

AVERAGE PRICE CONTRACT

The Average Price Contract allows you to sell corn & soybeans by averaging the market price over a 22-week timeframe that historically provides the best pricing

How does the Average Price Contract work?

- The producer commits a number of bushels for new crop delivery
- United Cooperative prices the bushels equally during the timeframe
- The average price will be set at the end of the pricing timeframe
- The basis can be set any time before delivery

The Details

Deadline to sign up for the Average Price Contract is January 29, 2019

The pricing period will be January 30, 2019 through June 26, 2019

Bushels will be priced at the market close every Wednesday

Cost for the program is 4¢ per bushel
