Faces of the Panther

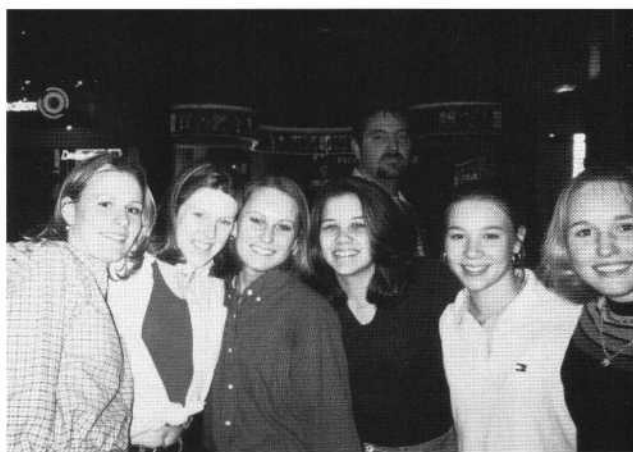

There are many faces to the Bells Panther. There is the face of the athlete who spends hours each day practicing and devoting his or her time to representing the Bells Panthers to the best of their ability. There are the faces of the teachers and coaches who devote their life to helping others succeed, and the faces of the students who are determined to make it through no matter what it takes, and the faces of those students involved in FFA, FHA, Beta Club, Choir, and Debate who put forth the extra effort to succeed in what they love. There are the faces of the yearbook sponsor and staff who put in hours of their nights and Saturdays in order to make sure that they publish the best yearbook they can.

Kari Harod puts her best face forward as she finds her seat in chemistry class. Kari along with many other juniors took chemistry this year as a part of the advanced tract classes.

Susan Wright leaves Mr. Steve Ewton's class with a smile after her biology class. In biology students had the opportunity to dissect several different animals throughout the year.

Its time to party!! Kim Anderson, Jennifer Montgomery, Mandy Lankford, Angie Youree, Audrie Adams, and Dana Doyle all pose for a picture together while they wait to be seated. These girls went with the Beta Club to Dallas for the State Convention in January.

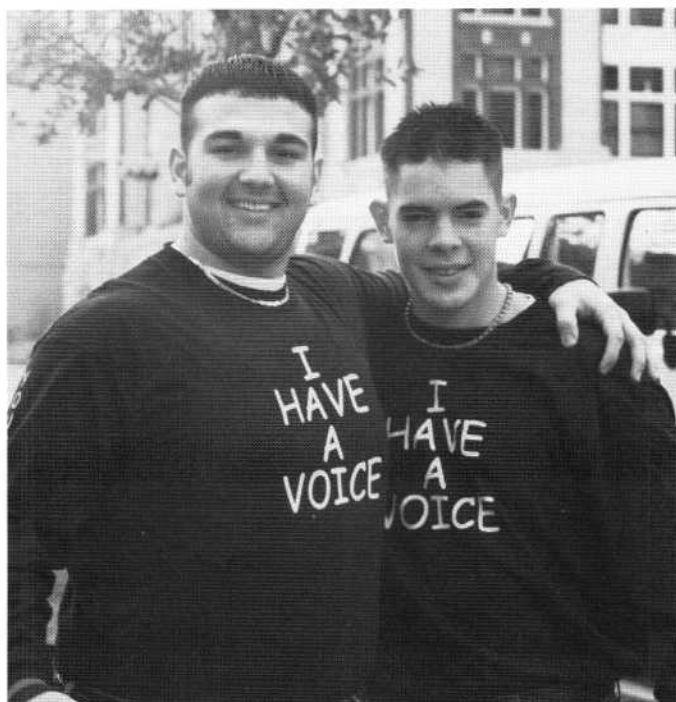

Lacy Leonard and Laci Whitlock joke around and have a good time while they are waiting for the game to start. Both girls were members of the eighth grade cheerleader squad. There were twenty-one eighth grade cheerleaders.

Jesse Bolden laughs at a friend's joke while he enjoys his lunch in the high school commons area. The seventh and eighth grade students walked across the parking lot each day to the high school for lunch.

Josh Poormohammadi and Jason Robinson show everybody what good buddies they are as they wait to load up on the van. Students visited the Capitol while they were in Austin.

Paul Donoho carries his bags to the show box as he prepares to go home after spending a week at the Ft. Worth livestock show. Paul and Greg Allenbaugh went to Ft. Worth with Mr. Morris Mortensen to help him with caring for the steers and to give them a first hand look at what showing was is all about.

Angie Youree makes her way to her next class through the crowded halls of Bells High School. When the bells rang at the high school, students could be seen filing out of the classes.

Mary Ridenour and Nathan Leonard sit and talk in the hall while they wait for the bell to ring. In the mornings many students would sit at the picnic table outside or in the hall so that they could talk quietly with friends.

Renatta Neal types up captions for her spreads in the yearbook. Renatta was the senior in charge of helping all the new staff members understand the computer program.

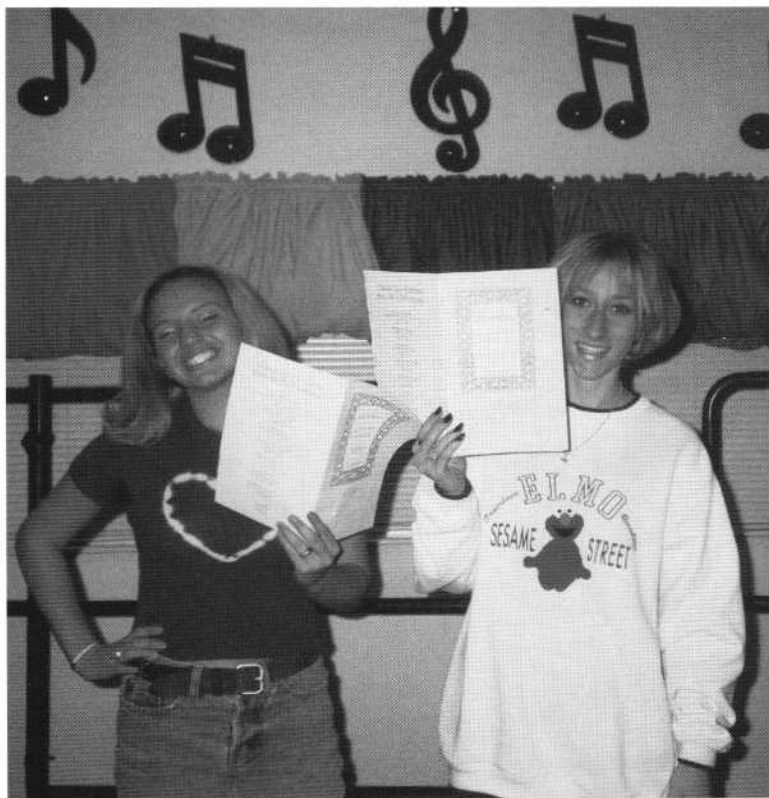

Are you serious? Jennifer Workman looks amazed at what one of her friends has said as she eats her lunch. Laughter could be heard throughout the commons area during lunch as students told stories about their day.

Megan Presley and Chris Kelly explain to the judges how the robot works while competing in the N. T. Best competition at Midway Mall. Students in seventh through twelfth grade made the N. T. Best Team. They spent many hours of hard work designing and building their robot for the competition.

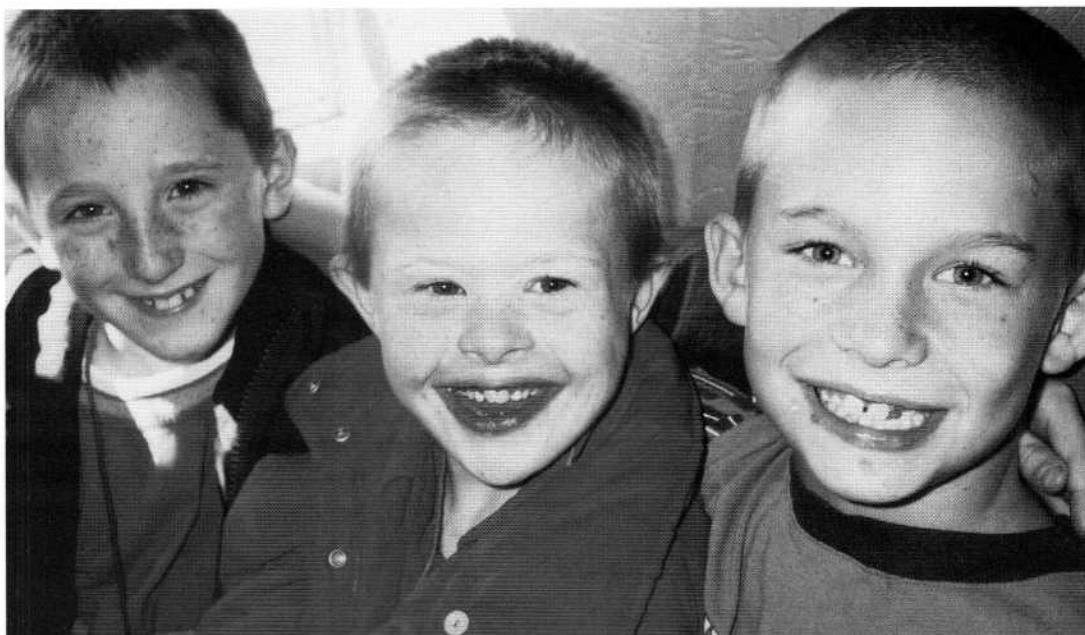

Casey Carr tries to decide what she wants to drink for lunch as the camera girl snaps a quick picture. The drink and snack machines were busy places at break and lunch time each day. There was an unexpected change in the cafeteria for students after the Christmas Holidays. The lunchroom had cut out daily hamburgers and started giving two entree choices for lunch each day.

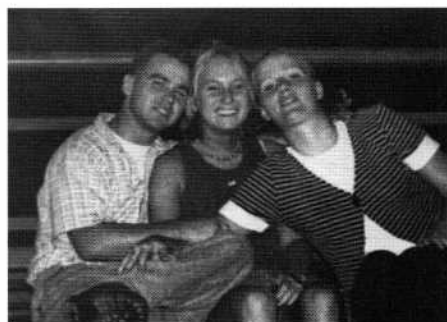

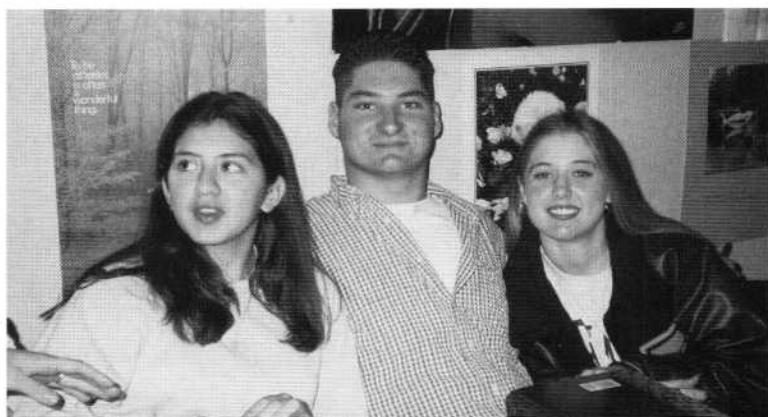

Maranda Felton and Brittany Fuller practice their parts for the Christmas choir program. Maranda and Brittany were both members of the Bells Belles and Beaus. This elite group of singers spent many hours practicing for their special appearances around town.

Familiar Faces

Brett Hall, Jeremy Taylor, and Kelly Zabel are all smiles while they wait for the bus to leave for a trip to Camp Grayson. The one day camp was sponsored by the Boy Scouts. The campers had the opportunity to make bead necklaces, go on a nature hike, play baseball, and enjoy many other fun activities with friends.

Say Cheese!! Joe-Allen Hitsman, Mandy Lankford, and Kim Anderson show their support for the Bells J. V. Panthers at a home football game. Each Thursday Seniors could be found in the stands supporting their fellow classmates and friends as they worked hard for a win.

April Almaguer, Billy Pedigo, and Kari Herod take a break for a quick picture during their history class with Coach Rod Davis. This history class spent much time in the library researching topics for papers. It could be guaranteed that there was never a dull moment with these three around for entertainment.

Wonder what she is up to now ? Alisha Hall gives a sly grin while waiting in Mrs. Yolanda Ivers class for choir practice to start. Each day the members of the Bells Belles and Beaus reported to Mrs. Ivers' class during Comp. Ed. for a quick thirty minute rehearsal.

Margaret Godbey and Aubrey Thorpe work on decorating a Halloween picture. They take time away from their excellent work to give the camera a smile.

Centers Everyone! Lauren Moore, Hope Herrera, and Kaleb Waymire work at their centers in Mrs. Morris' kindergarten class. They were learning about the letter W that week.

Smile! Ashley Sims, Bailey Huckins, Taner Dugan, Aaron Powell, Jerney Cheeks, and Caleb Daniel pose for a yearbook picture. They seem to enjoy Mrs. Gentry's class.

Take Your Place! Colten Cockrill, Dustin Daughtery, Joshua Fryar, Sierra Flinn, Corey Carlisle, and Cody Jackson are in their spot and ready for P.E. to begin in Mrs. O'Malley's kindergarten class.

The third grade students practiced very hard with Mrs. Adams so they could learn the correct positions and the right way to dribble and shoot the basketball.

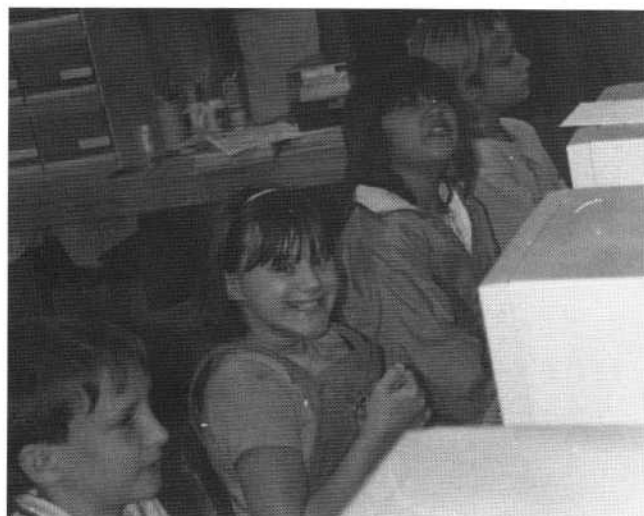

Third graders Jordan Gripp and Kody Ballard get a head start while waiting for their teammates to return with the ball during their basketball practice. These students worked very hard each week to learn the skills they would need to play basketball and other sports.

FOURTH GRADE 4 Ways For

Students in Mrs. Nancy Trainor's class are giving book reports. Kristen Kelly presented hers on a Junie B. Jones' book. Junie B. Jones books are well liked by Mrs. Trainor's class. Eric Duncle, Dylan Morris, Cody Hubanks, and Casie Roder all agree on that.

"I wonder what Sarah Neal has on her card," Travis Cole thinks as he leans back to look at her, while Alyssa Emory and Luke Mahan examine their Math BINGO cards. Chance Taylor selects a piece of candy because he won the BINGO game in Mrs. Nan Poole's class.

Jamie Halliburton reads Scholastic magazines while fellow students work on other assignments. These fifth graders rotate among more than three teachers including Mr. Steve Craig, Mrs. Patty Langley, and Mrs. Shirley Davis, the three home room teachers. Other teachers who help to educate elementary students include Mrs. Shari Adams in P. E., Mrs. Angela Novak in art and G/T, and Mr. Rob Novak in music and computer education.

Fifth graders Hannah Ewton and Jeremy Jenkins look over handouts in Mrs. Davis' class. These students all work really hard in class to keep up with all the work they are given. Obviously fifth grade is harder than it seems!

Attention! Caleb Youree and Matthew Jansen really get into class discussions. Many fifth graders asked questions during their classes throughout the day to get involved in the discussion when the teachers were reviewing.

Moving On Up

Sixth graders move to the head of elementary classes!

Mrs. Newland's sixth grade class did a great job on their Egyptian day costumes. All of the sixth grade classes studied and participated in an Egyptian study.

Casey Vaughn, Geoffrey Ramsey, and Jenny Worthington listen while Mrs. French gives the class instructions on their assignment. Jenny Worthington played with Fluffy, the sixth graders' pet snake, while the other students waited patiently for their turn.

Mrs. Babbitt's class also shows their Egyptian spirit by participating in the dress-up day. The sixth graders seemed to enjoy this project to the fullest.

Roll Call

Teachers don't have many names to call for the Class of 2000!

Amanda Cory takes time out of her busy schedule to make this beautiful face. Little does her teacher know she is running late for Comp. Ed.

GROUP HUG!!! A group of juniors stop in the hallway to pose for the camera. They were very excited that they would be SENIORS next year.

Which one would you recommend? Tabitha England and Kari Herod look for a book at the Book Fair. This table had books at discounted prices and obviously they seemed interesting.

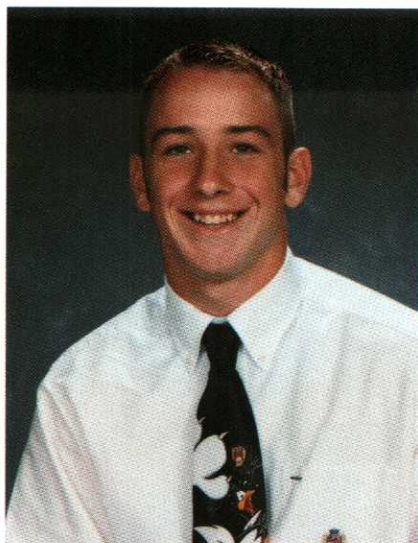

Cristi Page, Sean Brown, and David Hensley try to hide but don't succeed. Mrs. Jones quickly snapped a picture while they were doing some research in the library.

Jenny McCarley and Natalie Wardell sit and listen to Mrs. Meek in the library for their instructions. They are working on a project over "The New Land". A time period in history when America was founded. William Bradford, Christopher Columbus, and many others wrote literature that is used today from this period of time.

The 1999 Senior class officers are (first row) Josh Poormahammadi--President, (second row) Heather Nobles-- Secretary, Mandy Lankford-- Vice President, Jason Robinson-- Reporter, and Sam Babb-- Treasurer. The officers were chosen by their classmates to represent them while making decisions throughout the year.

Mr. BHS

Eric Payne, son of Mike and Julie Payne, was chosen as the 1998-99 Mr. BHS. He is a member of the Varsity Football, Track, Baseball, and Basketball teams. He is also an active member in the Beta Club, FCA, SADD, Spanish Club, and Choir. "It felt great to be elected Mr. BHS by my friends and classmates because it showed that they had respect for me. I feel that I am a great representative of BHS and it's morals and spirit."

Miss BHS

Mandy Lankford, the daughter of Ricky and Phyllis Lankford, was chosen Miss BHS for the 1998-99 school year. She is a member of the Varsity Basketball, Track, and Cross Country teams. Mandy is Varsity Cheerleader, Beta Club President, and past Junior class Vice-President. She is also an active member in FCA, SADD, and Spanish Club. "It was a great honor to have been elected Miss BHS; I feel so privileged. This is very important to me because I have attended Bells High School for 13 years. It is something that will mean a lot to me forever, and I can look back and remember something so special."

Chosen for Most Athletic were Jake Hartline and Kim Anderson. Jake is the son of Andy and Tammy Hartline. He is on the Varsity Football, Basketball, Baseball, and Track teams. Kim is the daughter of George and Gina Anderson. She is on the Varsity Basketball, Track, and Cross-Country teams.

