SACC FEST 2014 - Society for Anthropology in Community Colleges 2014 Annual Meeting
Burlington, Vermont – April 23-26, 2014
Theme: "Transformative Intersections, Processes, and Teaching - Food for Thought"

Mentorship:

Mentorship efforts (at or beyond the AAA meetings) to any of the following (e.g., special activities, funding, awards, guidance/advising on professional matters, etc.) Undergraduate and/or graduate students.
Discussion of a National SACC student association developed at the Vermont at SACC conference 2014. Initial efforts to pilot coordination and brain-storming Community College Anthropology Clubs to develop leadership and provide mentorship to community college anthropology students will take place in Spring 2015.

Early career scholars.
SACC supports early career teaching faculty with curriculum available on the SACC website and in the AAA sessions specifically focused on pedagogy, its Annual Meetings, and also in the congenial collegiality and inclusiveness of its membership and activities.

Independent scholars.
SACC Annual Meetings provide opportunity for presentation of work by independent scholars.

Outreach:

Additional outreach efforts (at or beyond the AAA meetings) to other sections, interest groups, and scholarly societies, government agencies, public education/community engagement, and underrepresented minorities.

The 2014 Annual Meeting of SACC provided a Luncheon Keynote Talk by Jean J. Schensul, Ph. D. Senior Scientist and Founding Director Institute for Community Research addressing “Community Colleges as Sites for Critical Applied Anthropology” and a roundtable discussion with Liz Heun, R.N. and Maria Straus, Ph.D. in topics related to directions for applying and growing anthropology in careers and our institutions.

In additon, local scholars, activists, artists and an author from the Abenaki tribes of Vermont spoke and provided introduction to their work, its historic importance and legacy and recent official recognition as tribal artists.

The Vermont State Archaeologist Giovanna Peebles worked to assist in outreach and activity for the conference as well.
