

Charges against 13 invaders

Lash prompts action

MEDIA CROUCHHOUSE — Charges were dropped Tuesday against 13 persons who were accused of entering the Robert Wade Neighborhood House in fall in violation of a court order.

Judge James H. Gorbey agreed to not prosecute the charges after being informed that B. Granville Lash, Wade's executive director, wished to withdraw the charges.

Lash, who was quoted from the Quaker-owned building at 217 Center Ave., during a takeover by black militants last June 12, conferred with the defendants' attorney, Arthur F. Early of Chester, before deciding to withdraw the charges.

The district attorney's office also agreed to dismiss all the charges, including forcible entry, forcible detainer, unlawful entry, corrupting morals of children and conspiracy.

Judge Gorbey went along with the recommendations, but did place court costs of $100 against each of the defendants, five of whom were women.

The 13 defendants were arrested Nov. 13, 1969, after Lash alleged they had violated an injunction issued by Judge Gorbey on Oct. 23. The injunction barred anyone from interfering with the return of the building to Lash's group.

The militants who took over the community center called themselves The Black Community Organization, an organization which has reportedly since been dissolved. The judge had also ordered the militants to return the building to the control of its board of directors.

The defendants claimed that the charges were dropped after Wilbur Johnson (Soul Aiki) 26, of the 800 block W. 8th St., of the 200 block Pusey St., Chester; Robert Woodson, 32, of Barrett Road, Middletown; William Brevard Jr., 30, of the 300 block Kerlin St., Chester; Monica R. Cross, 21, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Diane R. Palm, 26, of the 400 block Penn St., Chester; Blackwell 21, of the 1400 block W. 8th St., Chester; Earl L. Smith, 19, of the 5100 block W. 8th St., Chester; Patricia Johnson, 19, of the 300 block Lamokin St., Chester; Wilbur Williams, 20, of the 200 block W. 8th St., Chester; Cora W. Hall, 26, of the 3800 block Melon St., Philadelphia; Eddie L. Gibson, 18, of the 200 block Penn St., Chester; and George Childs, 18, of the 2700 block W. 7th St., Chester.

Gun blast hits youth

CLIFTON HEIGHTS — A 17-year-old Upper Darby youth has sold police the shotgun that was used in a Friday night gun fight while he was roughhousing with friends.

Paul Lyons, 226 Burmont Rd. Drexel Hill, is in fair condition today at Delaware County Hospital with a leg and arm injured left leg.

Lyons told police the incident occurred in a wooded area near the Family Drive-In Theater on Baltimore Avenue. He said he fired one shot into the air. When another shot was fired, he put the gun away from him, the gun accidentally discharged into his companions or to explain his possession of the loaded gun, police said. No charges have been filed against the youth.

The youth told police he and his friends threw the gun into nearby Darby Creek.

Handbill law may be illegal — The case involves Mrs. George Nagery, 30, of 319 Gibson Road, who was found guilty of distributing handbills opposing construction of the proposed Pike and Sproul Road.

Mrs. Nagery said Monday that she would appeal the conviction to the Delaware County Court.

She termed the ordinance a way for the township "to silence opposition to the mall."

In other business the board adopted memorial resolutions for two commissioners who died in the past year, including the late Louis Wagner, who died Nov. 19, 1977, and Commissioner James Herman, who died Sunday.

Diary of a father

Show goes on despite vendors

By ARTHUR MAYHEW
Daily Times Associate Editor

Diary of a father of two boys — one 5 years old, the other 3 — at the opening night of "Disney on Parade" at the Spectrum in Philadelphia:

7 p.m.—Arrive 30 minutes early and pay $1 to park near the Spectrum. Oldest son concerned that we won't be able to find the car after the show is over.

7:06 p.m.—Find our seats, and off our coats and are almost knocked down by an army of vendors, selling everything from Mousketer hats ($2 each) to popcorn (25 cents plus tax).

7:20 p.m.—Vendors seem to be multiplying. Cotton candy,

Crackerjacks, stuffed animals, pennants appear. Son at least one of each but I manage to distract them by pointing at windows walking across steel beams at the top of the Spectrum ceiling.

7:30 p.m.—Show scheduled to start. Tell sons of this fact and they sit up in seats, looking over one box of popcorn.

7:40 p.m.—Still no show. One member of orchestra walked out, picked up something, walked behind curtain again.

7:50 p.m.—A rhythmic clapping begins as children really begin to squirm. Not a word from the management about why the delay. Try to explain delay to young children.

7:55 p.m.—Three-year-old tries to me and says: "Are you a boy? Are you a girl?" Good question.

For cultural center

College agrees to inspect house

SWARTHMORE — The Swarthmore College President Robert Cross said a meeting of students Tuesday night he will inspect a house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

Mr. Cross said he will inspect the house today with representatives of Swarthmore's African American Student Society (AASS) who have chosen it for a black cultural center.

8:01 p.m.—Lights dim, orchestra starts overture and I assume—correctly that show is beginning. Only 31 minutes left.

8:45 p.m.—First half of show ends. Can't put my finger on it but the show seems to be lacking something. Combination of Walt Disney films and musical characters, seems to be the kids, though.

8:47 p.m.—Sons want to go to the restroom. So do all the children in the Spectrum. Mob scene. Surprised there is not a vendor in the restroom.

9:15 p.m.—After a 30-minute intermission, second act begins. I have strong feeling that vendors are in control of this operation. They're now selling flashlight (at $2 per) and stuffed animals (at $2).