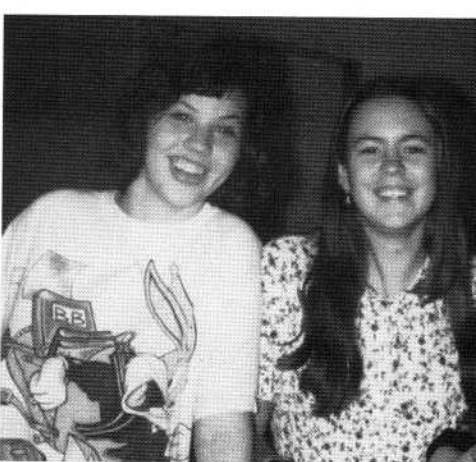

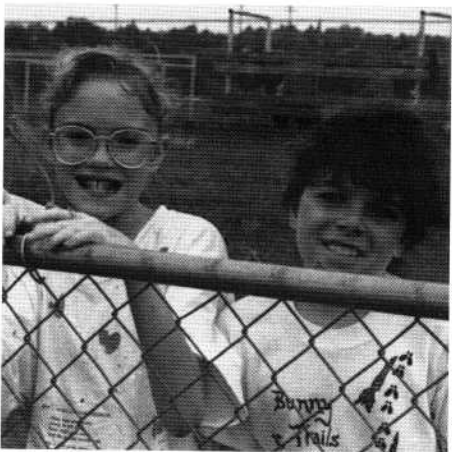

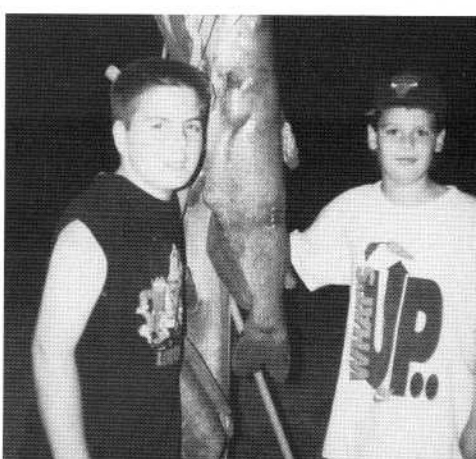

Voted Most Intelligent were Jason Robinson and Sharon Witherspoon. Jason is the son of Skyler and Rhonda Robinson. He is in Beta Club and plays Varsity Baseball and Golf. Sharon is the daughter of Joe and Annell Witherspoon. She is a Beta Club member, Spanish Club officer, and has been in Choir for 3 years.

Selected as Friendliest were Lee Fuqua and Heather Nobles. Lee is the son of Ken and Arlyn Fuqua. He is on the Varsity Football, Baseball, and Golf teams. Heather is the daughter of Shirley McMinn. She is a Varsity Cheerleader and a Beta Club officer.

Elected Most Likely to Succeed were Clay Rolan and Brandy Wilson. Clay is the son of Jerry Rolan and Linda Rolan. He is a Varsity Football player and a Beta Club officer. Brandy is the daughter of Terry and Linda Wilson. She is a Drill Team officer and a Beta Club member.

Members of the Bells I. S. D. School Board for 1998-1999 include Randy Workman, David Sears, David Whitlock, E. T. Pettit, Billy Neal-Vice-President, Lois Everheart-President, and Cheryl Reynolds-Secretary.

Betty Fleming, former Bells I. S. D. student and teacher, retired at the end of school year 1997-98. At the end of the year she was honored with a reception attended by family, colleagues, and former students.

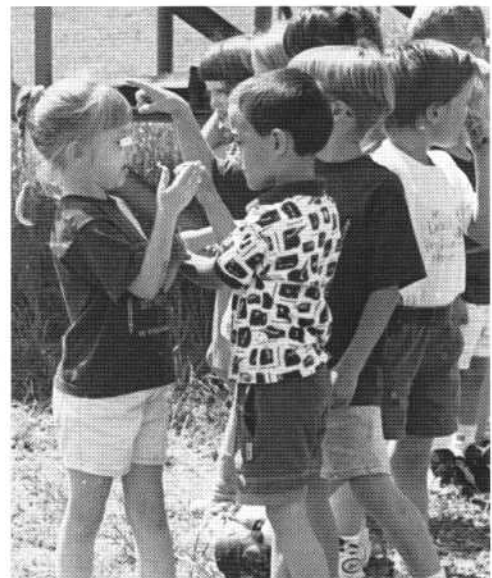

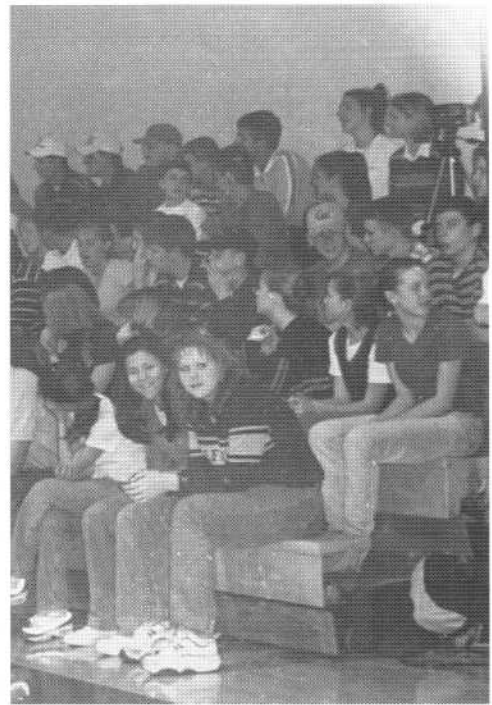

Fascinating Adventurous Curious Excellent to Fearful Anxious Challenging Eager

The stands are packed!!! Vanessa Novak and Christa Carpenter smile for the camera at the Whitewright basketball game. The stands were packed as the Varsity boys fought for a victory over the Tigers. The boys won their game by one point thanks to Jacob Ewton and an excellent jump shot.

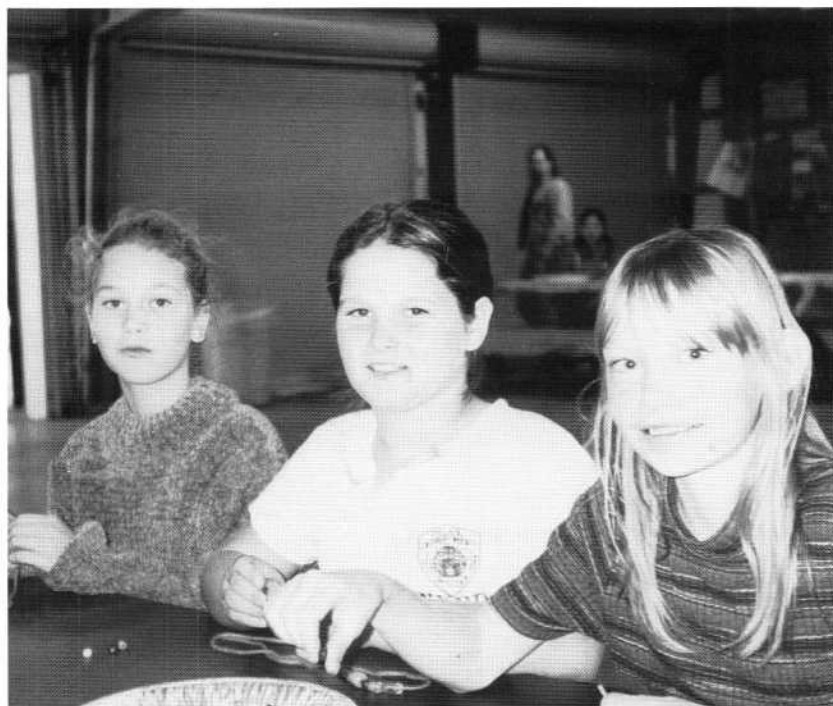

Mrs. Shirley Jones and school board member Cheryl Reynolds share a few laughs while watching the red ribbon week parade. Each year the elementary school students participate in red ribbon week by participating in a different activity each day "Saying No to Drugs".

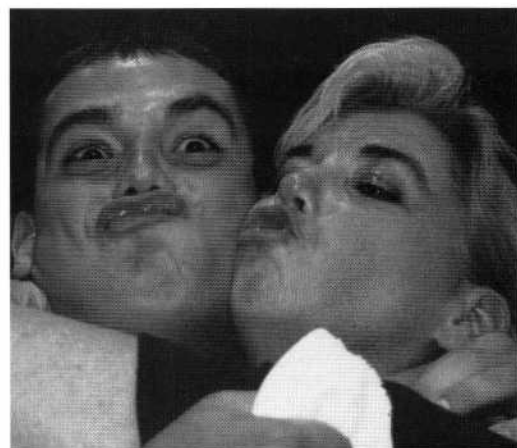

Steven Garland talks about his strategy with friends as they wait in line for the softball throw at elementary field day. The elementary students spent their day rotating between several different stations.

They are so soft!! April Graham, Brittany Selmán, and Ashley Criger give a loving welcome to the cuddly dogs that joined them while they sat around outside and talked. These three girls were inseparable the whole day at Camp Grayson.

Catie Harlen, Jessica Kimball, and Dana Wakefield are all smiles as they make head necklaces at Camp Grayson. Each year students make the trip to Camp Grayson for a relaxing and enjoyable week with friends. This is a great opportunity for many students to talk and get to know each other a little bit better.

Robert White and Ms. Carol White show us their funny faces as they give each other a hug. Ms. White is the elementary school library aide and Robert helped in the high school library part of the year.

PIGS, LAMBS, HEIFERS, AND STEERS; OH MY!

Bells High School FFA members participate in area shows

Angie Youree smiles as bids go higher and higher for her steer. One of the main events at Loy Lake is the auction, which gives students a goal to strive for while showing. Participants who make the auction decorate their animals and talk to bidders to try to get larger bids. Many bidders give the animal back to the students.

Justin Kelley guides his pig around the show arena waiting for the judge's final decision. Showing pigs at shows takes a lot of patience and self-confidence. Justin had to work with his pig for several weeks in order to get it to mind.

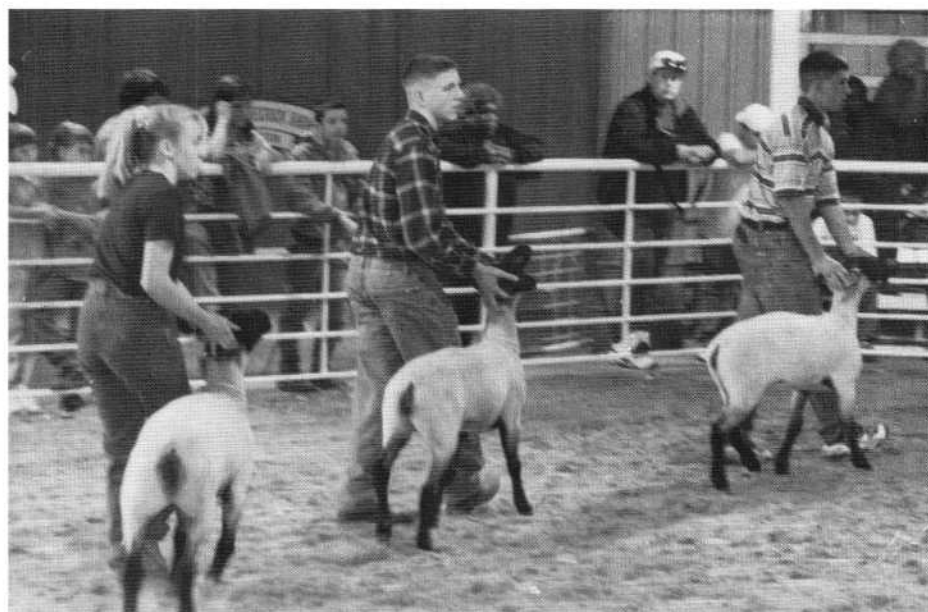

Taylor Melton and Greg Allenbaugh practice roping the plastic steer. Between shows the boys like to practice their roping techniques. There are many different ways that exhibitors find to entertain themselves during their spare time at a show.

Taylor Trainor leads his steer into the show arena with tight reins. Due to his hard work and determination, Taylor won many agricultural scholarships his senior year. Taylor participated in all the shows around our area which helped him to be eligible to apply for more scholarships.

It's not all about animals. Joanne Kremer models her vest that she made for the clothing exhibit around the arena during the auction. Participants who win Grand or Reserve Champion in the general exhibits building make the auction.

Ashlie Nobles and Troy Leonard keep both eyes on the judge as they carefully lead their lambs around the show arena. Showing animals helped the students develop responsibility and enjoy the thrill of competition with an animal that they had worked with so hard for several months. Due to their interest and years of showing animals some students are eligible to win scholarships.

Round and Round he goes. Jared Kelley leads his helper around the show arena. Jared has participated in FFA for three years. He shows pigs, lambs, and steers at all the local shows.

Just how jiggy can you get? Mr. Glen Blount joins in on the action as he shows everybody just how good he can dance. After Zac got on the dance floor and showed us just what he could do, he made a little bet with his dad that he could not do just as well. Mr. Blount accepted the challenge.

Breaking it down! Mrs. Darlene Cardenas and Bryan Bell just let the rhythm flow through their veins as they dance to the music while others watch and comment on their astounding moves. After being coaxed onto the dance floor by Bryan, Mrs. Cardenas was convinced to share some of her dance moves with all of those joining in on the fun.

Carrying Your Love With Me

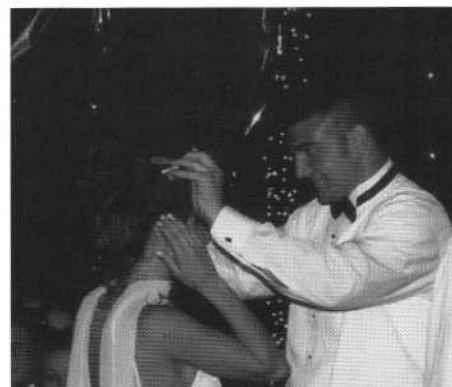

Dressed up and ready for some fun, many Juniors and Seniors attended the 1997-98 Prom.

This sure is good stuff! Usher Jennifer Halliburton is caught stuffing her face. The other ushers included Brittany Fuller, Billy Pedigo, Ashley Gray, Shaun Dailey, Keeley Walsh, Laramie Dorris, and Joe Stern. The meal at the prom consisted of a choice of ham or roast beef, a garden salad, potato casserole, green beans, a roll, and cheese-cake or Hershey cake. While everyone finished their meals, the ushers entertained everybody with a poem remembering all of the funny things that the seniors had done in their many years of schooling, some bad and others good.

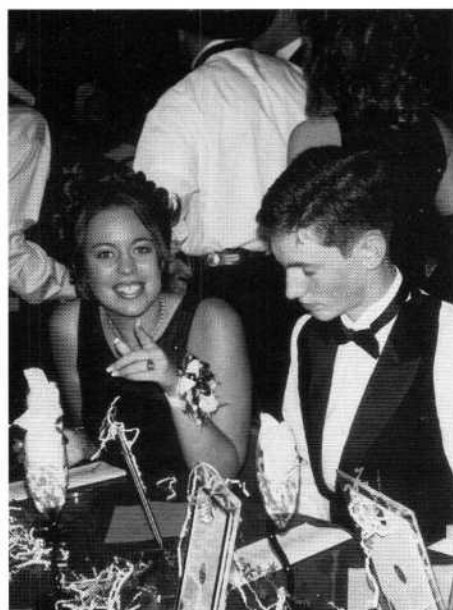

Rachel England, Brandy Wilson, Ramey Beddo, Brandi Ring, Dana Doyle, and Jimmie Ann Davis line up in front of the hot air balloon for a quick picture. It was hectic as usual before prom as everybody rushed around snapping pictures and looking at what others had worn. Many hours of planning and many decisions were made by those attending the prom when deciding on what to wear. More money than what one may realize is spent putting together an outfit to wear just one time.

How does it look? J. P. gives a big grin as he places the crown on Prom Queen Carrie Burnett's head. Seniors have many things to worry about throughout the year, but deciding who is prom king and queen is one of the fun things that comes along with the work of the senior title. Carrie Burnett and Jake Waldrip were chosen by their fellow classmates for this year's king and queen.

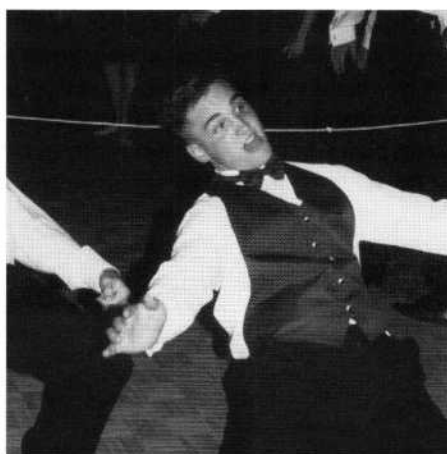

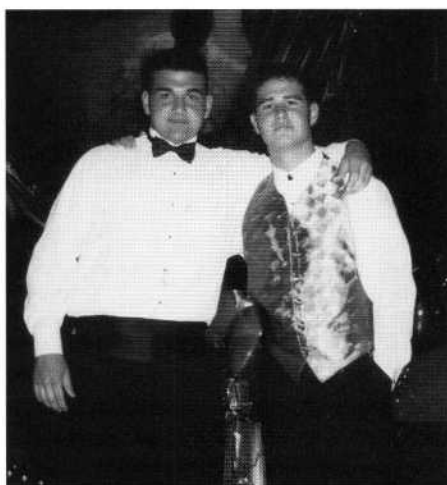

Ramey Beddo and Josh Oakley sit together, talk, and laugh before things get started. While some were getting their pictures taken, others walked around and snapped pictures of their friends. Each person found a glass and frame at their table when they arrived that they or their date had purchased for them prior to the big night.

You're so funny! Rachelle Robinson laughs at something her date Gary Simpson said. Having the opportunity to share memorable moments like this is a very important part of the prom.

Just too much for words! Josh Poormohammadi and Zac Blount pose for a quick picture before joining the rest of the crowd. J. P. had quite a bit of responsibility on his shoulders as Junior Class President. Thanks to the help of many others, such as the junior class sponsors Darlene Cardenas, Rod Davis, Randy Hitsman, Judy Keene Charlie Means, Bill Meek, and Beth Owens, the prom came off without a hitch. The Junior class officers and members of the prom committee, Sam Babb, Mandy Lakford, Heather Nobles, and Kim Anderson, helped in the planning of the prom.

Let's get ready to Limbo! Matt Washburn demonstrate to everyone just how flexible he is while participating in the limbo competition. When things started dying down, the D.J. livened things by starting up a limbo contest. The contest gave everybody the opportunity to try and relive their past when they were much more flexible. Some people; however, showed us that they were still pretty bendable.

The Final Party

High School is like a PARTY
Get prepared and have FUN!

Top of the Class. . . Zac Blount, the proud valedictorian, talks directly to his classmates as he gives his speech. He included the partying and work of his 13 years of school to make his speech interesting. Zac received many scholarships to help finance an education at Texas Tech University.

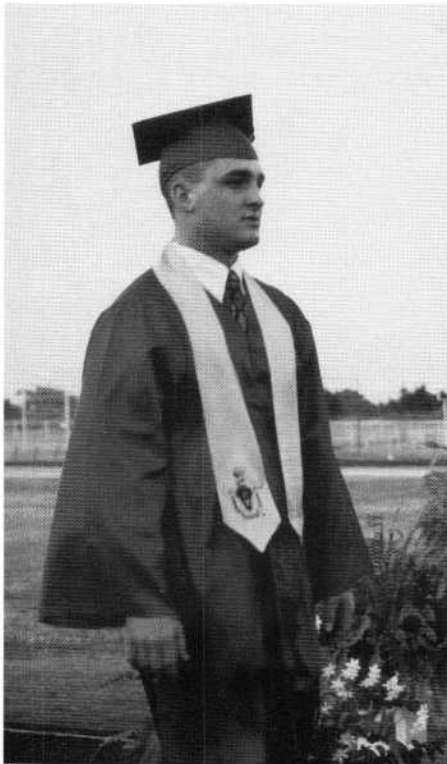

Heather Nobles and Nate Pettit walk down the aisle preceding the members of the senior class. The ushers chosen by the seniors also included Mandy Lankford and Sam Babb. "In my opinion it was an honor to be chosen as an usher for the graduating seniors. It was rather exciting," explained Mandy.

Is it bright outside Andy? Andy Burgess, Danny Waller, and Gary Simpson smile for the camera at graduation. This trio along with other class members had fun after graduation at Malibu Speedway in Plano. When asked what he would remember about graduation the most Danny said, "When we graduated."

TECH BOUND . . . Matt Washburn, salutatorian, struts his stuff as he joins his fellow classmates at their seats. Matt was very involved in many school activities including Beta Club, Debate, FFA, and many courses that helped to prepare for his future.

I want to be a . . . when I grow up! ! ! Mr. Joe Moore reads the varied accomplishments and the future plans of the graduates. Many students planned on attending college while some continued their current jobs.

Family members and friends gather for the graduation ceremonies. While mothers cried tears of joy, the graduates celebrated their 13 years of hard work and dedication.

SENIORS '98 The Class of Nineteen Hundred and Ninety-Eight patiently chat while passing the tense moments before making their final walk across the stage to accept their diplomas. The front row features some of the Honor Graduates of the senior class.

