

You feel empowered when it comes to the agronomic side of the farming equation. You understand it. You know how to combine technology and best practices to move the needle to better yields.

And then there's marketing.

It's emotional. It's complicated. It can be risky, if you don't know what you're doing. It's time consuming. It's the part of farming that you'd rather not do.

NOW OFFERING!

One and Two-Year ProHedge Programs

- Commit to sell a portion of next year's crop between now and January 16, 2018.
- Set the basis between the time you write the contract and the day you deliver your grain.
- Relax and let our experienced team of grain marketing professionals manage the rest.
- While we can't promise our marketing team will lock in the highest futures price, we won't be securing the lowest price either. We'll take a conservative, diversified, and planned approach.
- Stay plugged in and comfortable with frequent communication with your Scoular merchandiser.

Scoular has survived and thrived in the grain industry for 125 years. We understand that when you succeed, we succeed. That's why we think about your marketing like it's our own. We are committed to offering you competitive and creative options to help you get the best price for your grain.
