Lentil Fest Seeks Volunteers

PULLMAN, WASH.— The National Lentil Festival is looking for volunteer applicants for the upcoming 29th annual celebration August 18-19.

The festival requires over 250 volunteers to help produce the Palouse region's largest festival. Available positions include "Green Team" helpers, chili servers, parking attendants and more.

"We couldn't produce such a great event without our community members," said Britnee Packwood, festival director. "It's a great opportunity to get out and meet new people, and also enjoy the festival from a unique perspective."

Interested persons are asked to visit www.lentilfest.com/get-involved/ to learn more and fill-out the online volunteer application.

The 2017 NLF Volunteer Program is sponsored by ClearView Eye Clinic.

For more information and a complete list of all volunteer positions, visit www.lentilfest.com, or call 800-365-6948.

Since its beginning in 1989, the National Lentil Festival has brought national attention to Pullman. The Palouse region of farmlands in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho has a reputation for producing the highest quality lentils in the United States. We think that is worth celebrating!
