Professor Borgwardt is an acclaimed international law and human rights historian. She is Associate Professor of History at Washington University, St. Louis. Borgwardt’s first book, A New Deal for the World: America’s Vision for Human Rights, was published in 2005 by Harvard University Press and garnered numerous awards, including the Merle Curti book award from the Organization of American Historians as the best book in the history of ideas. Borgwardt has a PhD from Stanford, a JD from Harvard Law School and an M.Phil. in International Relations from Cambridge University. She clerked for the Federal Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals and is a member of the California Bar. She has held fellowships with Harvard, Stanford, Berkeley, and NYU, as well as a Fulbright with the University of Heidelberg, where she remains a permanent faculty affiliate. Her current project on crimes against humanity in history, law, and politics is under contract with Alfred A. Knopf.

Past Pozen Visiting Professors were Hon. Albie Sachs, retired Justice of the South African Constitutional Court, and Professor Rodolfo Stavenhagen of the Colegio de Mexico, former United Nations Special Rapporteur on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

The University of Chicago Human Rights Program presents:

Human Rights: Ideas + Institutions

A lecture series by:

Professor Elizabeth Borgwardt
Richard & Ann Pozen Visiting Professor in Human Rights, University of Chicago

The Transformation of the Modern International Human Rights Regime

Tuesday, April 17, 2012; 7 pm

Harper Memorial Library, Room 130 - 1116 E. 59th Street

Introduction by Professor James Sparrow
Associate Professor of History, University of Chicago

‘Constitutionalizing’ Human Rights:
The Rise and Rise of the Nuremberg Principles

Tuesday, May 1, 2012; 7 pm

Harper Memorial Library, Room 130 - 1116 E. 59th Street

Introduction by Professor Jane Dailey
Associate Professor of History, University of Chicago

Commerce and Complicity:
Corporate Accountability for Human Rights Abuses

Public Law Workshop
Tuesday, May 15, 2012; 3:30 to 4:45 pm

Law School, Room 203 - 1111 E. 60th Street

Professor Borgwardt is an acclaimed international law and human rights historian. She is Associate Professor of History at Washington University, St. Louis. Borgwardt’s first book, A New Deal for the World: America’s Vision for Human Rights, was published in 2005 by Harvard University Press and garnered numerous awards, including the Merle Curti book award from the Organization of American Historians as the best book in the history of ideas. Borgwardt has a PhD from Stanford, a JD from Harvard Law School and an M.Phil. in International Relations from Cambridge University. She clerked for the Federal Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals and is a member of the California Bar. She has held fellowships with Harvard, Stanford, Berkeley, and NYU, as well as a Fulbright with the University of Heidelberg, where she remains a permanent faculty affiliate. Her current project on crimes against humanity in history, law, and politics is under contract with Alfred A. Knopf.

Past Pozen Visiting Professors were Hon. Albie Sachs, retired Justice of the South African Constitutional Court, and Professor Rodolfo Stavenhagen of the Colegio de Mexico, former United Nations Special Rapporteur on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

This lecture series is free and open to the public.
For more information, please contact Sarah Moberg at spmoberg@uchicago.edu