Dr. Walter V. Wheaton, of the army, was the only physician at Green Bay, when I came here in 1824. All had to depend upon the fort physician for treatment. But everyone was satisfied, for Dr. Wheaton was very kind, and seemed to give a fatherly attention to his patients. His wife was a lovable woman. She had the lightest hair I have ever seen. It was almost white.

Dr. William Beaumont was the next physician here. I do not remember the time when I did not know him. He came to Mackinac in 1821. On their arrival at Green Bay they seemed indeed like old friends. They made many friends among us. Dr. Beaumont had always attended the citizens at Mackinac, so came prepared to perform the same duty here. He was ordered from here to Prairie du Chien.

Dr. Edward Worrell succeeded Dr. Beaumont. He was a very reserved bachelor, and did not make many friends.

Then came Dr. Lyman Foot, who made friends readily. He attained a large practice. Many would send for him who had always depended upon home remedies. His first wife was a delightful person, although somewhat retiring in manner. Two of their sons were born at the old fort. Dr. Foot was ordered to Fort Winnebago, where his wife died. After a few years he came here and married Miss Mary Cooper (in 1836), who made an excellent mother for his children, who became very fond of her. She was much beloved by her friends.

When Dr. Foot was ordered to Fort Winnebago, Dr. Satterlee succeeded him. He and his wife were a handsome couple — both young. Dr. Satterlee was also patronized by those of the citizens who preferred him to the local physician, Dr. Ward. Dr. and Mrs. Satterlee were two of the number who established the Presbyterian church at Green Bay.

Some time after Dr. Ward came to Green Bay, there came a Dr. Berins, who located here, but did not stay long. Army doctors still seemed to be preferred by the people.

Dr. George S. Armstrong, who came here in the autumn
