COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

DM802 Issues in Theological Studies

The subject matter of this course will vary each time it is offered. The course will cover a topic of the professor's choice in one of the following fields: systematic theology, historical theology, ethics, or Christianity and culture. The purpose of this course is to provide the student with an in-depth understanding of a particular theological topic that is deemed to be of particular importance to the contemporary church.

DM808 Pastoral Care

An in-depth examination of the minister's role as a shepherd and servant and the many facets of pastoral care involved in this calling. This examination will include discussion of topics such as counseling, home and hospital visitation, dealing with death and grief, and many others. Particular focus will be placed on problems and pitfalls such as counseling of members of the opposite sex. The purpose of this course is to provide the student with practical knowledge and wisdom in order that he may more effectively care for the flock God has entrusted to him.

NOTE : To be updated about pre-course and post-course assignments, download the syllabus from the Doctor of Ministry/Upcoming Courses page of our website.