The 1998 homecoming queen nominees were Mandy Lankford, Kim Anderson, Sara Waldrip, and Heather Nobles. Mandy was named queen Friday night before the game. All of these girls are seniors of the class of 1998.

Wow! Mrs. Tricia Meek poses outside her first period English class on Tacky Day. Mrs. Meek won the mini spirit stick for her school spirit and her tackiness on Wednesday. "Although I do miss working on the halftime show, it is nice being able to sit in the stands and watch it without the pressures of performing a perfect show," says Mrs. Meek, the sophomore and junior English teacher.

Q: During homecoming, what part did you most enjoy? Were you glad it was over or would you rather it be that extravagant at every game?

A: "I thought homecoming was fun and showed a lot of school spirit. That gave the football team more confidence. Every game should be made a big deal of because it shows other schools how much Panther Pride we have."

--Alisha Groves, junior

During homecoming week, many participated in the festivities "I enjoyed halftime. The kids were really cute," says Ramey Beddo.

"The most memorable part of homecoming week was the final product of long hours of hard work--the halftime show. It was wonderful!" says Brandy Wilson.

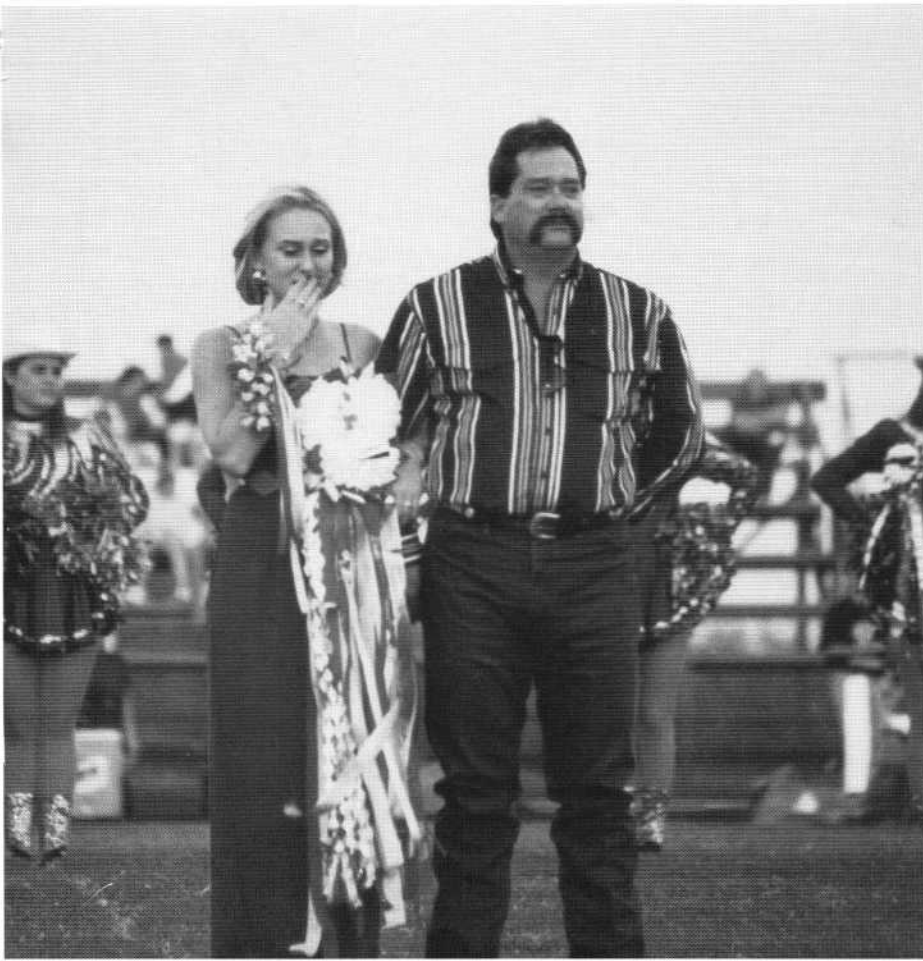

While posing in the Ag shop, junior Sandy Keitz says, "During homecoming week I enjoyed doing things differently everyday!" Sandy participated in the Wacky Hair day by imitating Medusa.

"I most enjoyed the different things throughout the week, especially wacky hair day," says sophomore Rachel Cork as she 'poses' for the camera on her way to fourth period Spanish.

Mandy Lankford gasps as Mrs. Yalonda Ivers announced the 1998 Homecoming queen. Mandy was crowned before the game began against the Tom Bean Tomcats during the pregame festivities. Mandy was escorted by her father on Friday evening.

Halloween already? Amy Mahan and Angie Youree stop for a quick snapshot outside the Ag building. Amy and Angie participated in Tacky Day to show their school spirit for BHS by dressing up in the tackiest "costume" they had.

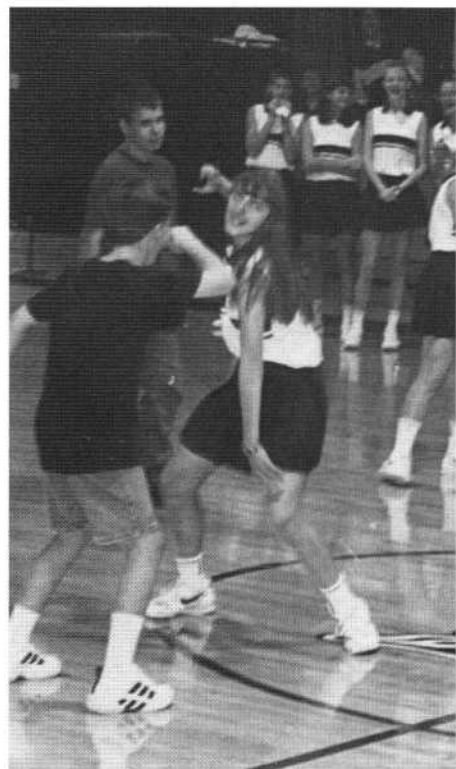

Aren't they cute! J. Q. Ivers and Madison Wilson hold the crown and flowers for the homecoming queen while awaiting the start of the festivities on homecoming night. Both Madison and J. Q. were given a certificate in appreciation for all their help on Friday night. J. Q. is the son of Jackie and Yalonda Ivers and Madison is the daughter of Kevin and Stacey Wilson.

Giddy

"Little Sally Walker walking down the street." Lacy Leonard tries to confuse Taylor Melton as he imitates her movements during one of the skits. The other participants in this skit watched wondering if they would be the next one picked to be in the center of the circle.

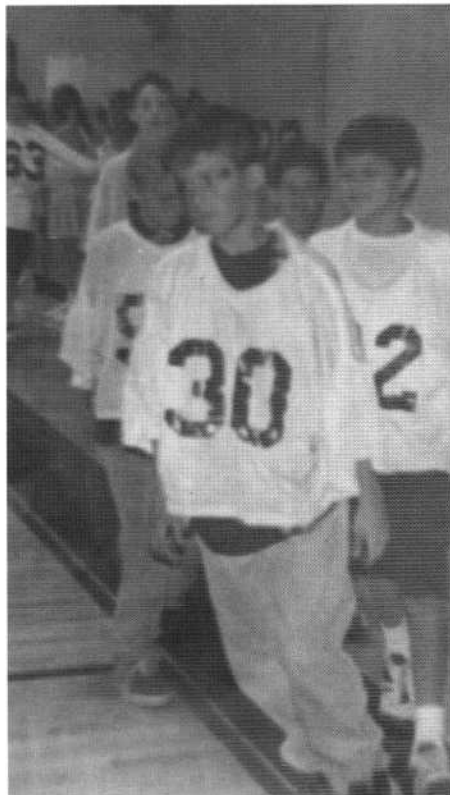

Build That Spirit Up!! The eighth grade cheerleaders show off their talent as they form an intricate pyramid. The other cheerleaders who were not involved in the pyramid helped lead the crowd in a cheer while it was being built.

VICTORY!!! After each pep rally the seventh and eighth graders gather in the middle of the gym to shout the victory cry one more time before the game. With feet stomping and voices roaring, the junior high could be heard throughout the halls of the high school.

The seventh grade football team strut their stuff as they begin the pep rally. Each week the football players walked the perimeter of the basketball court before taking their place in the crowd. The seventh and eighth graders each took turns being the first to take their walk around the gym.

Building UP Spirit

Seventh and eighth graders worked hard each week to get teams pumped up for game

Panther Pride, Let It Show! The seventh and eighth graders lead everybody through a cheer to get the spirit flowing. Each week the cheerleaders worked very hard to have a great pep rally that would entertain everyone.

The Junior high pep rallies were the loudest in town. Their spirit rattled the walls of the high school building each Thursday. The privilege of getting to be the first in the lunch line for winning the spirit stick is one thing that drove each class to try and out do each other. Each Thursday high school students could be seen at the doors of the gym watching the enthusiasm that came from each and every student.

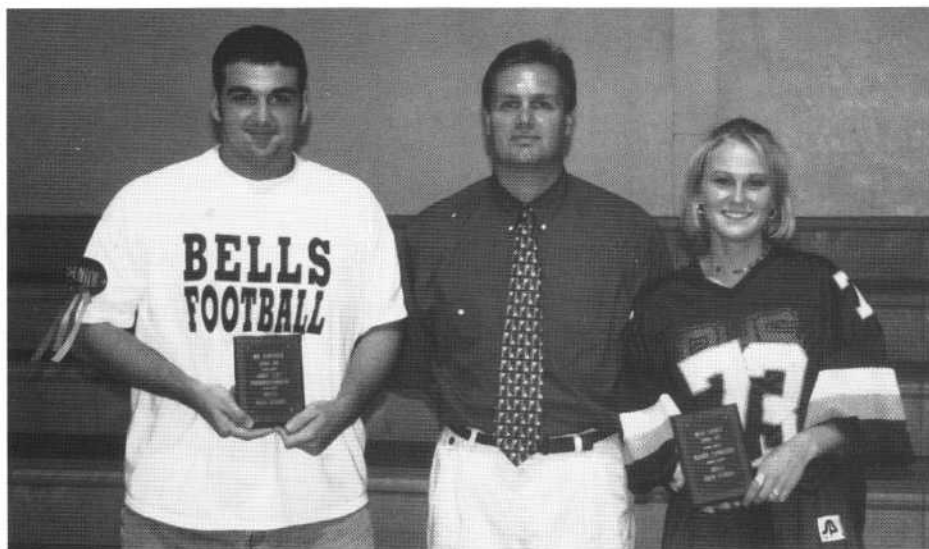

We are the loudest!! The eighth graders scream the victory chant at the top of their lungs in the effort to win the spirit stick. The spirit stick was awarded to the class that showed the most spirit throughout the pep rally and was the loudest when competing for the spirit stick at the end.

Keely Tillman shows off her flexibility while being held up by fellow eighth grade cheerleaders. Throughout the year the cheerleaders did many difficult stunts during their cheers.

Filled with emotion. Heather Nobles embraces her mother after she told an amusing story from Heather's childhood. Tears rolled down the cheeks of the Seniors as their mothers or fathers told their heart felt stories of each senior's childhood.

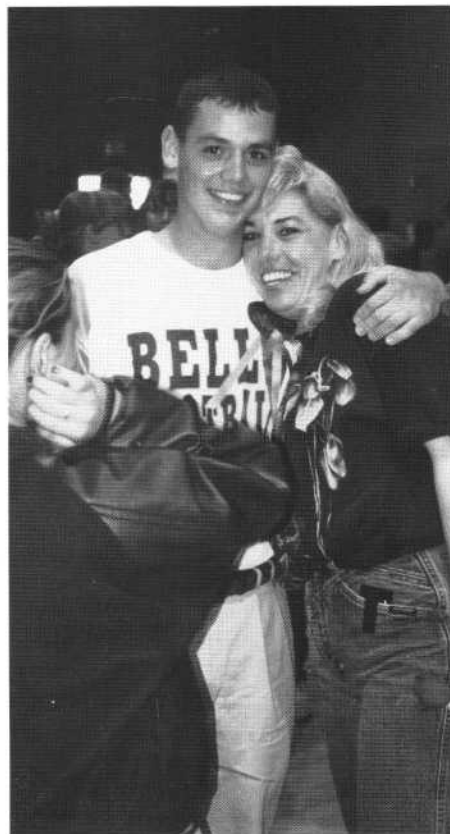

Just tell us what you want could have been the motto for this year's sign committee. Each week Maranda Baggs, Casey Carr, Kim Anderson, and Dana Doyle produced a sign for the pep rally. Each sign went along with the theme that the cheerleaders had planned for the pep rally. Much time and hard effort was put into making each sign by the sign committee and Ms. Wynema Adams. Thanks girls!!

The award for Mr. and Miss Spirit was awarded to Josh Poormahammadi and Mandy Lankford by Principal Joe Moore. Mr. and Miss Spirit are chosen each year by the members of the Varsity Football Team, Varsity Cheerleaders, and Drill Team members.

Like mother, like son. Robert White and Ms. Carol White pose for a quick picture after the parents night pep rally. Robert and his mother are two of a kind—always ready to lend a helping hand and a smile can always be found on their faces.

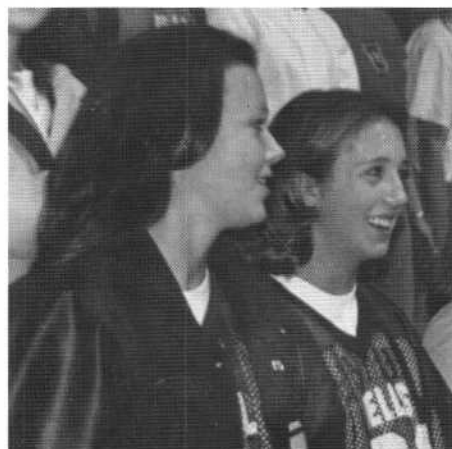

Pump it UP

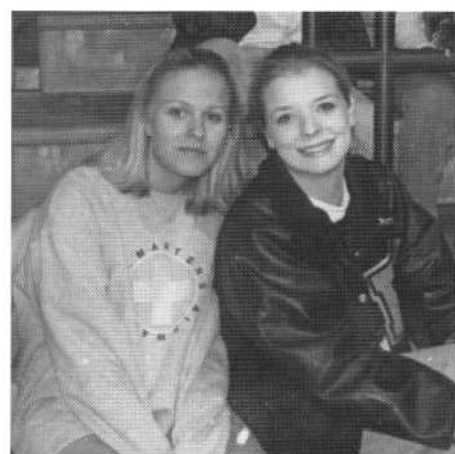

Much planning and effort went in to making each and every pep rally a blast of fun

Sophomores Jentry Jeffrey and Brittnei Sears help build up the spirit at the high school pep rally. The sophomores were a massive force of spirit that could be heard throughout the gym each week. There was not a drought in sophomore spirit.

Who are these funny looking people? The mothers of the senior athletes put on an excellent skit for their children before giving their speeches. They danced to "Do you love me?" in front of the athletes and grabbed them out of their seats so that the whole crowd would know whose mother was who.

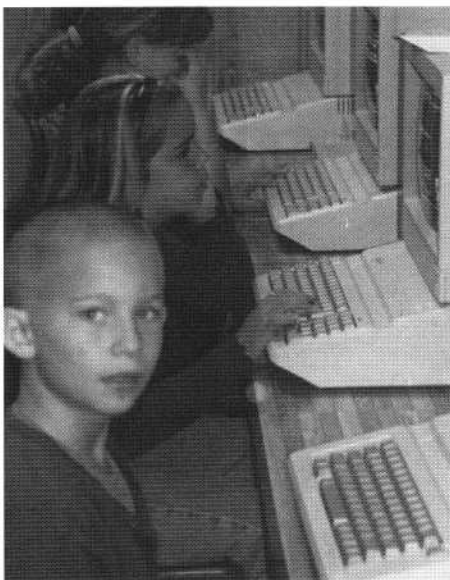

Members of the Varsity Football Team Eric Payne, Lee Fuqua, Josh Poormahammadi, Dustin Burden, Joe-Allen Hitsman, Patrick Crites, Jake Hartline, and Sam Babb join in front of the sign at the end of the last pep rally of the year and several students last pep rally as a Bells High School Student. Emotion filled the air in the gym as the seniors filed out the gym doors.

Juniors Christen Cory and Amy Mahan pose for a quick shot before their cheering abilities are needed. Christen and Amy, along with the rest of the juniors, combined with the seniors during the pep rally to help the Seniors win the spirit stick. The junior and senior classes were both too small to win the spirit stick on their own so they cooperated like they have been taught so well and succeeded in their goal to win.

Don't Start. This is the six graders' motto during Red Ribbon week. Joanne Kremer, Grant Moore, Marlee Leonard, Marrisa Fuqua, and Kevin Crouse were just a few of the sixth graders who marched in the parade.

We have a winner! Sarah Neal won the award for Junior Age Reserve Champion Clothing in the competition held in March at Loy Lake.

Technology!!! It is coming so fast even our fourth graders are having to learn how to use computers. Kelly Zabel and Mandi Worthington worked on keyboarding skills to prepare themselves for the future.

Play Time! Christopher Davidson, Paul Richardson, and Jennifer Ransom play with their toy cars during playtime at Pre-K.

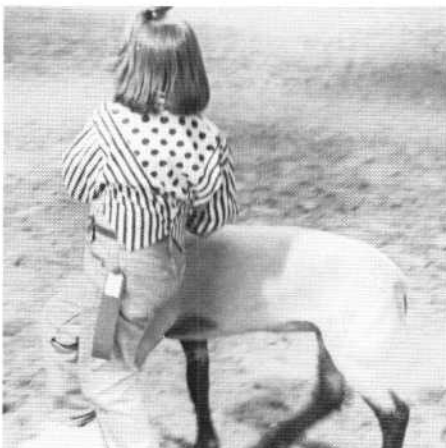

A Day In the Life of an Elementary Student

I'd Rather Eat Bugs Than Do Drugs! This is the motto of many young children during the red ribbon week. The children made banners to carry the day of the parade.

Just say no!!! McGruff teaches the elementary kids an important message during red ribbon week. Leading this pack of young ones was Jacob Tesney followed by Amanda Isley, Brice Goracke, Dylan Moore, Doyle Cunningham, Mrs. Michelle Benny, Megan Moore, Kailey Alderson, Emily Snell, and Cody Stern.

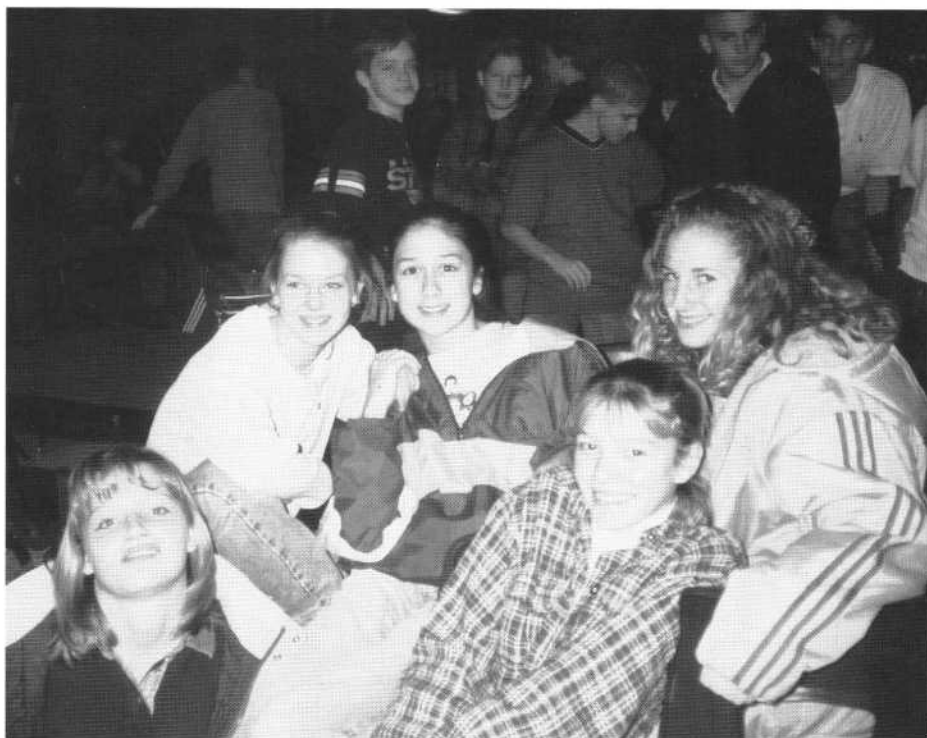

How Cute!!! Sara Saltzman walks her lamb around the arena for the judge to see. While walking the lamb around the arena, Sara had to keep it's head held high and walking at the right speed. Many hours of hard work went into preparing for the show. Sara and other elementary students participated in 4H and Junior FFA.

