BODY of author Leon Uris' wife, Marjorie, was found Thursday near the couple's Red Mountain home overlooking Aspen, Colo. They are seen here last September after their marriage in a Jewish ceremony in Hollywood.

Author Uris' Wife Found Shot to Death

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Martin G. Dumont said a decision would be made today on whether to autopsy the body of Mrs. Marjorie Uris, found shot to death near the mountain home she shared with her husband, novelist Leon Uris.

Dumont said, "It appears to be a suicide."

Uris, author of the best-selling "Exodus" and "Topaz" talked briefly with authorities called after the finding of the body by a passerby Thursday, then went into seclusion.

Dumont said Sheriff Carroll Whitmore of Pitkin County said Mrs. Uris, 38, died of a bullet fired into her mouth from a pistol, owned by Uris, which was found lying near her.

Uris and his wife had been in the area for about a week, he said. Two other shots had been triggered off, one into the ground and one into her purse.

The couple were married in Hollywood last Sept. 8 after a romance which began with a meeting in this ski resort town.

Nixon Asks Reform In Electoral College

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has called for limited electoral reform, but has insisted that no form of proportional direct popular vote system that has wide backing in Congress.

Observing that the present electoral college system "is deeply rooted in American history," Nixon cautioned Congress against trying to abolish it.

He said he is a member of Congress Thursday, electoral reform should aim at dividing much state's electoral vote "in a way that will be in the best interest of the country."

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said Nixon's message would give impetus to "long-awaited congressional action" to bring about reform of the electoral college system.

Nixon said in the past he has favored dividing the electoral vote among the presidential candidates in the same proportion as they divide a state's electoral vote, but that he is not endorsing any specific plan now.

Another approach, he noted, would be to divide the electoral vote for each congressional district, carried by a candidate, with two votes going to the statewide popular winner.

Under either of these plans Nixon would have defeated John F. Kennedy in 1960, although under the proportional plan he would have fallen seven votes short of the 270 electoral votes needed for a majority.
