

prietor, during the last half of my engagement. Louis Franchere was Juneau's confidential clerk and occupied a room over the store. He was a bachelor, aged about fifty, and a finely-educated man. Upon leaving Juneau, I went to clerk for Lindsey Ward, in his general store on East Water, a few doors below Wisconsin street, and there I staid until I came to Madison, where I arrived June 2, 1838.

I have a distinct recollection of most of the old-timers of the Wisconsin metropolis in 1836-38, as given in Buck's Pioneer History of Milwaukee: for instance, A. O. T. Breed, Prentiss and Weeks, Daniel Wells, Jr., George and Talbot C. Dousman, Levi Blossom, Elisha Starr, Horace and Enoch Chase, Capt. James Sanderson and George H. Walker; George S. Vale, who kept a tavern, over which was suspended a huge triangle, which would be vigorously sounded at meal times; Patrick Rogan, afterwards the Watertown pioneer, and George Reed, who was Juneau's attorney. Bartlett S. Giblett, a man then some forty years of age, clerked, I think, for Breed, and afterwards returned to his home in England, where he secured a place in the London postoffice. Francis W. Heading was my chum, in those early days in Milwaukee; we had made maps together, before I went to Juneau; he was a fine man in every respect and remained in Milwaukee until 1839, when he, too, returned to his home in England; he married in England, later, and had an office in Mark Lane, London, being one of the firm of Goggs, Heading & Co., wine merchants; he died seven or eight years ago. George O. Tiffany, who was deputy postmaster under Juneau, married Elisha Starr's sister, and lives in Los Angeles, California, now; he kept a diary of local events, when I knew him; — if it could be produced, at this time, it would doubtless prove of rare interest. Samuel Beach was one of the remarkable young men of Milwaukee, then, — a tall, fine-looking fellow, whom I much liked.

I have distinct impressions, too, of La Tendre, a half-breed who had once been a voyageur but was now a runner, being occasionally employed in that capacity by Juneau; he was bright-looking, active, but not very intelligent, although