9:20 p.m.—Finally, after 2½ hours, the 5 year old laughs out loud as Gudy's crazy car drives away without him in it.

9:45 p.m.—Elaborate production of "Alice in Wonderland." Beautiful costumes and sets.

10 p.m.—Three-year-old gives up and asks to go home. Five-year-old second the motion. I agree. Show still going on. All the activity reminds me of halftime at the Super Bowl game in New Orleans. Found the car.

Afterthoughts: While the show Tuesday night was for a good cause—proceeds benefited the Crozer-Chester Kidney Fund, Inc. and raised about $12,000 for the fund—white had been hard pressed to recommend it for parents of under 5 children because of the time element alone. Hopefully the production will improve before it ends March 18.

Officials' salary law amended

RIDLEY PARK — Council amended Tuesday night a new salary ordinance setting the compensation for councilmen and the mayor.

The amendment makes the ordinance effective Jan. 1, 1979.

Council adopted the salary ordinance last month for the first time in the borough's history, setting the compensation for councilmen and the mayor at $100 a year.

The ordinance passed by a 5-2 vote and was later vetoed by Mayor William A. Rice, who refused to sign the ordinance.

Council overrode the mayor's veto by the same 5-2 vote.

Rice, Council President Ted Sterling and Councilman Benjamin A. Glen said they would not accept the $100-a-month salary.

No reason was given for the amendment which was passed Tuesday night.

The post of zoning officer has been created by council.

The officer will be appointed by council at a salary to be fixed by the board and the officer's duties will include the enforcement of the borough zoning and building codes.

A request by Mrs. C. L. Melvin of Ridley Ave. and her husband, Mr. Melvin, to have their property investigated, will be studied by the finance committee.

Sterling warned residents against burning trash and urged them to place trash on the curb.

"We are paying a big dollar for trash collection, so let's use it," Sterling said.

Frontier Lincoln Mercury received a contract for a new borough police car at $2,640, including air conditioning.

Man is shot after argument

For 138 homes in West End of Chester

SWARTHMORE

Residents of Swarthmore churches were asked Tuesday night to provide $100,000 in cash and $25,000 cash to make possible the building of 138 new homes in Chester for families of low and moderate income.

The appeal was made by the West End Ministers Fellowship Inc. of Chester whose pastor is the Rev. Daniel Scott of Bethany Baptist Church.

The request was presented by William Good, a consulting consultant, for the proposed project. Good said the Chester Housing Authority would be expected to provide land for purchase to construct the housing units, eight of which would be for rent.

The location of the remaining 130 would be between 2nd and 9th Streets from Locust St. to Central Avenue. The houses, which are to be built by Charles E. White and designed by a Cleveland architectural firm, will cost $18,000. Payments by families will be cut "up to 60 percent" from the federal government subsidized the mortgage interest rate.

The plan is to build the houses in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

Man is shot after argument

For 138 homes in West End of Chester

SWARTHMORE

Residents of Swarthmore churches were asked Tuesday night to provide $100,000 in cash and $25,000 cash to make possible the building of 138 new homes in Chester for families of low and moderate income.

The appeal was made by the West End Ministers Fellowship Inc. of Chester whose pastor is the Rev. Daniel Scott of Bethany Baptist Church.

The request was presented by William Good, a consulting consultant, for the proposed project. Good said the Chester Housing Authority would be expected to provide land for purchase to construct the housing units, eight of which would be for rent.

The location of the remaining 130 would be between 2nd and 9th Streets from Locust St. to Central Avenue. The houses, which are to be built by Charles E. White and designed by a Cleveland architectural firm, will cost $18,000. Payments by families will be cut "up to 60 percent" from the federal government subsidized the mortgage interest rate.

The plan is to build the houses in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

Man is shot after argument

For 138 homes in West End of Chester

SWARTHMORE

Residents of Swarthmore churches were asked Tuesday night to provide $100,000 in cash and $25,000 cash to make possible the building of 138 new homes in Chester for families of low and moderate income.

The appeal was made by the West End Ministers Fellowship Inc. of Chester whose pastor is the Rev. Daniel Scott of Bethany Baptist Church.

The request was presented by William Good, a consulting consultant, for the proposed project. Good said the Chester Housing Authority would be expected to provide land for purchase to construct the housing units, eight of which would be for rent.

The location of the remaining 130 would be between 2nd and 9th Streets from Locust St. to Central Avenue. The houses, which are to be built by Charles E. White and designed by a Cleveland architectural firm, will cost $18,000. Payments by families will be cut "up to 60 percent" from the federal government subsidized the mortgage interest rate.

The plan is to build the houses in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

Man is shot after argument

For 138 homes in West End of Chester

SWARTHMORE

Residents of Swarthmore churches were asked Tuesday night to provide $100,000 in cash and $25,000 cash to make possible the building of 138 new homes in Chester for families of low and moderate income.

The appeal was made by the West End Ministers Fellowship Inc. of Chester whose pastor is the Rev. Daniel Scott of Bethany Baptist Church.

The request was presented by William Good, a consulting consultant, for the proposed project. Good said the Chester Housing Authority would be expected to provide land for purchase to construct the housing units, eight of which would be for rent.

The location of the remaining 130 would be between 2nd and 9th Streets from Locust St. to Central Avenue. The houses, which are to be built by Charles E. White and designed by a Cleveland architectural firm, will cost $18,000. Payments by families will be cut "up to 60 percent" from the federal government subsidized the mortgage interest rate.

The plan is to build the houses in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.

The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income. The houses are to be built in a "family" income.