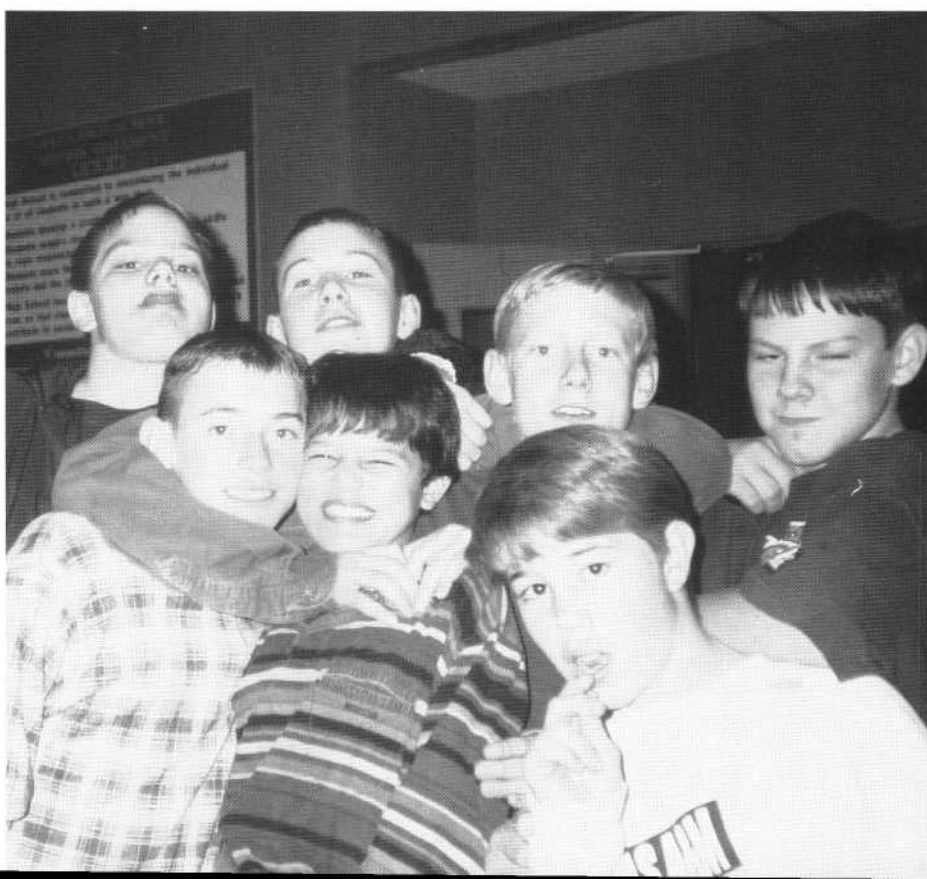

PJH STUDENTS CAN HARDLY WAIT TO GET TO HIGH SCHOOL

Sarah Hill, Katie McMinn, Jessi French, Jordan Jeffrey, and Keely Tillman show off their pearly whites. These eighth graders have been friends since the sixth grade and will be friends until they are seniors.

BEST BUDS! Shane Stone and Daniel Robinson enjoy their last year of junior high before they graduate eighth grade. They have been looking forward to high school for two long years.

Bunch In! Nathan Hansen, Roy Riley, Daniel Robinsin, Joe Garcia, Aron Wimpee, Chris Armstrong, and Dusty Taylor bunch in close to get a picture of their group. When they get to high school, they want everyone to know who they are.

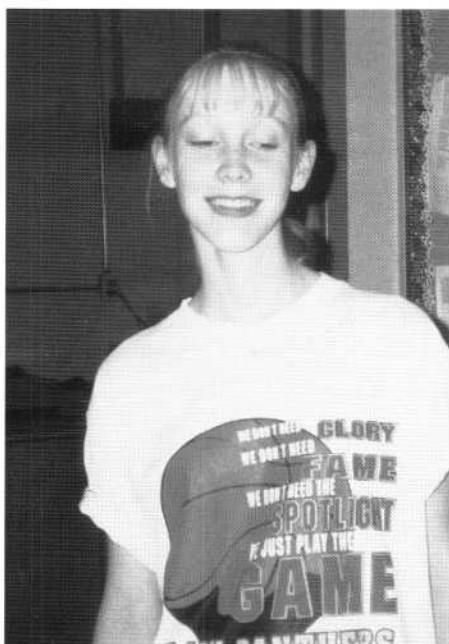

Sarah Hill, Lindsey Haislip, and Tiffany Presley chow down on hamburgers and french fries. Hamburgers are their favorite cafeteria food--wonder whether they'll say the same next year in high school.

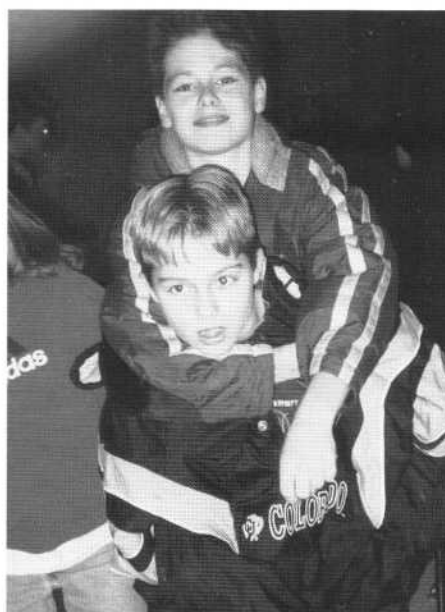

Stephanie Cline, Misty Nobles, and Loren Haase enjoy a short break from school while they eat lunch. They always go back to class with a smile because they know that in two years they'll be leaving junior high.

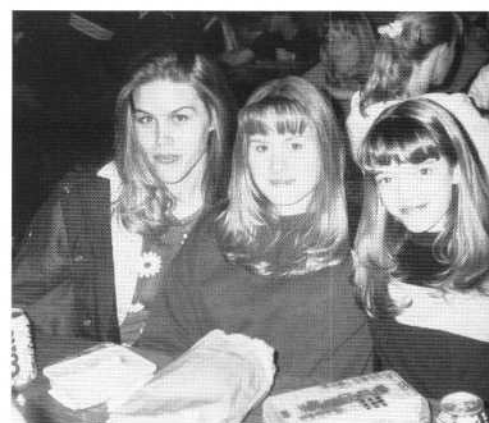

Emily Gray sits in the junior high commons finishing up some work for one of her classes. Emily is really dedicated and gives 110% in all of her classes to prepare for high school.

Amanda Jansen helps Mrs. Shirley Jones out in the library. Amanda likes to help anyone who needs it and hopes that next year when she gets lost in high school there will be someone to help her.

Casey Worthington gives Timmy Carr a piggy back ride back over to the junior high after lunch. They both had fun goofing off together in the hallways between classes.

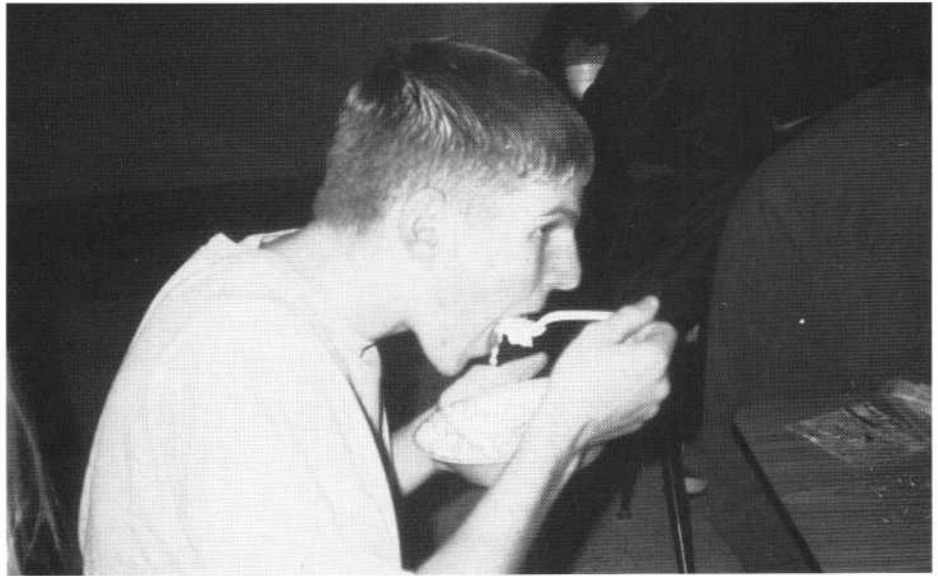

Cacey Tapera, Ashley Nobles, and Ashley Weeks eat their lunch with the rest of the junior high students. They often wondered if they would still be friends in high school--then agreed they would.

BHS Students Livin' It Up!

Choices, Choices! Joe Washburn can't decide what he wants for lunch. Most of the time Joe purchased his lunch from the vending machine.

See Food! James Muldoon enjoys his lunch as he talks to his close friends in the cafeteria. James usually had a salad and a tea from the cafeteria for lunch each day.

Group Hug! Kristen Cory, April Almaguer, Billy Pedigo, and Kari Herod take a quick break during World History to talk with friends. They are studied about Jerusalem and the Crusades.

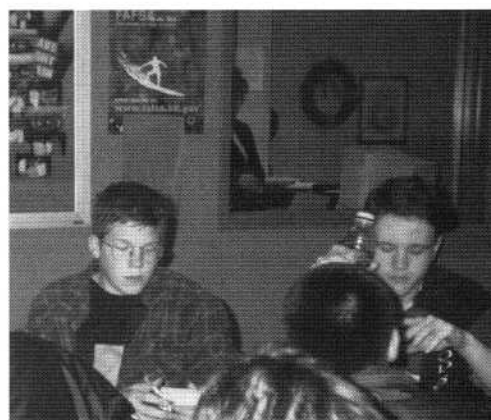

Cristi Paige patiently waits in the lunch room for her friends to arrive. Cristi had managed to escape picture day, but we still got her on film.

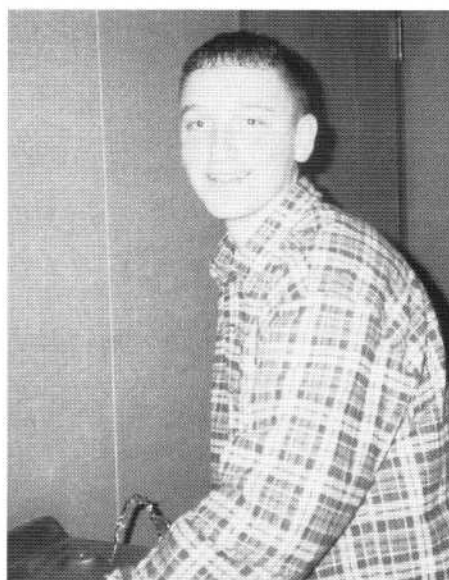

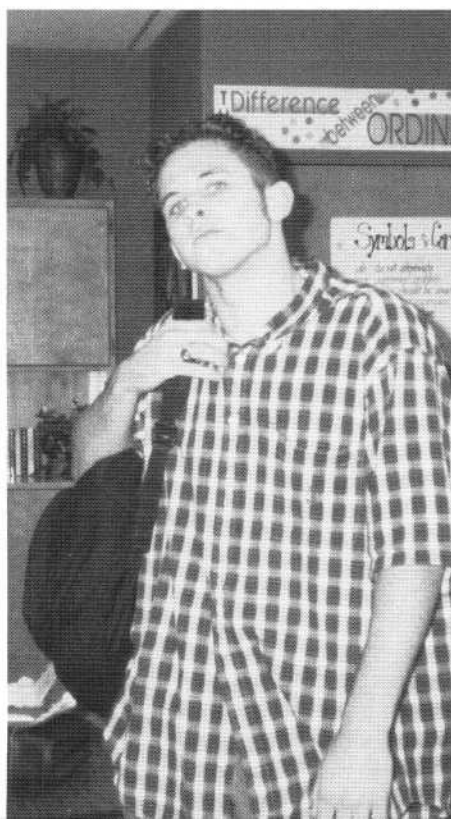

Sandy Keitz and Jason Reeves work on fashion design while they wait for their seventh period English class to begin. They both enjoyed the book they read in that class.

Deck the Halls! Bethany Ewton and Vanessa Novak show off their singing ability. Bethany is a soprano, and Vanessa is an alto for the Bells Belles and Beaus select ensemble.

Matt Driggs sits with his friends during "A" lunch. The athletes ate first lunch to encourage them to dress faster after athletics.

All That! Patrick Crites has nothing better to do than just stand there and wait for the bell to ring. He had a hard day in English concentrating on the book he was reading, The Scarlet Letter.

Thirsty? Jacob Ewton stops to get a drink between classes. That was often his preferred hangout.

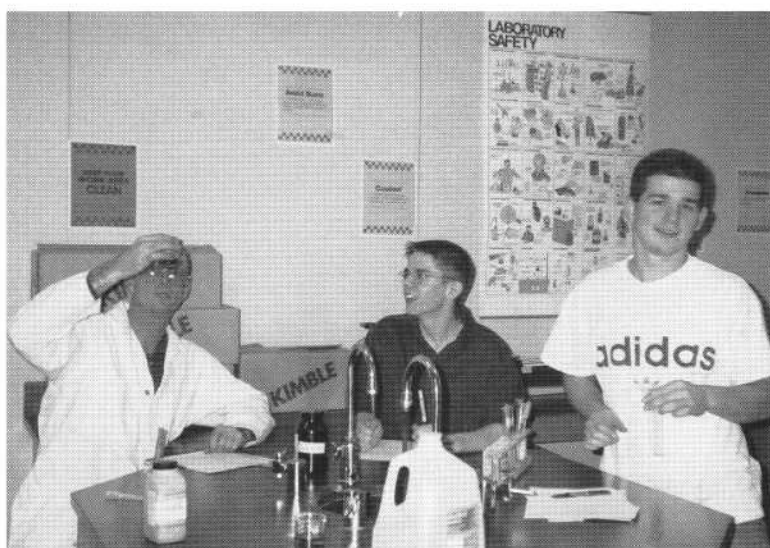

Caleb Youree and Luke Mahan sit and talk before it is time for them to show. These two kept the crowd entertained while they waited for their main heifer class to be called to the arena. Caleb and Luke were full of interesting stories to tell their friends after their weekend in Ft. Worth.

Grant Moore holds the microphone for each Veteran as they introduce themselves. Grant was the Student Council Vice-President.

Taylor Trainor, 1997-98 Bells FFA Treasurer, gives the prayer before the meal at the FFA banquet. It has slowly become a tradition to have Bar-B-Q served each year at the banquet.

Do you think it is going to explode? Mr. Randy Taylor, Ross Chlapecka, and David Christman watch their experiment in the science lab. During chemistry class, where it is the easiest to blow up an experiment, Mr. Taylor stressed the importance of being careful in the lab.

"Let's hear it for the boys!" Alisha Groves, Rachel England, Amy Mahan, Jennifer Halliburton, Renatta Neal, Alisha Hall, Tabitha England and Jennifer Mortensen gather together for a picture in the outfits they plan on wearing for the lip sink contest at yearbook camp. The girls lip sank to the song "Let's hear it for the boys!" from the sound track of Footloose. Yearbook camp was a time for the staff to get to know each other a little bit better, let loose, and have fun.

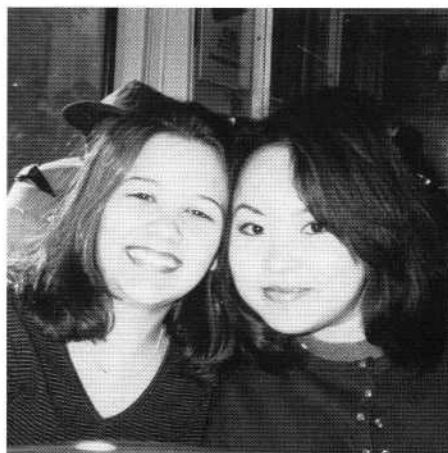

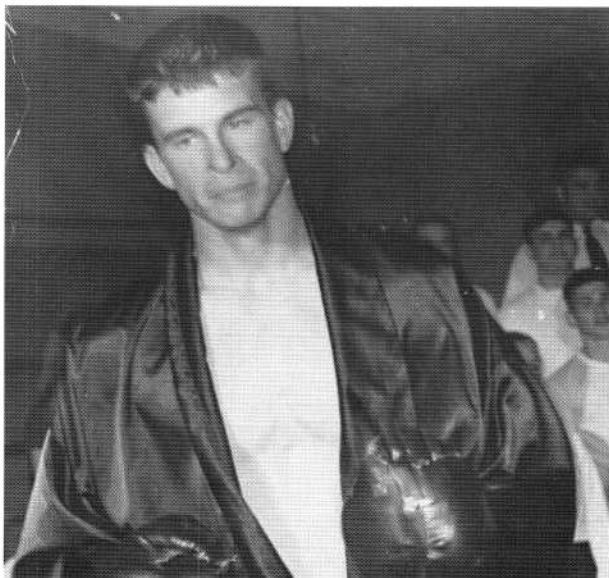

Facing the Challenge

Bells High School stands above the rest when it comes to academic success. For five years Bells has successfully defended their title as the District UIL Champions. FFA had the third place Junior Conducting team and the Fourth place Senior Conducting team at state level competition. G/T students along with student council members participated in an area wide campaign against a proposed law that people could not get a driver's license until age seventeen rather than age sixteen. The quality of their speeches earned the participants a trip to Austin to view the legislative process. The atmosphere at Bells I.S.D. is focused on excellence in all areas of competition.

"Oh say can you see..." The Bells Belles and Beaus sing the National Anthem for those at the Veterans Day assembly. Chills ran down the backs of some audience members as they remembered those who had died in war for them.

Angie Youree and Aika Hibi pose for a picture during their train ride to the West End for lunch and to shop during a break at the Beta Club Convention. Angie and Aika were both first year members of the Beta Club.

Jake Waldrip plays the part of Rocky in the 1997-98 Spring Choir Concert. The spring concert had a rock and roll theme.

Five Years of Excellence

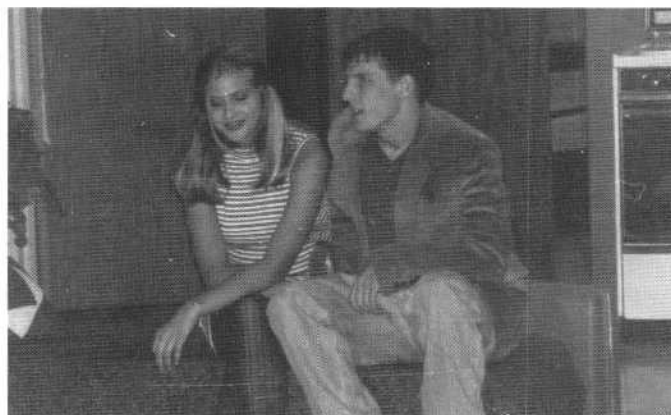

Crimes of The Heart

A One-Act Play

The One-Act Play cast members of Crimes of The Heart were Leslie Key, Elizabeth Lewis, Kristen Kirks, Kyle Metcalf, Valerie Sexton, and Chris Hyepock. This group of hard-working students practiced long and hard to get it right. Performing in front of an audience did not shake this tough group. While helping one another stay focused and remember their lines, they learned the true meaning of the word "team."

Back-stage, working with equipment for the play, Chick (Valerie Sexton) inspects the work of Brandon Simmons and Brian Williams. Without them the play would not have gone so smoothly.

"Wanna go take a ride in my truck and look out at the moon?" Oh how sweet he is! Doc (Kyle Metcalf) wanted to go for a ride in the country with the lovely Meg (Kristen Kirks).

Babe (Elizabeth Lewis) and Lenny (Leslie Key) sit on her cot in the kitchen while Meg (Kristen Kirks) stands talking with them. They discuss their granddaddy who was momentarily hospitalized.

Q: What was it like to be a part of One-Act Play?

"It was great! I got a lot of experience out of it, plus it was really fun. Mrs. Lewis was very encouraging; I couldn't have won best actress without her."

Q: What did it feel like performing on stage for a live crowd?

"Performing is always very exhilarating. I really enjoy the faces of the crowd as I act on stage."

Q: What was the one thing that you got out of One-Act Play?

"I enjoyed getting to know everyone. When it was over it was like we were all a big family."

