Silver's Comments

Helpful hint: Click on the hyperlinks for more detail.

Corn and soybean futures closed higher today supported by export sales and weather forecasts calling for more heat. Although scattered rainfall is expected across the Midwest over the course of the next week, so are higher-than-average temperatures in the area. While some farmers are getting the rainfall they need to maintain high crop yields this year, other farmers need more in order to maintain a healthy crop. Additional soybean sales to China were also announced today in the FAS daily export reporting system.

Commodity funds were net buyers of 7.5k corn and 6k soybean contracts and net sellers of 1k wheat contracts.

US weather forecasts are crop development friendly.
