

July 28th Sab.

After the public exercises called to see Christeen a member of the church, who was very sick. She had been attacked the night before with the cholera morbus. She was tossed with pain and passed recovery, yet in view of her approaching dissolution she had no feelings of dread. I inquired of her if she felt willing to die and she immediately replied that she did and was constantly preparing her mind for it—That the Sav. appeared near and precious to her and that she was willing that he should do with her as seemed good in his sight.

At the third meeting a woman expressed her determination to seek the salvation of her soul and appeared to have considerable conviction of sin.

29th. Heard of the death of Christeen. It seemed that she had been herself anticipating it. A christian friend visited her a short time previous to her death, and was speaking about her garden and little field of corn around which she had cultivated with great industry. "Others" says she, "will gather and eat it," altho' she was then in usual health. Again mentioning about removing to their new location, "No," she replied, pointing to the burying ground "there is my grave."

She had been a member of the church almost six years, and her walk and conversation during that time evinced the sincerity of her faith. She had outlived her husband, children and grand children being upwards of 80 years of age. Her exact age was not known as she had lost it. Altho' much afflicted in her old age with rheumatism, still when able to walk she was a constant attendant at the house of God both on the Sab. and week days.