Elizabeth Lewis aka Babe tried to kill herself by sticking her head in the oven and trying to light a match. Babe was interrupted by her sister Meg (Kristen Kirks). She stuck her head in the oven because she had had a bad day.

"Oh, look, Lenny brought my suitcase from home! And my saxophone! Thank you!" Babe said. Meg, Babe, and Chick stood around the kitchen table talking.

Meg (Kristen Kirks) and Doc (Kyle Metcalf) reunite when she returns home to see her sister Babe (Elizabeth Lewis). Doc and Meg pretend they don't remember their past together as they catch up on each other's life.

Babe (Elizabeth Lewis) explains about shooting her husband to Barnette (Chris Hyepock). "Well, after I shot him, I put down the gun, and I went out into the kitchen and made up a pitcher of lemonade."

Gifted/Talented

G/T students challenged by curriculum, instructors, and peers

Ms. Wynema Adams counts money that the G/T students have earned. This money was earned for a trip to Austin. Many of the G/T students along with other student leaders from BHS and surrounding schools represented Grayson County.

Sarah Shearer works on a chart for the play about pollution and how it affects animals. These students completed the entire play and props by themselves.

Tedious Work . . .

Michael Breeden and Jackie Gilmore are working together to produce a play. The play was about the effects of pollution on animals. The puppets that they made for the play were all hand made and very creative.

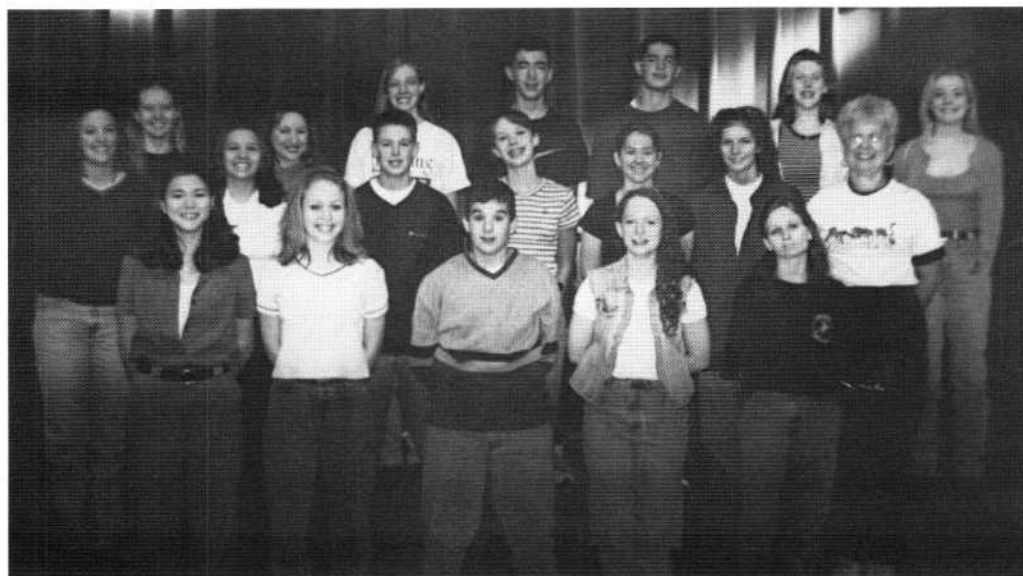

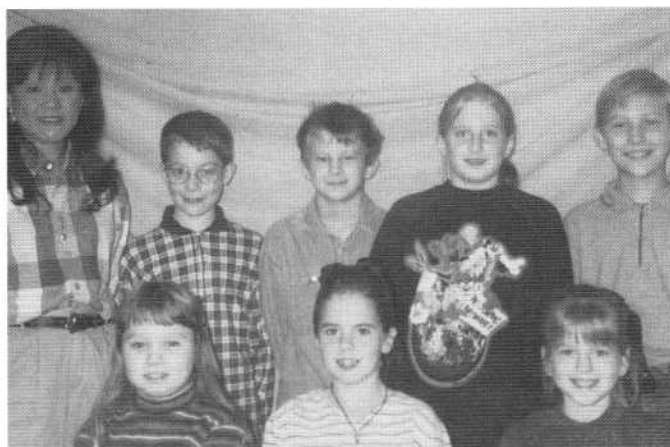

The first and second grade G/T students Katie Montgomery, Joseph Wright, Joey Gilmore, and Doyle Cunningham are shown with their teacher Mrs. Angela Novak.

BETA

Justin Monroe, Clay Rolan, and Jason Robinson try to smile for a quick photo while awaiting service at the Hard Rock Cafe in the West End. The students that went all enjoyed their stay and the new friends they made as well as the good food and fun.

Beta Club isn't something to be taken lightly. Mollie Robinson, Natalie Wardell, Jennifer Montgomery, and Jenny McCarley attended the national convention with sponsor, Mrs. Carolyn Emory.

What?! Brittini Sears pauses in front of a road work sign while picking up trash along the highway. This year the Beta Club adopted two miles of highway between Highway 69 and the high school.

Great Job Liz! Elizabeth Lewis accepts her first place trophy for oratory speaking in Arlington at the State Convention. Elizabeth, along with fellow students, will be traveling to Myrtle Beach this summer for Elizabeth to participate in the next level of competition.

Awe! She's so cute when she's asleep. Mollie Robinson takes a nap in the school van while on the way to Nashville, Tennessee, about a fourteen hour drive from Bells. Mollie, Jennifer Montgomery, Natalie Wardell, Jenny McCarley and Mrs. Emory started very early in the morning for the National Beta Convention held at the OpryLand Hotel in Nashville.

Aren't they a cute couple! Jennifer Montgomery pauses for a Dr. Pepper and a quick photo with her "man" while picking up trash along the highway. Several other Beta members helped pick up trash on an early Saturday morning to help keep our city clean and looking nice.

SMILE! Mrs. Carolyn Emory takes time out of unpacking to get a photo while in her hotel room at the National Beta Convention in Nashville, Tennessee. Mrs. Emory escorted four of the Beta Club members to Tennessee so they could participate in the nationwide convention.

The choir signed to "Silent Night" wearing gloves under blacklights. They worked very hard learning sign language for the Christmas Concert.

O Holy Night!!! The soloists for the senior song are Joe Washburn, Alisha Hall, and Joe-Allen Hitsman. The senior solo was usually sung by the top senior girl, but this year it was a girl and two boys.

Sing It Loud!!!

Go and Tell It!!!

Taking his role as the soloist on "Go Tell It On the Mountain", David Morrow sings with everything he has. He was accompanied by the Bells and Beaus choir ensemble.

Leroy!!!! This redneck reindeer was played by Nate Pettit at the Christmas Concert. The Christmas Concert was held at the high school in the commons area on December 10.

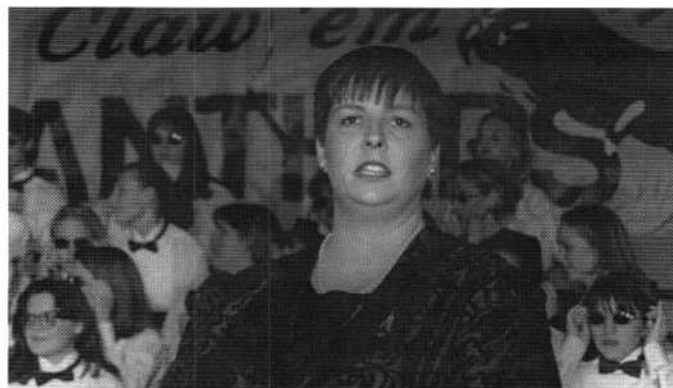

One Bright Star!!!

Patrica Hall sang a duet with (not pictured) Brittany Fuller. It was a breath taking performance having both a soprano and an alto sharing it.

Mrs. Marion Whittemore signed to the song "Mary Did You Know". Mrs. Whittemore visited the choir several times to teach them sign language for the concert.

The 98-99 Bells and Beaus select ensemble members are (first row) Patrica Hall, Maranda Felton, Joe-Allen Hitsman, David Morrow, Brittany Fuller, Alisha Hall, Bethany Ewton; (second row) Jennifer Halliburton, Natalie Wardell, Vanessa Novak, Joe Washburn, Tyler Milton, Alisha Groves, and Mrs. Yalonda Ivers.

Mary Did You Know??

The choir director Mrs. Yalonda Ivers sang her solo to "Mary Did You Know". It has become tradition for her to sing the solo for that song every Christmas Concert. Mrs. Ivers has a very lovely voice that touches peoples hearts.

Whatever Floats Your Boat

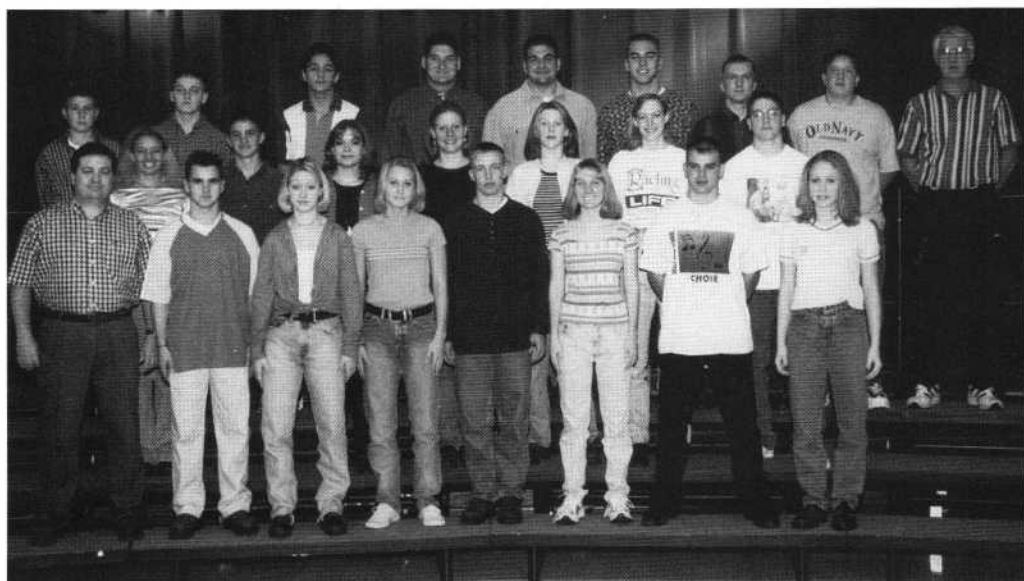

Bells High School has a variety of clubs from which one can choose.

Taylor Melton and Chris Kelly work to repair the wheel after a freak accident out on the floor. They had to get the wheel fixed as soon as possible in order to resume the competition.

The members of the 1998-1999 NT Best Team are (first row) Justin Kelly, Nathan Brown, Taylor Melton, Zack Doty, J. T. Kelly; (second row) Ross Chalpecka, Tiffany Presley, Chris Kelly, Lindsey Haislip, and David Christman.

The members of the 1998-1999 FCA are (first row) Steve Ewton, Joe-Allen Hitsman, Sara Waldrip, Mandy Lankford, Dusty Watson, Natalie Wardell, Daniel Whitley, Bethany Ewton; (second row) Maranda Felton, Mark Traweek, Jenny McCarley, Kim Anderson, Jennifer Montgomery, Sharon Witherspoon, Nick Young; (third row) Brady Reeves, Jacob Ewton, John Garcia, Billy Pedigo, Josh Poormohammadi, Darren Gilbert, Jason Reeves, Randy Neal, and Coach Gary Reeves.

J. T. Kelly and Lindsey Haislip work together to finish the NT Best robot at competition on mall day in Midway Mall. They spent many hours during and after school to prepare the robot for the challenge at the mall.

David Christman holds up the award winning 1998-1999 NT Best t-shirt that he designed. He also holds the trophy he won for the best designed shirt.

The NT Best robot, The Beast, collides with "Squeaky," another team's robot. Taylor Melton and Chris Kelly controlled the robot while competing at Midway Mall.

The 98-99 debate team members are (first row) Jenny McCarley, Lauren Fuqua, Elizabeth Lewis, Jay Duncan ; (second row) K. C. Mullins, Andrew Baldridge, and Nathan Leonard.

Mrs. Lynda Lewis is the proud sponsor of the Bells CX and Debate team. Due to all of the hard work, time, and patience, they were able to compete in several debate competitions.

The High School Student Council members are (first row) Adam Washburn--Freshman Representative, Jordan Blount--Freshman President, Jodie Vellotti--Sophomore Representative; (second row) Jennifer Halliburton--Treasurer, Sandy Keitz--Reporter, Elizabeth Lewis--Vice President; (third row) Billy Pedigo--Junior Representative, Joshua Poormahommadi--President, and Ms. Wynema Adams--Student Council Advisor. Not Pictured are Kristen Kirks--Secretary, Sam Babb--Senior Representative, Mollie Robinson--Junior President, and Jentry Jeffrey--Sophomore President. The BHS Student Council sponsored the Halloween Dance along with many other activities for the student body.

The Junior High Student Council members are (first row) Ashley Weeks--Vice-President, Ben Washburn--seventh grade representative, Jordan Jeffrey--President, Megan Whitlock--seventh grade representative; (second row) Laci Whitlock--Secretary, John Ramsey--eighth grade representative, Jessie French--Treasurer, and Ashlie Nobles--eighth grade representative. The Junior High Student Council sponsored dances for the student body and even took part in allowing field trips for each grade.

Student Government at Bells takes charge!

Linda Evans, elementary principal, speaks at the Veteran's Day program to honor those Veterans that were injured, lost their lives, or were prisoners of war. The Elementary Student Council worked hard to put together a magnificent program for the entire student body.

Trey Neal, fifth grade representative for Mrs. Davis' class, speaks at the Elementary Veteran's Day Program. The entire student government participated in the program.

Memorabilia is set up at the Veteran's Day assembly held at the Bells Elementary School. This helped the students understand the meaning and the importance of the historical event.

Members of the High School Student Council put together a program to honor the Veterans of our society and those whom we remember when we think of honor, allegiance to the country in which we live, and most importantly, those men and women who lost their lives in combat.

Elementary students listen intently as a program was presented in the gym to honor veterans. This program, as well as many others, was put together by the members of the Bells Elementary Student Council.

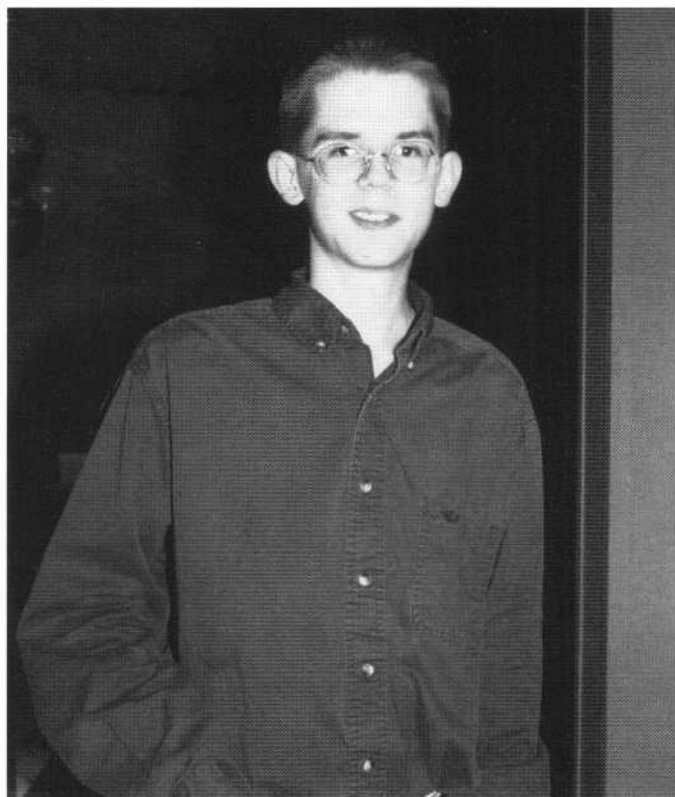

FFA Excels

FFA Students Receive Awards for Dedication and Hard Work!!!

Jennifer Mortensen is awarded a certificate by T. Sears for her outstanding work through out the year in the class and with her projects.

Ross Chlapecka receives an award at the FFA Banquet for his outstanding work both in the classroom and at Loy Lake. Ross's main responsibility was to keep the computers working!!!

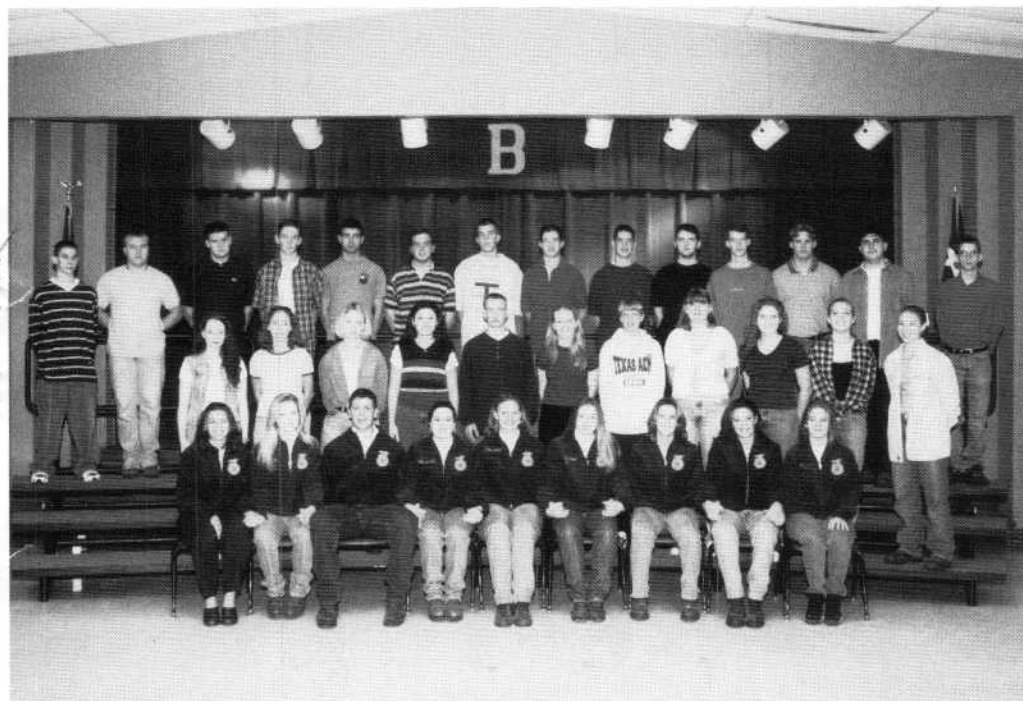

Jenrty Jeffrey is all smiles as she accepts her award for Star Greenhand. Each year this award is given to a first year agriculture student who shows great leadership, responsibility, and active membership in all areas of agriculture. With so many capable students, this was a really difficult decision.

Laramie Dorris shakes the hand of the Bells FFA President for the 1997-1998 year as he earns the hog efficiency award. This award was given because he took excellent care of his hog and its pen during show season.

Kim Anderson, Amy Mahan, and School Board President Billy Neal say a special thanks to the buyer who spent the most money at the Loy Lake 1998 show, Mr. J. V. Lattimore. FFA students greatly appreciated these contributions of many buyers in this area.

Champs - Big & Small

Junior and Senior FFA members
excel in all areas

This year was the first time in Mr. Glen Blount's teaching history that he has trained two chapter conducting teams that made it to state. Both the Greenhand and Senior Chapter Conducting teams placed in the top four at the state contest held at the Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas.

Mrs. Mary Youree

The members of the 1998-99 State FFA Senior Chapter Conducting team are (first row) Amy Mahan, Kari Herod, Audrie Adams, Elizabeth Lewis, Angie Youree; (second row) Courtney Owens, Jentry Jeffery, Jared Kelley, Jason Robinson, and Brittni Sears.

Amy Mahan catches a quick lunch break during the rush at the Fort Worth stock show. It was hard to get something to eat and enjoy it at the show.

Mr. Morris Mortensen does what he does best - - CLIPS! He works carefully to fit this heifer before she enters the ring.

Jared Doyle looks intently at the judge at Loy Lake. Jared was hoping that his Duroc hog would place well enough to make the sale.

Mr. Morris Mortensen

Ouch, that hurts! T. Sears slaps his lamb on the rear to get it to lead right. Obviously, the lamb was startled by this and shows his fear.

