

Bibliography of Lyman C. Draper

Dr. Draper wrote many newspaper articles, signed and unsigned, on historical, literary, and political subjects. He was the author also of numerous addresses, appeals, and leaflets, in the line of his work as collector and as secretary of this Society. It is unnecessary fully to enumerate such ephemeral matter in the following list; although there are included therein a few items of this class, which have some biographical interest.

In the matter of his unpublished works, the two only are noted which apparently were finished ready for the printer. As mentioned in the preceding Memoir, his re-editing of Withers's Chronicles of Border Warfare was perhaps one-third done; the Life of Boone had possibly been half finished; and upon others of his contemplated works he had made some progress, although for the most part meagre and tentative.

Newspaper and Magazine Articles

Charles Carroll of Carrollton, the last of the signers. In Rochester (N. Y.) Gem, April 6, 1833.

Memoir of Weatherford, an Indian warrior. In Rochester (N. Y.) Gem, April 26, 1834.

Wilson's banditti—a Western reminiscence. In Rochester (N. Y.) Gem, June 11, 1836.

Gen. George Rogers Clark. In Perry (Wyoming county, N. Y.) Democrat, January 29, 1845.

Adventures of Capt. Robert Stobo, with some notice of La Force and Van Braam. In The Olden Time (Pittsburgh, Pa., August, 1846), i., p. 370.