a rabbit, an otter, and a rudely formed man—or possibly a bear in an erect attitude. The group, for the convenience of the engraver, is not arranged as in the cave—the figures in the original were in single file, covering a space of three and a half feet in length. The bison, the upper left hand figure, is twelve inches long, eight inches from top of the horns to bottom of the fore feet, and nearly ten inches from tip of the tail to the hind feet.

The lynx, the lower left hand figure, is ten and a half inches from the tip of the nose to the tip of the tail, five and a quarter inches from the tips of the ears to the fore feet, and eight inches from the tip of the tail to the hind feet. The otter, the upper right hand figure, is eight and a half inches from the tip of the nose to the end of the body, while the tail is seven and a half inches long; from the top of the rump to the hind feet five inches; and four inches from the top of the shoulders to the fore feet. The rabbit, the lower right hand figure, is ten and a half inches from the nose to the end of the tail, five inches from the top of the neck to the fore feet, and five and a quarter inches from the top of the rump to the rear hind foot. The upright figure, in the center, is seven and a half inches tall, and three inches from the end of the arm to the back of the body.

"No. 7, represents, perhaps, a badger, thirteen and a half inches long, four inches and three-quarters from the top of the head to the fore feet, and three and a half inches from the rump to the hind feet.

"No. 8, an Indian painted on the wall, and the rude drawing of an animal cut in the rock occupying the relative positions