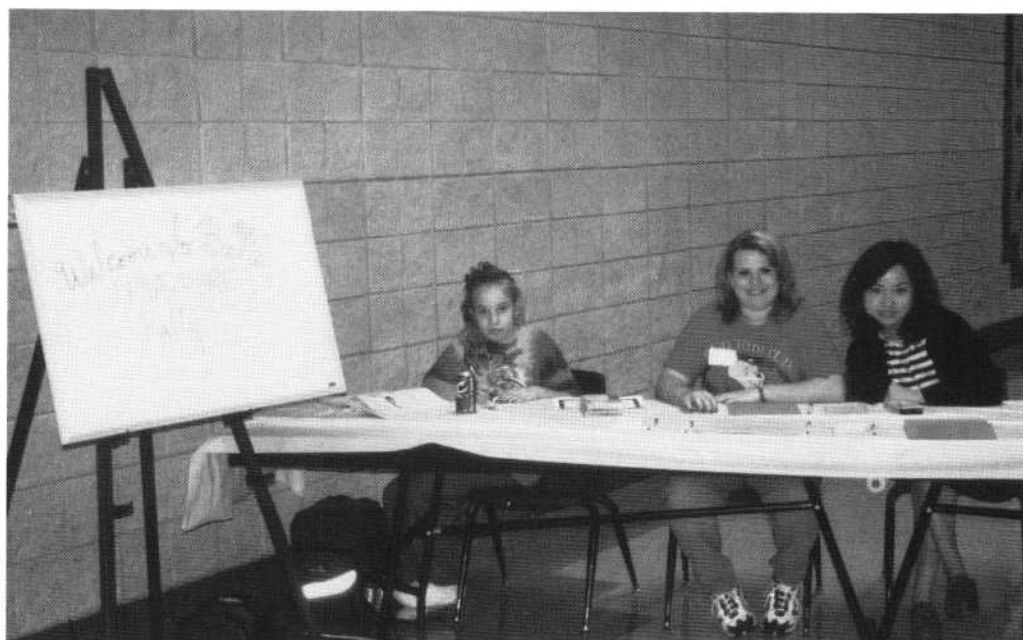

Drew Saltzman, Jake Anderson, Josh Youree, and Grant Moore always seem to find something fun and interesting to do at shows. Here the boys found an unusual place to sit and watch at the annual Bells Local Show which is held each year in preparation for county and to raise money for FFA.

FHA-HERO SPOTLIGHT ON EXCELLENCE

Joanne Kremer, Miranda Hurlbert, and Aika Hibi welcome students from other schools to the Bells FHA rally. Many other schools attended the rally and were welcomed with warm smiling faces from the Bells FHA chapter.

Jenny McCarley makes the opening speech for the Bells FHA rally while the other officers prepare their speeches. Part of Jenny's responsibilities was making the opening and closing speeches.

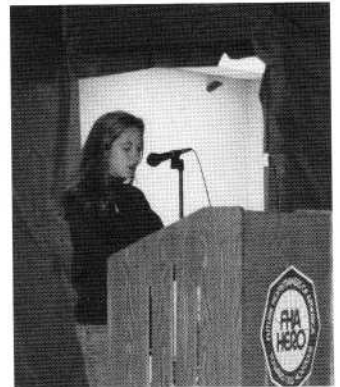

The FHA members were (first row) Patricia Anderson, Cindy Hillard, Amanda Potter, Miranda Hurlbert, Robert White, Billy Pedigo, Jennifer Reynolds, Jacob Ewton, Aika Hibi, Ashley Gray, Jenny McCarley; (second row) Christen Cory, April Almaguer, Amanda Cory, Lindsay Bateman, Annie Kremer; (third row) Lisa Dooley, Shelly Kinsey, Daniel Simmons, Casey Carr, Nicki Christman, Pam Palmer, Natalie Wardell, Cari Page; (fourth row) Ben Sowda, Clint Key, Sam Babb, Shawn Cline, Jay Duncan, Todd Rider, John Garcia, Amanda Morrow, Amber Wardell, (not pictured) Rachel England, and Tabitha England.

John Garcia, Aika Hibi, Jennifer Reynolds, Ben Sowda, April Almaguer, and Miranda Hurlbert, serve refreshments at the rally. Before the rally began everyone was invited to enjoy the refreshments that were provided by the Bells FHA club.

Patricia Anderson is one of the twelve FHA officers who had to give a speech at the rally. She worked together with the other officers to make the rally a great success.

Jenny McCarley and Ashley Gray wait by the microphone to give their speeches. The theme of this year's FHA organization was A Spotlight On Excellence. These two girls felt like they were under the spotlights during their speeches.

Amanda Potter recognizes the Bells FHA guest speaker Karish Gilbert at the banquet. Karish spoke about never losing hope in your dreams to all of the young people at the rally. The banquet was a big success.

The Brains Behind The Book

Each year many hours of hard work and brain racking thought go into producing the yearbook. Saturdays and days after school are spent in the library working on meeting deadlines and printing pictures. This year the yearbook staff had some rough times but still managed to produce a great book for the students and faculty at Bells. The staff had the difficult task of producing the book that would follow the fiftieth anniversary book. Alisha Hall spent hours of her time at the beginning of the year designing and drawing the panthers that are seen on the cover and various other places in the book. Thanks to Alisha the book has original art work that no other book will ever have.

Alisha Groves laughs at something one of the other staff members has said as she prepares to leave the library when her class is over. Many fun times were had in the library while working on deadlines.

Don't Mess With Me!!
Renatta Neal takes film from the dark room to put in the camera bag so that she can take pictures at the junior high basketball games. Renatta could always be counted on when the staff was in a bind and needed somebody to take pictures for them.

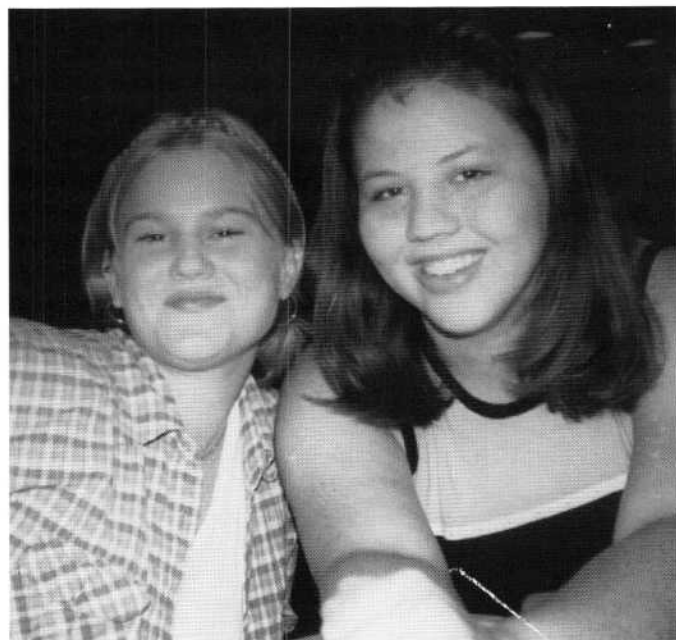

Amy Mahan and Jennifer Mortensen smile for a quick picture before heading to the sidelines to take pictures of the varsity football game. They could be seen with the camera in hand ready to catch any interesting action on film at the home games.

Amy Mahan works on designing a spread at yearbook camp. While at camp the first year students learned about how to design spreads and how to write good captions for pictures. There was much more to putting together a good spread than just putting pictures on a page.

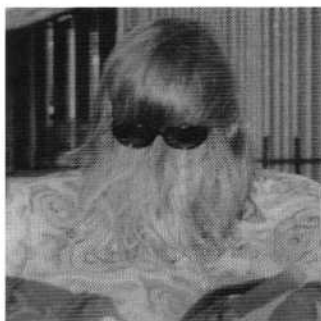

Alisha Hall and Renatta Neal smile for the camera as they wait for one of their classes to begin at yearbook camp. Throughout the week staff members attended several classes teaching them new ways of doing things in the yearbook.

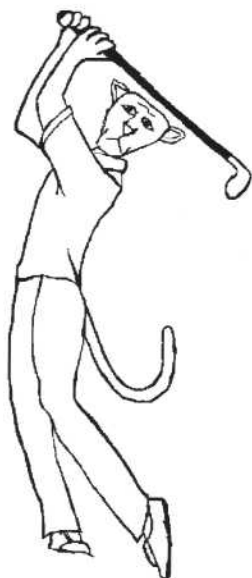

Jennifer Mortensen works hard making corrections on proofs. Jennifer served as editor this year. As editor it was her job to try and make sure that there were no grammar errors made. "This was a very difficult task that I would not have been able to manage if it was not for the help of Mrs. Jones and my fellow staff members. THANKS FOR THE HELP!!!"

Rachel England, Tabitha England, and Alisha Groves concentrate on their papers as they try to help come up with a theme and cover design for the 1998-99 yearbook. After many hours of hard work the staff finally agreed on a theme.

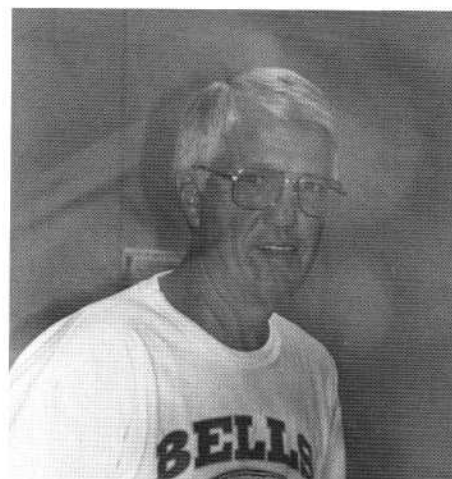

Jennifer Halliburton tries to find the perfect outfit to wear for the talent contest. The yearbook staff let loose at camp and competed in the annual lip sync contest. Though they did not win the staff still had fun showing off the eccentric outfits that they put together.

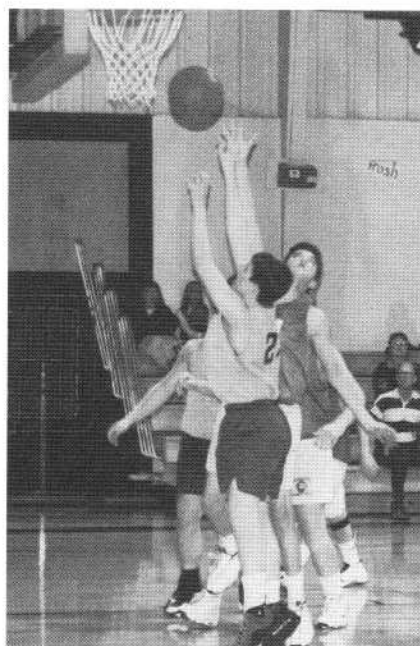

Just trying to have fun!!

Coach Gary Reeves smiles for the camera as he makes his way to his classroom. Coach Reeves is the Athletic Director and the Varsity Football Coach. Even with his busy schedule Coach Reeves still managed to teach an American History class.

B. J. Bradshaw fights his way through his opponents in an effort to gain yardage while Josh Linder and Matt Montgomery block for him. The eighth grade did not give up and always worked together despite a few losses.

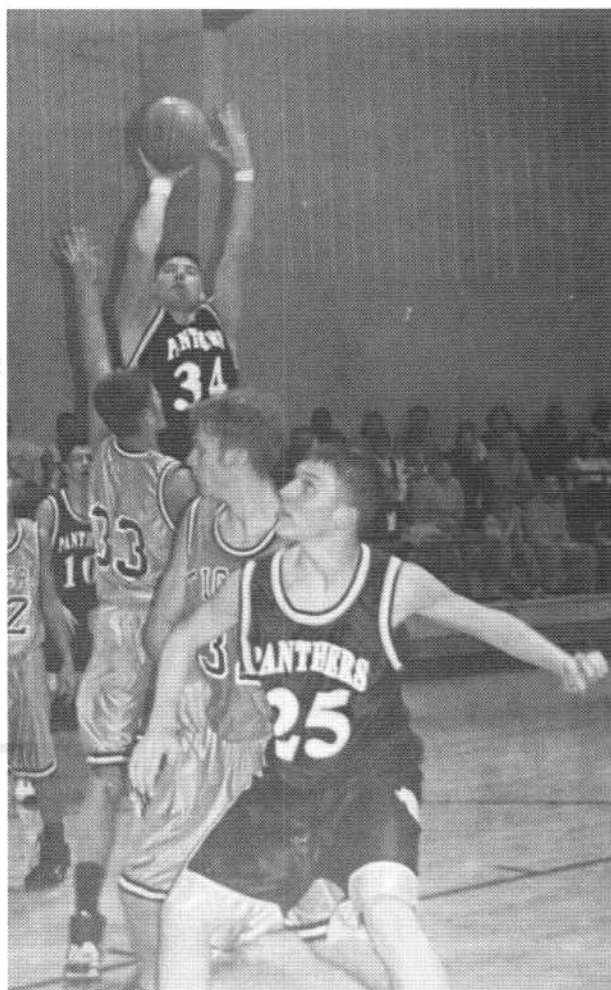

Dusty Taylor goes up against his opponent for two points at the Leonard game. The seventh grade boys had a very interesting season since it was their first time to all play together as a team.

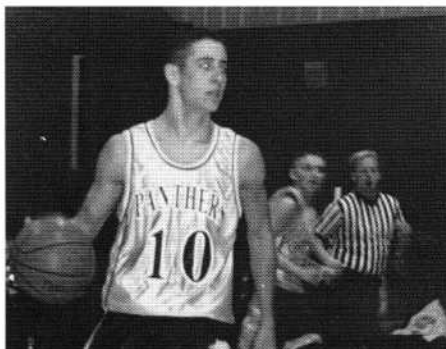

How do you like this move? Sam Babb shows off his moves while waiting for his event to start. It was not always all work and no play at the track meets, the athletes had time between events to sit with friends and talk.

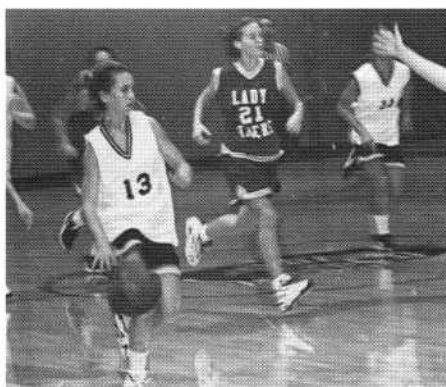

Ryan Ellison accepts his award for his participation in the Special Olympics at the athletic banquet from Mrs. Jeannie Brem. Ryan won numerous awards throughout high school for his participation.

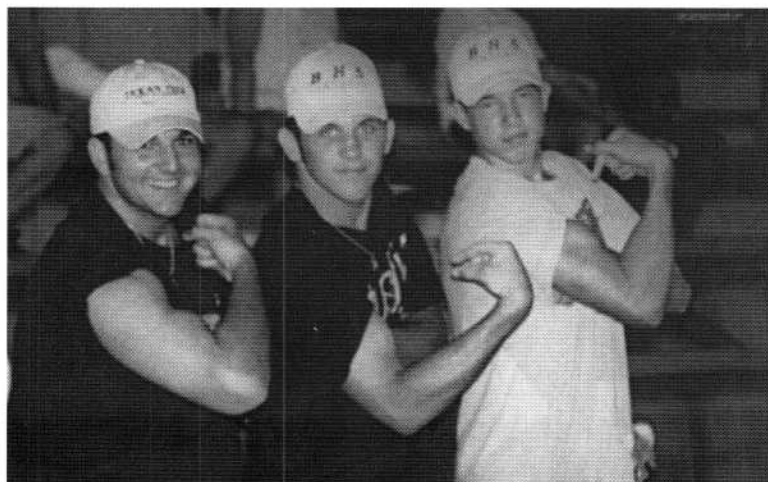

Billy Pedigo put it up for two at the Whitewright game while Troy Leonard blocks out Nathan Smith of the Whitewright Tigers. This was a very close game between the two teams and some heated debates could be heard from the stands as the referees made their calls. The Bells Panthers came out of this match with a victory over the Whitewright Tigers.

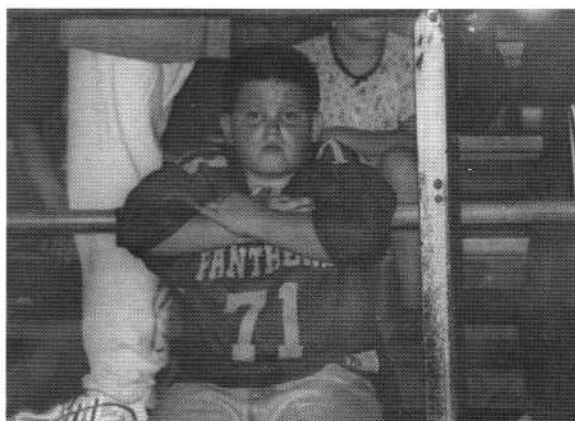

Jake Hartline looks for an open team member as he dribbles down court. The varsity team had several players that alternated out as point guard. Jake was the team's main three point shooter throughout the year.

Jessica Mortensen works her way around the opponent on her fast break for the basket. The J. V. girls had a good season despite the loss of two members to the varsity team. The J. V. was made up mostly of freshman.

The muscles of B H S. That is what Josh Poormahammadi, Patrick Crites, and Chad Brem would like for us to think as they flex their muscles for the camera at a Thursday night game. These three played together every Friday night on the Varsity football team and formed a life long friendship.

Matthew Powers watches the varsity game intently. Every Friday the Bells Panthers bleachers were spotted with the Pee Wee football players in their jerseys. They watched every move their favorite player made on and off of the field and tried to follow in the footsteps of their role model.

FACE OFF

Joseph Whittemore plunges to the earth after trying for the best mark in the long jump competition. Many students tried to imitate people they had seen compete in the Olympics.

Doyle Cunningham races ahead of his competitors Cody Jackson, Ashley Criger, and Lauren Cleveland in the 100 m dash. Ribbons were awarded to each individual who placed first, second, or third in their heat.

Following the Footsteps

Track and Field Day opportunity for Elementary Students to follow in footsteps of older students

Ready, Aim, Fire! Bryce Powers, Wade Azevedo, Morgan Bennie, and Trey Pedigo aim their water guns at their classmates in an effort to get each other drenched. A bucket of water was placed in the center of a circle that had been marked off with flags, and the students were set free to run and squirt each other and their teachers.

Jeremy Taylor shows everyone his running ability as he races down the track in the 100 m dash competition. The 100 m dash was split into different heats that competed against each other.

Brittney Selman practices her hula-hooping before the competition starts. At this station students competed to see who could hula-hoop the longest. Also they divided into two groups for a game of tug-of-war.

And they are off! Karen Hall, Kolton Hall, Brittney Nelson, and Sadie Billingslea compete against each other in the three legged race. Each person picked a partner and five groups raced against each other at a time. The groups raced about 20 yards, went around a cone, and back to the start to see who could work together the best.

Just trying to be a kid again! John Faber shows off his hula-hooping abilities while helping at the Elementary Field Day. The high school athletes volunteered to help lead each class to their stations when it was announced for them to change stations. Many children had the opportunity to talk with their favorite Bells High School athlete.

Jacob Ewton hits the ball high in the air and scores another home run. Jacob's continuous effort throughout the season helped lead the team to many victories.

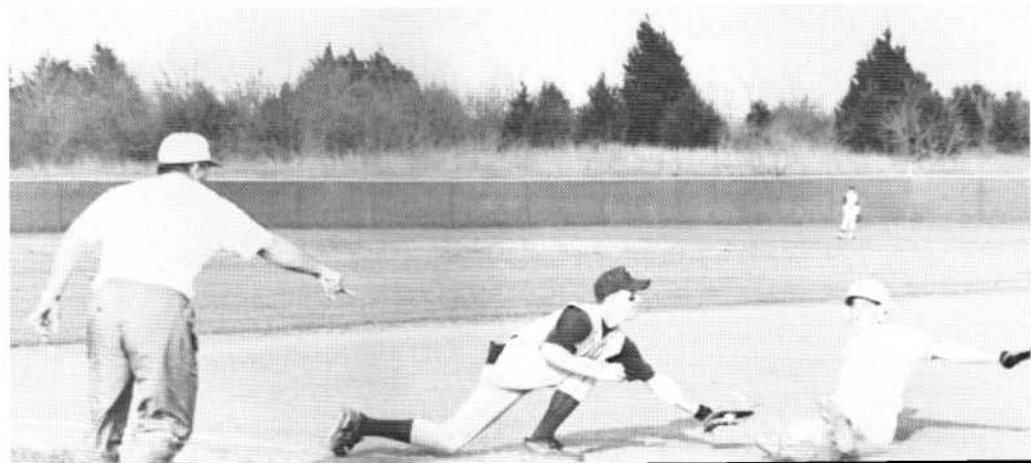

Varsity pitcher, Mason Ewton, gets ready to hit a home run. Mason's hard work and great batting ability helped lead his team in many victorious games. The team greatly appreciated all of Mason's great efforts. Mason was an all-district pitcher.

