

LC Laboratories

LC Labs Products Are Very Widely Used in the U.S. via Direct Sales, 5 Distributors and 20 Resellers

August 7, 2019

Laboratory researchers in the U.S. obtain LC Labs products directly from our Woburn, MA office and from 25 distributors and resellers.

Our five U.S. distributors offer most or all of our product line, and they sell our products under our LC Laboratories label:

- Cedarlane
- Fisher Scientific
- Gentaur Inc.
- P212121

And 20 other U.S. reagent vendors buy and resell many of our products (in some cases from several dozen to more than 70) under their own labels, not the LC Laboratories label.

Through these 20 U.S. resellers, LC Labs products have been purchased by tens of thousands of biomedical researchers who probably do not realize that they are using our products.

These 20 U.S. resellers include many of the largest and most prominent biochemical supply companies, and they typically purchase some of the most widely used small-molecule biochemicals from us, such as:

* Alectinib & Salt	* Levatinib	* Rapamycin
* Alpelisib	* LY 294002	* Ribociclib
* Bortezomib	* Okadaic Acid & 3 Salts	* Ruxolitinib & Salt
* Brefeldin A	* Osimertinib	* SB 203580
* Calyculin A	* Paclitaxel	* Staurosporine
* Dabrafenib & Salt	* Palbociclib & 2 Salts	* Tofacitinib & Salt
* Docetaxel	* Pazopanib & Salt	* Trametinib / DMSO
* Doxorubicin	* PD 98059	* U0126
* Everolimus	* PMA (TPA)	* Venetoclax
* Ibrutinib	(Phorbol Myristate Acetate)	* Wortmannin

 These companies are not affiliated with LC Laboratories; they are independent distributors and resellers, and their full corporate names are trademarked.
