FLORIDIAN PARTNERS ADDS POLITICAL STRATEGIST CORY GUZZO TO TALLAHASSEE TEAM

TALLAHASSEE, FL—Cory Guzzo, former political liaison at the Republican Party of Florida (RPOF) has joined Floridian Partners, LLC as an associate. Before joining the firm, a statewide corporate and public affairs consulting and lobbying practice, Guzzo worked for House Speaker Steve Crisafulli at the RPOF's Office of House Campaigns. Cory will be based in the firm's Tallahassee office and can be reached at Cory@flapartners.com.

"We are very fortunate to have Cory join our team at Floridian Partners. Cory's legislative and political background combined with his experience in the financial services sector fits very well with our client base, and for those clients looking for comprehensive, year round legislative and government affairs services," said Charlie Dudley, Managing Partner of Floridian Partners, LLC. "Cory has already hit the ground running and will be a key player in our efforts in the upcoming 2015 Legislative Session and beyond."

An honors graduate of Florida State University with a degree in Political Science, Guzzo's educational background combined with his private and public sector experience provides added expertise and depth to the team of professionals at Floridian Partners. Cory first spent time working in the private sector for a Fortune 100 Insurance Company gaining extensive knowledge and real world experience in the insurance industry.

Previously, Guzzo served as the Chief Legislative Aide for Representative Seth McKeel of Lakeland and later joined the team of Representative Doug Holder of Osprey. He brings a comprehensive knowledge of the political, campaign, and fundraising fields. He previously served in high-level roles with the Republican Party during the 2012 and 2014 cycles, most recently serving as political liaison of House Campaigns under Speaker Steve Crisafulli.

"Cory has a broad range of skills and expertise. We are confident he will be an impact player for our clients in the legislative and political process," said Brian May, Managing Partner of Floridian Partners, LLC, Miami. "We could not be more pleased that Cory is a part of the Floridian team."

Floridian Partners, LLC develops and manages effective corporate and public affairs strategies to achieve specific business results.