Patrick Crites throws the bat down as he gets ready to run towards first base. Patrick's great speed and wonderful determination helped him score points for his team.

Jake Hartline races toward the base so he can beat the opposing member and get him out. Jake's great speed and watchful eye helped him to strike many people out. Jake was also named All-District Infield player.

HOME RUN FEVER

The Race is On. Are you Game?

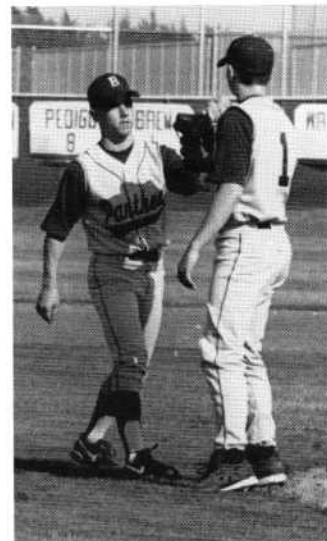

The Bells Varsity Baseball players congratulate each other after another victorious win. The Panthers had a very successful win loss season. Way to go Bells!

Run! Nathan Pettit runs to home base in a hurry to beat the opposing team member. Due to Nathan's great running abilities he helped lead the Panthers in many points throughout the baseball season.

Joe-Allen Hitsman and Jacob Ewton give each other high fives after a job well done. These two boys were an excellent addition to the team as a whole.

Different Shoes for Every Step

Every sport requires a different pair of shoes and an open mind!!

This year set a few records in both softball and in cross-country. The BHS softball team was a new sports event that was offered for the Lady Panthers. Also carrying on the tradition in Cross-Country the girls won the district cross-country meet for the seventh year in a row. Bells had representation in golf and tennis even though the numbers were few.

Maranda Felton listens to a piece of advice from Jennifer Montgomery right before she competes in the J.V. race. Jennifer, despite being worn out, offers information to a fellow team member.

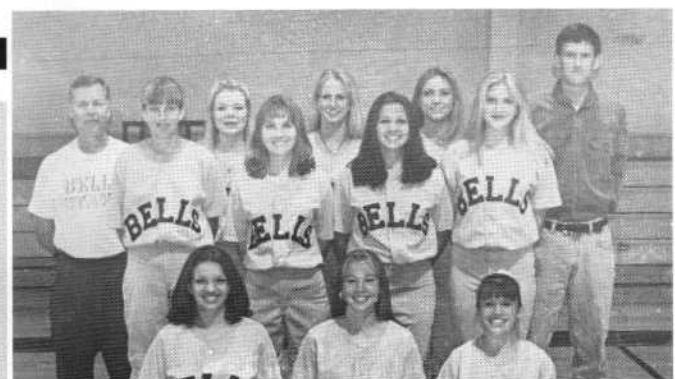

Is it buddy running? Jennifer Workman, Jessica Mortensen, Mandy Lankford, and Jenny Hansen give it their all at the District Cross-Country Meet. They ran in a pack to push one another's abilities.

SOFTBALL

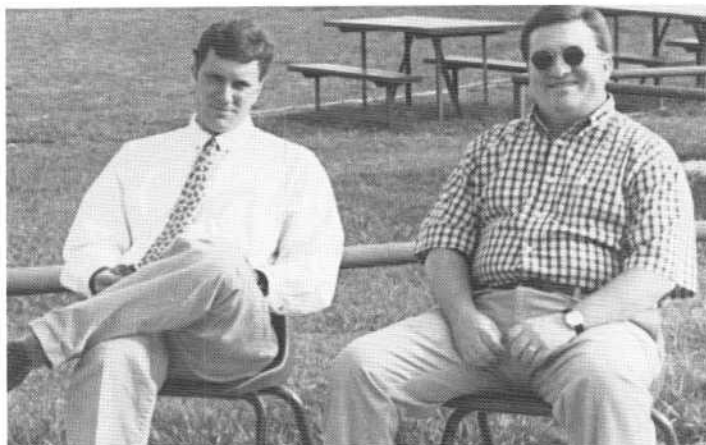

In the Blue Ridge tournament Bells Lady Panthers placed fourth out of about 12 teams. Amy Mahan was selected for the All-Tournament team and received a medal. Coach Rowland was proud of the improvement that was made throughout the season.

The 1997-98 Lady Panther Softball team members are (first row) Maranda Felton, Audrie Adams, Amanda Weeks; (second row) Mandy Watson, Natalie Wardell, Angie Youree, Kristen Kirks; (third row) Coach Gary Rowland, Amy Mahan, Brandi Ring, Jennifer Reynolds, and Coach Jeff Percell. Not pictured are Mollie Robinson and Casey Carr.

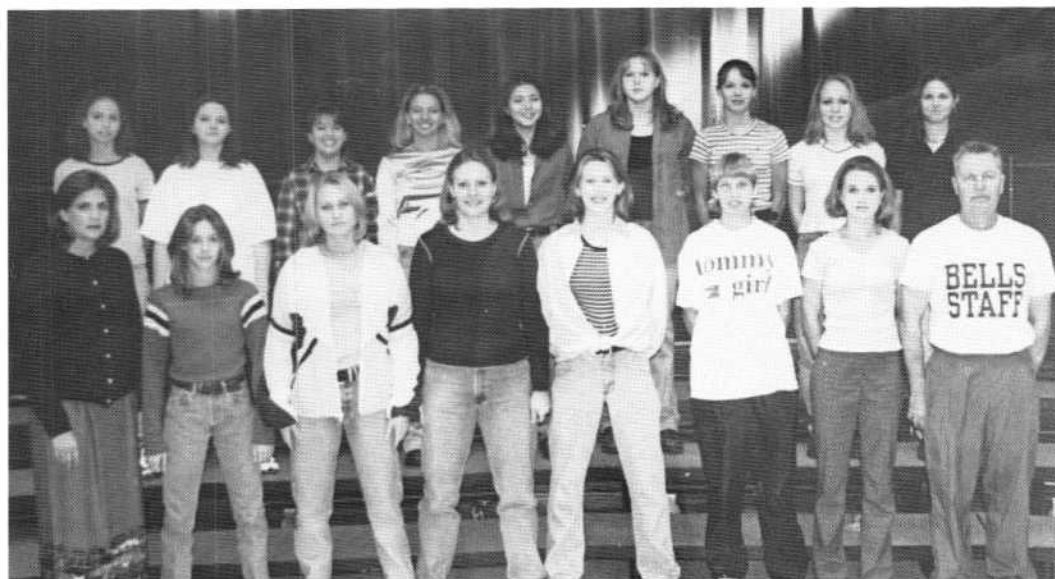

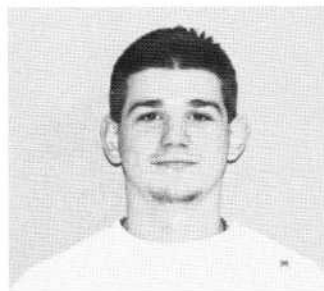

Mr. Kevin Wilson and Mr. Steve Ewton sit and wait for the girls to come by. They are to make sure that nobody cuts out of course lines and to see that everyone is doing all right. Also Mr. Ewton is enjoying watching his daughter run this meet especially since she is a freshman.

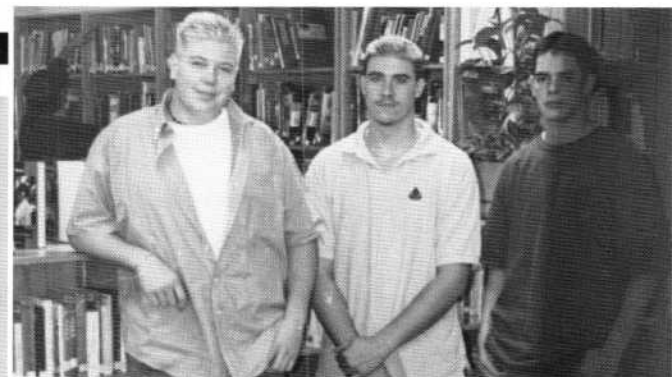

I think I can... Nerissa Willey does her best to keep her strength to pull out a win for herself and the team. She is leading a Howe opponent.

The One and The ONLY!!! David Christman was the only individual who participated in tennis for BHS. David was coach by Ms. Glenda Gilliam and worked hard to improve his skills.

Triple Threat!!!

Lee Fuqua, Jason Williams, and Jason Robinson are the members of the golf team for the 1998 year.

ATHLETES' FEATS

Whether running, jumping, or throwing,
P.J.H. students give 110 %

Go Lonnie, Go! Lonnie Cross is a blur from the stands as he breezes by the competition to the finish line. On his quest to be the best, he put forth lots of effort in his training, and he showed everyone his moves on the track.

Hovering in the air, Jessica Mortensen tries to decide where to land in the BHS sand pit. Jessica was always sure that she practiced her long jump whenever she could so she could give her all to the team.

HURRY UP! Jessi French strives to be best in the 2400 meter relay. After the dust had cleared, Jessi had taken first place.

SMILE! Erica Wimpee, Jenny Hansen, Trisha Corbin, Kanda Kimball, and Deleena James anxiously wait with Christa Carpenter for their event to start.

When the coach says jump, Kory Brown asks how high. Kory had a look of acceleration on his face as he raced to be the first over the hurdles and across the finish line.

I'm going to catch up!
Jason Reeves looks determined to beat his Van Alstyne competitor who's just seconds in front of him. Jason ran the fourth leg in the sprint relay.

Going for regionals!
Angie Youree, Jennifer Montgomery, and Monica Driggs were the 1997-1998 regional qualifiers for the Bells varsity girls team.

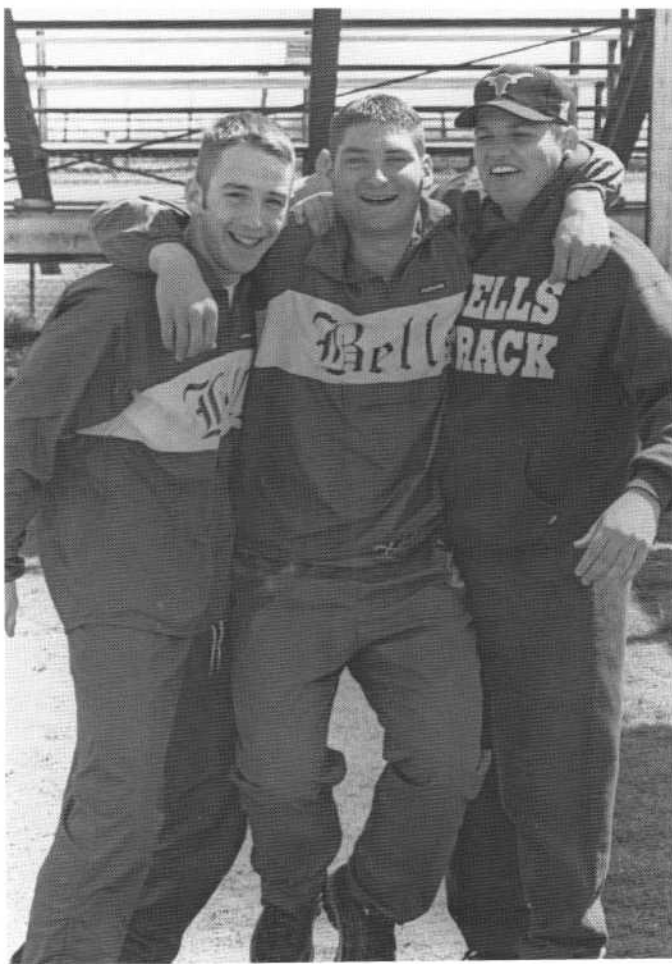

Brandon Simmons runs as fast as his long legs will take him down the Bells track trying to out run his opponent.

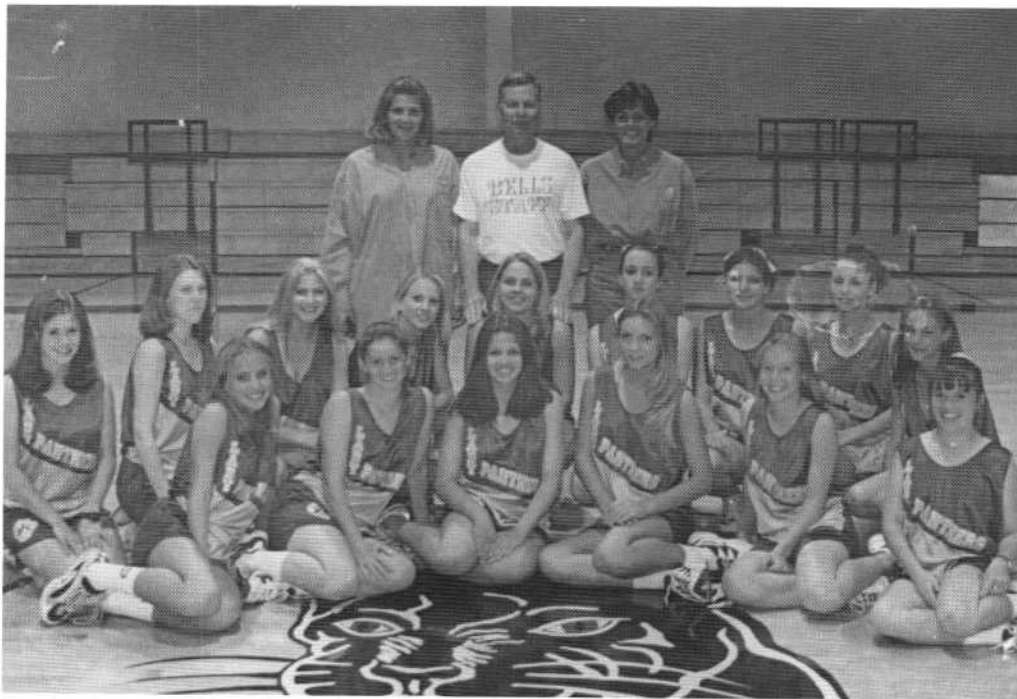

Watch Out! Sonja Williams gets prepared to throw her disc as far as possible in her field event.

Just chillin. Sam Babb, Billy Pedigo, and Clay Rolan goof off between their events at a track meet.

Boys 1997-1998 Varsity track team members are (first row) Dusty Watson, David Christman, Andrew McMinn, Joe-Allen Hitsman, Justin Monroe, Daniel Whitley; (second row) Coach Randy Hitsman, T. J. The Mad Dash

When the energy is right, everyone comes out on top.

Seventh grader David Whitley shows he's not afraid of the competition when he stares him in the eyes. With this determination, he is bound to go far.

Run Nick, run! Nick William's persistence and assurance shines through as he dodges his opponent down the field. Nick was always raring to go when it comes to football.

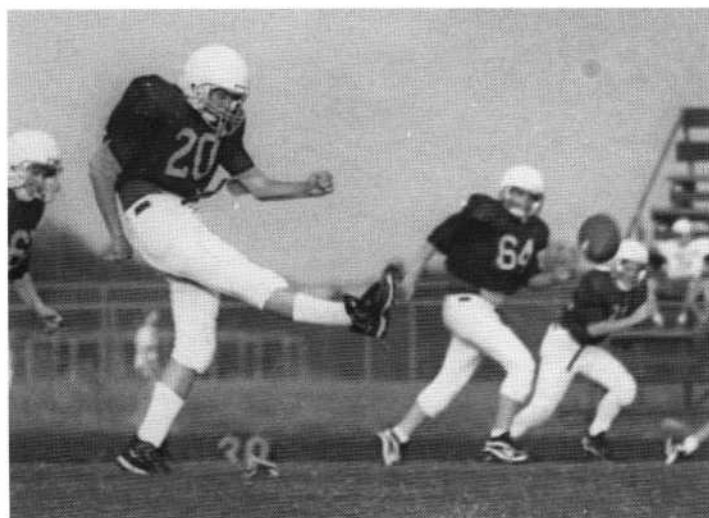

Phillip McGill tears his way through the center of the field and makes a mad dash to the goal line. He was confident that his tactics would see him through.

The 50, the 40, no the 30, and he's going all the way! Jake Wright stands up to the wall of defense as he struggles to get the ball to the end zone. Jake gave 110% to the team.

If you see the ball fly at accelerating speeds down the field, you can be sure it was kicked by Shane Stone. Shane was an active participant on the eighth grade football team this year.

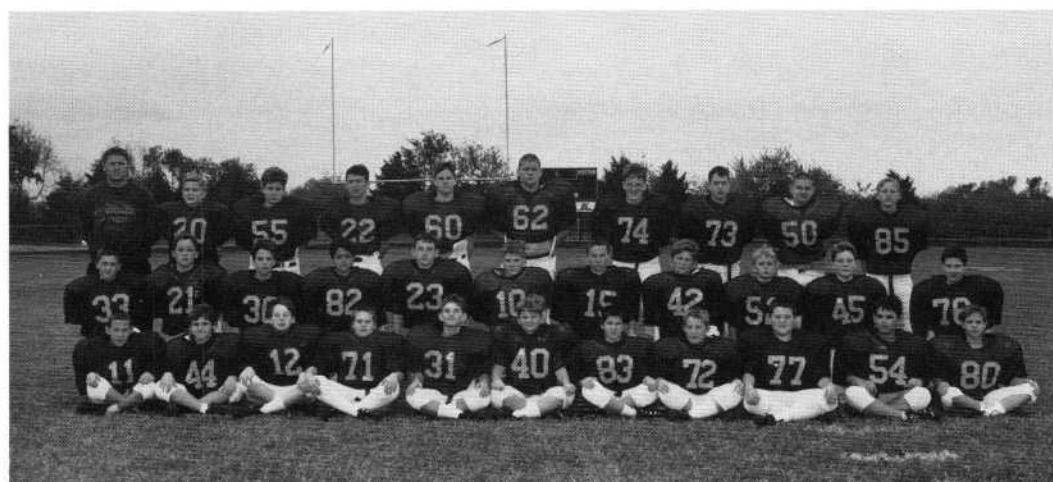

The seventh grade Panthers listen carefully as Coach Charles Means gives them a pep talk. In the third quarter, the score was 0 to 0.

Coach Rod Davis gives instructions on how to carry out the play to one of his team members before sending him out onto the field. Most of the time the coaches gave the plays to the quarterback who would tell his fellow team members.

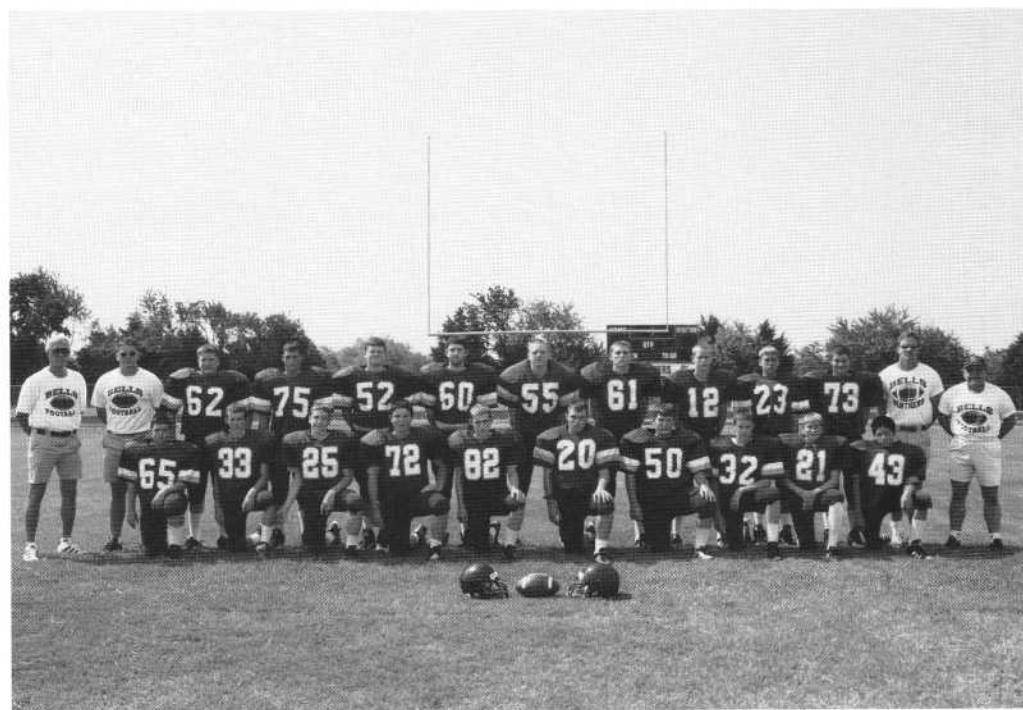

ON THE GO!

