WHO maintains eight broad domains that help influence the health and quality of life of older people living all around the world.
* Accessibility to and availability of safe recreational facilities

* Outdoor Spaces and Buildings
*Safe and Affordable modes of private and public transportation
Wide range of housing options for older residents; aging in place; and other home modification programs.
Access to leisure and cultural activities; opportunities for older residents to participate in social and civic engagement with their peers and younger people.

Social Participation
Programs to support and promote ethnic and cultural diversity, along with programs to encourage multigenerational interaction and dialogue.
Promotion of paid work and volunteer activities for older residents and opportunities to engage in formulation of policies relevant to their lives.
Promotion of and access to the use of technology to keep older residents connected to their community and friends and family, both near and far.
Access to homecare services, clinics, and programs to promote wellness and active aging.
