Enterprise Grain Malting

ENTERPRISE GRAIN NORTH- NASH, OK

What We Do

Our Company

Welcome to Oklahoma's newest, independent grain company! Located in the heart of wheat country in Northcentral Oklahoma, Enterprise Grain is a young, entrepreneurial team offering professional services to farmers and ranchers of all sizes.

From seed to feed and commodity risk management to crop insurance, we are solutions focused to provide our customers with the highest caliber of services at competitive prices.

We are working to utilize the latest technology that enhances efficiency and profitability in your operation while also focusing on education to make it understandable to customers of all ages.

Locally Sourced

It all starts here at home when our certified seed is sold to the local farmer. It is then nurtured by supplying and applying agricultural inputs.

Value is also added by advising on agronomic services and utilizing new technologies, such as drones for precision mapping and surveying.

Malting

Enterprise Grain's recent acquisition of the pre-existing malt stock from 46 Grain provided us with a head start into the malting business along with a customer base including Iron Monk and Fat Toad and Vortex Alley to name a few.

While gaining ground in this exciting venture, we will be sending our locally sourced grains to be toll malted until expanding in our own prospective malting equipment.
