AVERAGE PRICING PROGRAMS

Benefits and Details

- No cost for these programs
- Receive an average price over an 8 week period
 - Each trade day during the pricing window, an equal percentage of bushels are priced at the close
- All emotions are taken out of the marketing decision
- Producer has the option to price out at any time for no charge
- This period of time historically yields high seasonal prices
- See back for more details and charts

In a diversified marketing approach having a small percentage of production priced in this emotionally-charged period of time makes sense.
