ST. LOUIS, MO. (AP) — In a sense there's protection for Jules Jacot at the St. Louis Zoo.

He ran away from the French Foreign Legion 61 years ago, and joined the circus. Now and again to years ago, and joined the circus. Now and again to years ago, and joined the circus. He's also 79 years old. Jacot was born in New York City in 1890, lived through his teen-age years in Leipzig, Germany, until he joined the French Foreign Legion at 17. He only atayed with them a year, returned to the United States and hooked up with the John H. Sparks circus in 1908 when.circuses were what boys dreamed of.

His wife of 35 years is Mexican, and Jacot mastered her language. Now he even talks to his big cats in Spanish.

The job of lion tamer is far more than just walking into the lion's den. It's working with the animals seven days a week, helping feed them the 225 pounds of raw into the lion's den.
