And on behalf of the said Demoiselle Charlotte Enbroise Bourassa:—Sieur René Bourassa and Dame Lerigé Laplante, her father and mother; Sieur René Bourassa, the younger, her brother;⁷⁸ Sieur Gonnevillle, the younger, Cousin German;⁷⁹ René Bourassa, nephew; Demoiselle Nanette Chevalier, Sister-in-law; Monsieur Delaunay Detisné, Esquire, Sieur Dailleboust, friend;⁸⁰ Monsieur Marin, an officer of infantry, friend;

and during the siege of Quebec occupied an important outpost. At its close he was sent to France, where he was pensioned by the king and lived in Alençon until about 1784. He married (1741) Marie Anne Boucher, and had one son in the service, who was slightly wounded at Quebec.—Ed.

⁷⁷ Joseph Amable Hubert, merchant of Mackinac, was frequently known as Monsieur Lamy Hubert.

For a brief sketch of Gautier, Langlade's nephew, see Wis. Hist. Colls., xi, p. 100. His father and mother had, before 1740, returned to Canada where the latter died in 1749, and the former in 1757. The young Charles Gautier was left at Mackinac to live with his mother's family.—Ed.

⁷⁹ Charlotte, the younger sister of Madame Bourassa (wife of the elder René) had married Charles Desjordis de Gonnevillle; thus their son was cousin to the bride.—Ed.

⁸⁰ The Chevaliers were a prominent Mackinac family (see Register, post). Originally from Montreal, Jean Baptiste was born there in 1677, and there married (1709) Marie Françoise (commonly known as Manon) Alavoine. The father was an early voyageur and trader in the upper country, whither he removed his family some time before
