

RAINBOWSSM
bringing potential to life

HONOR ROLL OF DONORS
AND ANNUAL REPORT FY2012
(July 2011 - June 2012)

RAINBOWSTM
Charitable Foundation

Letter from President Deb Voth

Often I marvel at the successes achieved by the children and youth served by the talented and dedicated staff through Rainbows. The little things that happen every day amounting to overcoming obstacles and the joys of new accomplishments. In fact, "the Little Things" is the theme of our newest membership campaign.

As Rainbows has continued to embrace our brand as the craftsman, creating something of enduring beauty and value, we've begun to develop our craftsman brand voice, this allows us to talk about what we do in a new way. Our voice helps us reveal the masterpieces – our children – with whom we have the honor to work. It is said in Irving Stone's book, The Agony and the Ecstasy: A Biographical Novel of Michelangelo, that Michelangelo was able to see the work inside a piece of marble. Where others saw stone, he saw folds of fabric, faces, and stories.

At Rainbows, we do the same. Our staff help families chip away at preconceived notions, disabilities and impossibilities to help develop unbelievable, unique individuals – revealing the masterpiece that is each child.

Rainbows is also celebrating its 40th birthday year. Because birthdays are so special to children, we have had several celebrations implementing our guiding principle to: Be positive, celebrate success and recognize achievements. Our employees have shared their memories, our families have shared their successes and we are more ready than ever for the future.

Thank you for your part in our past and in revealing our future,

Deb Voth
President

Philip and Glorene Haney included a gift for Rainbows totaling approximately $100,000 and made a lasting impact. Their care for children will carry on as their gifts continue to positively impact the lives of families in our community.