Brady Reeves, Cole Kimberling, James Muldoon, Nathan Leonard and fellow teammates hold hands before the next play of the game. By holding hands the boys showed the unity of the team and their willingness to win the game at hand.

Andrew McMinn strolls back to the awaiting huddle to tell his teammates about the upcoming play. By relaying the play to other members of the team, the JV Panthers are able to use their skill and wisdom to win the games they play. They also are able to gain more self-confidence throughout the game, even if it results in a loss.

The Junior Varsity boys begin to take off their helmets as they come off the field for a halftime pep talk. During half time the cheerleaders performed routines and waited for the team to come back onto the field.

The JV team always worked together to obtain a win in district play. Although he was tackled, Nick Young held onto the ball for some quick yardage in the Thursday night game.

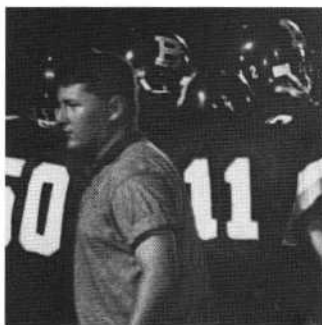

Daniel Whitley rushes to the tackle to be certain the other team doesn't get a score. The JV team fought some pretty hard battles so they had to give it everything they had during each play to attain each victory.

All The Way!

BHS Varsity Panthers
work through a tough season.

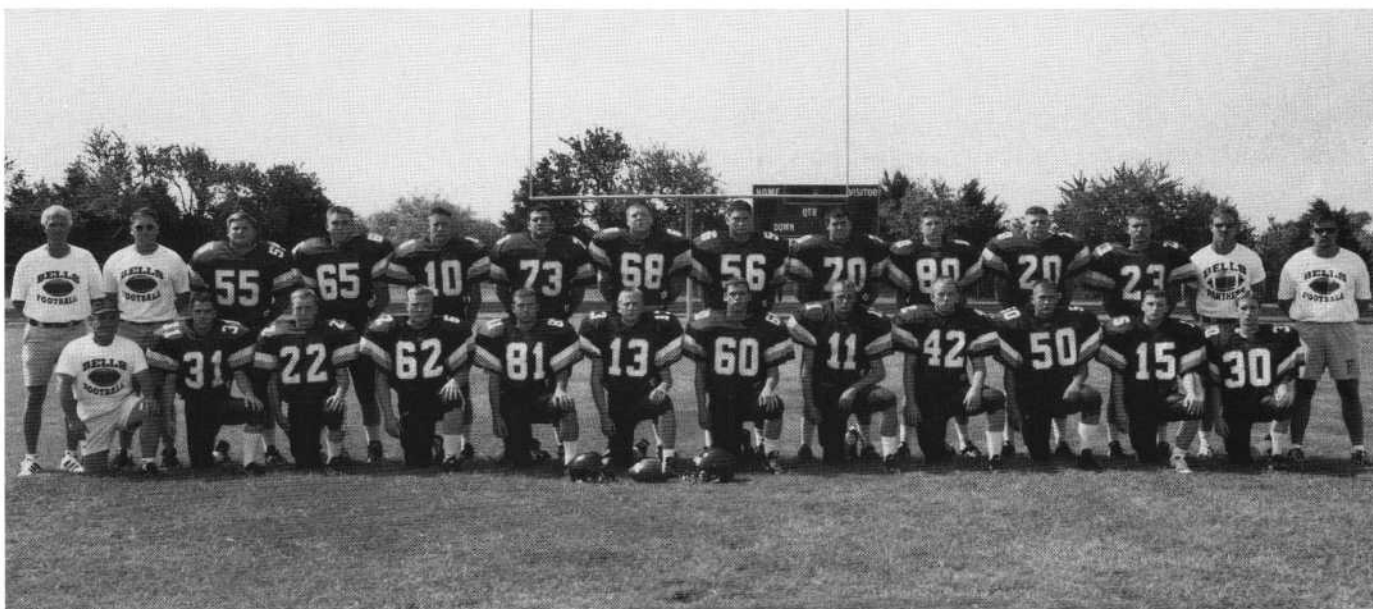

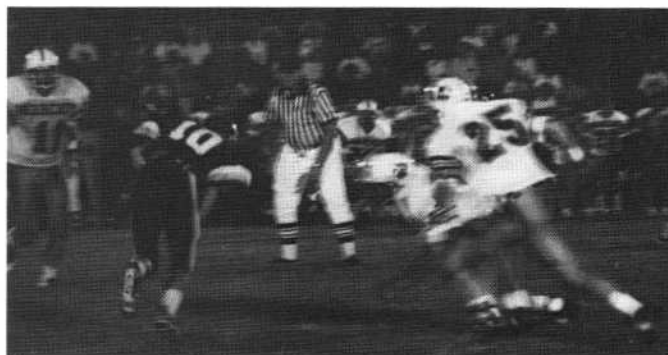

Coach Means walked behind the football players huddled up talking about the strategy on the sidelines right before kickoff.

In the game against Van Alstyne Eric Payne and Dustin Burden run the option. Eric tried to make up the yards in their loss to Van Alstyne 27-22.

In the game against Pilot Point Jake Hartline catches a pass from Eric Payne. The game was fought long and hard but left the Panthers defeated by 41-21.

The members of the 1998-99 Bells Panthers Varsity Football team are (first row) Coach Randy Hitsman, Joe-Allen Hitsman, Dusty Watson, Matt Linder, Nate Pettit, Jason Reeves, Robert White, Dustin Burden, Sam Babb, Laramie Dorris, Jacob Ewton, Andrew McMinn, Coach Rod Davis; and (second row) Coach Gary Reeves, Coach Charles Means, Clay Rolan, Darren Gilbert, Jake Hartline, Josh Poormohammadi, Lee Fuqua, Billy Pedigo, Ryan Kinsey, Chad Brem, Patrick Crites, Eric Payne, and Coach Jim Price.

"We had a pretty good season, with a few bumps in the road, but it will definitely be one to remember."

Robert White #60

"Football gave many young men a chance to find out what they were made of inside, I found out quite a lot!"

Lee Fuqua #68

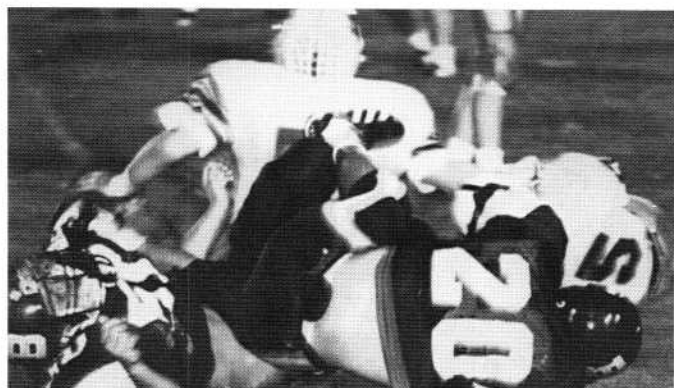

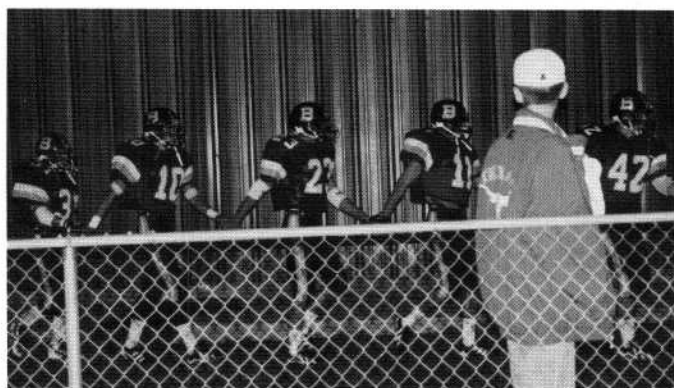

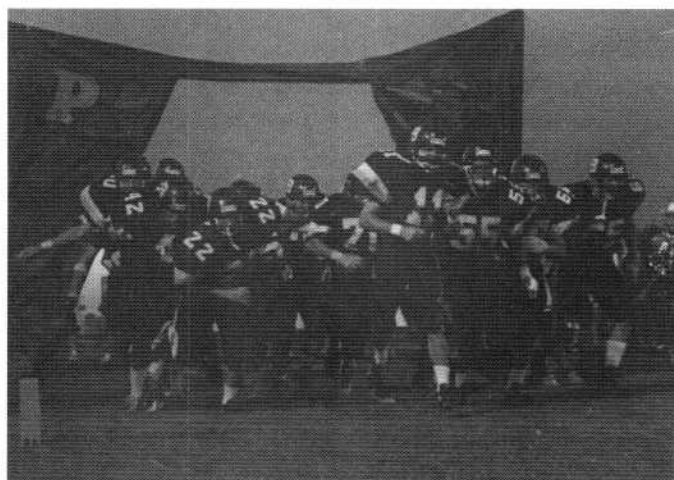

"I think being a part of a football team, this football team, has helped us to realize that we're not just teammates....we're family."

Sam Babb #42

"My favorite thing about football is the feeling everyone gets before taking the field for the play, of the game. (The butterflies in the stomach.)"

Jake Hartline #10

Panther Pride! Dustin Burden leads the Panthers onto the field. The cheerleaders, drillteam, parents, and fans cheered them onto the field before each game.

"This year's football team worked really hard and gave me memories that I will always remember."

Dustin Burden #11

"Football is a good sport! This being a tough year gave us a chance to learn from our strengths and weaknesses."

Ryan Kinsey #70

Dogpile!!! Josh Poormohammadi and Billy Pedigo jump upon their Bearcat opponents in a gruesome tackle.

Despite the bad luck, injuries, and misfortune the 1998 Panthers football team fought all year long and just missed another trip to the playoffs. Their true character came to the forefront all year.

Laramie Dorris and Patrick Crites make a tackle against Pilot Point in this play. Despite their valiant efforts, the Panthers lost this battle.

"Even though I only played 2 years, I'll miss it. The team unity was good... winning was better."

Need Cheer Help ? -- BHS to the Rescue

BHS Cheerleaders Earn Spirit Award & An All-American Cheerleader too!!

1998 was an interesting year for BHS cheerleaders. Head-cheerleader Brandi Ring moved. By agreement of the remaining cheerleaders, Mr. Moore, and Mrs. Owens, the decision was made to bring in the next highest scoring girl from tryouts, Brittany Fuller. To serve as a head cheerleader Mrs. Owens decided that the three seniors would alternate. The cheerleaders worked hard each week to prepare a great pep-rally and have lots of spirit at the game despite the obstacles they had to overcome.

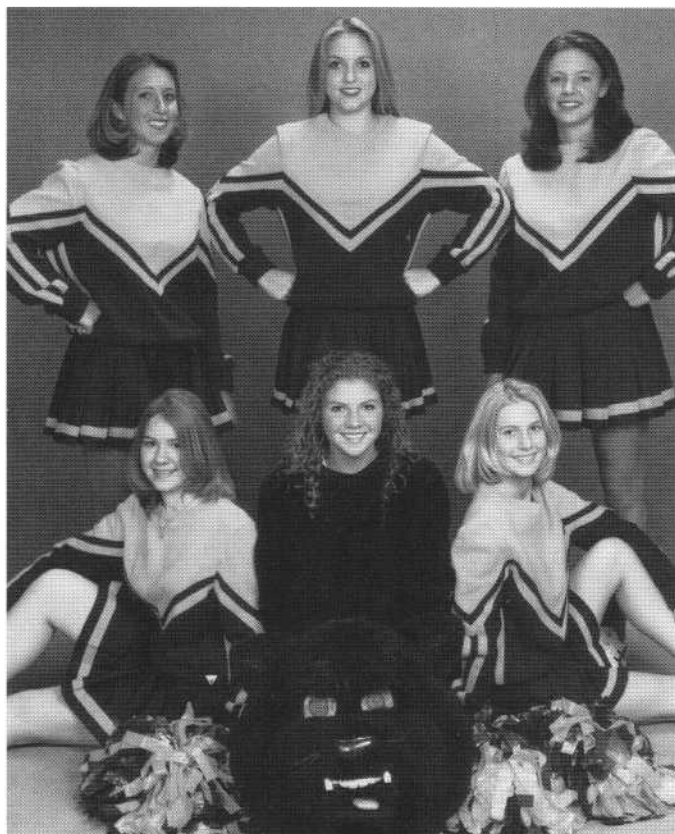

"I am a long tall Panther;
I ride a big white Horse"
The Western homecoming theme called for Pouncer, Jennifer Montgomery, to ride a white rocking horse.

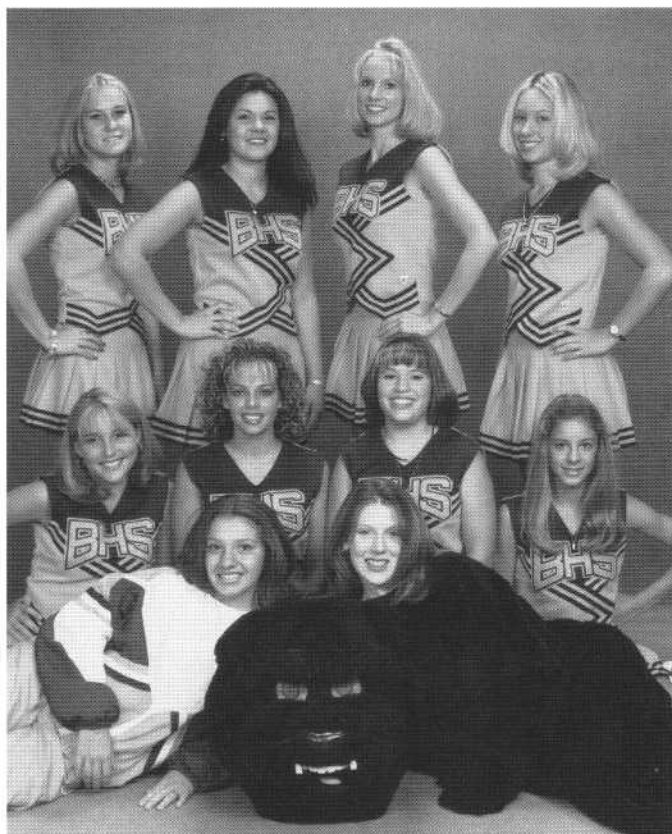

The talented Stephani Cline entertains the crowd with her gymnastic skills. Sarah Owens, Karris Edwards, and Jenny Ragen look on with amazement trying to figure out how they to can learn to flip.

Jentry Jeffery, Brittni Sears, Susan Wright, Lauren Garrison, and Jennifer Reynolds beat out the rhythm to the cheers for varsity games. During JV games varsity plays the drums as the BHS "band".

The eighth grade cheerleaders for the 1998-99 season are (first row) Monica Escalera, Jessi French, Donnean Goodwin, Ashley Weeks, Niki Hillard, (second row) Keely Tillman, Lisa Potter, Laci Whitlock, Tiffany Presley, Heather Lankford, Jordan Jeffery, Krystle Jenkins, Sarah Hill, (third row) Lindsey Haislip, Hailey Scoggins, Cacey Tepera, Ashlie Nobles, Lacy Leonard, Amanda Jensen, Amy Martin, and Elizabeth Oglesby.

"Being moved up to a Varsity Cheerleader is the best thing that has happened to me in a long time, and it's all because of the other cheerleaders. So, I just want to say thanks to all of them. It's something I'll never forget!" said Brittany Fuller.

Reaching for the Stars

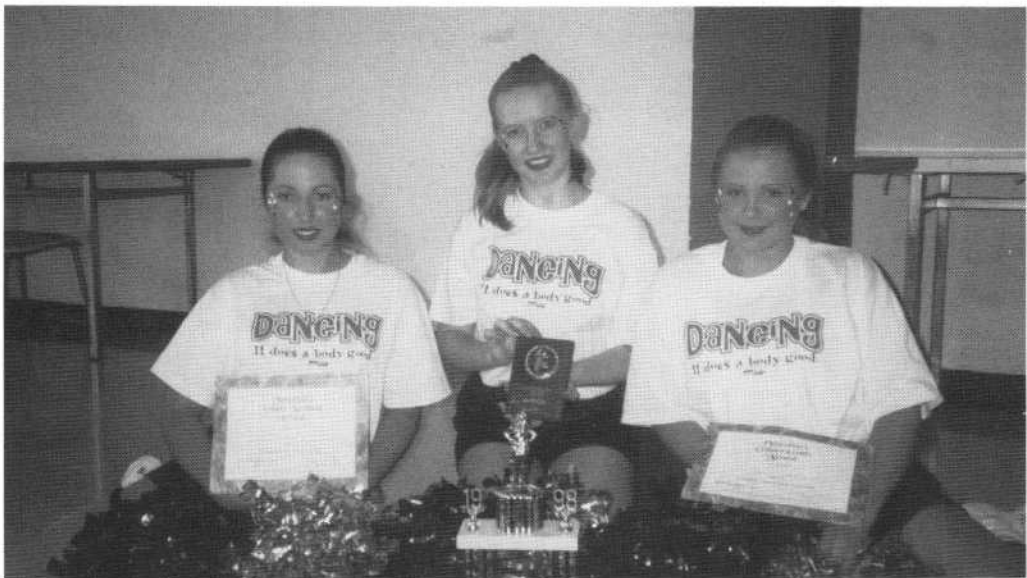

BHS Drill Team strives for Perfection!

Say Cheese! The BHS Pantherette squad takes time out during after school practice in the gym for a quick photo for the yearbook. The drill team members practiced everyday until 6:00 P.M. in the gym with Mrs. Halliburton, the Pantherette director. "I like it [practices] better in the afternoon, better than 6:00 A.M. I need that extra hour in the morning to get going," says Mrs. H. This year the Pantherettes earned credit for P.E. with their participation.

Mrs. Linda Halliburton, drill team director, tries to avoid pictures as much as possible. Too bad we got this one by! Mrs. "H", as the team calls her, has been the director for three years now.

Way to go officers! The Pantherette officers include senior Brandy Wilson--Co-Captain, junior Jennifer Halliburton--Captain, and senior Jimmie Ann Davis--Lieutenant. These motivated dancers attended a three day camp at Texas A&M University Commerce in July and came home with more awards than ever. The awards they received included the Super Sweepstakes, Notable Notebook, Golden Goals, and Congeniality award. The Bells officers have received the Notable Notebook award for three consecutive years and the Super Sweepstakes for two. Both the Golden Goals and the Congeniality awards are first time awards for the Pantherettes.

Twееееet-Tweet!! The BHS Pantherette squad recovers after a strenuous jazz performance to "Music Is My Life." Every day the drill team practiced late to get this routine perfect, since it is one of the more difficult dances in the archives.

Loren Haase gets some air while shooting a lay up in the basketball game. During practice the players were required to practice their shots in order to help them be more accurate.

Misty Nobles rushed down the court in the Wolfe City game. Due to all their team work the seventh grade girls were able to have a good season and better prepare themselves for next year's challenges.

Loren Haase jumps to rebound the ball while the other team members stay alert for it.

Brittney Baggs tries to keep control of the ball as she passes the opposing team.

Sarah Owens finds herself in a sticky situation while trying to make it to the goal. The girls were under tight coverage in many of their games and had to learn strategies to help them score points.

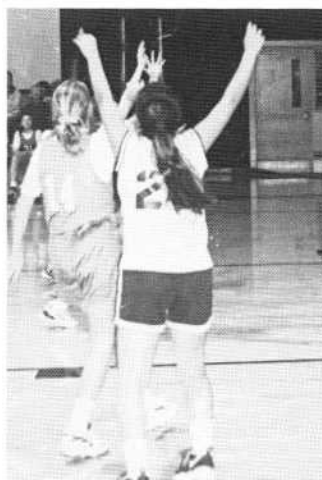

Stephanie Cline looks for a fellow team member to pass the ball to while Whittney Blount and Krystal Reynolds stay alert for the ball.

Cassandra Schroeder and Brandie Dupuis wait for the ball to come down court.

Megan Whitlock rushes down the court around everyone on the opposing team.

Jennifer Reagan uses good defensive patterns to help stop the opposing team from scoring.

Megan Whitlock uses her running ability to out run the opponent.

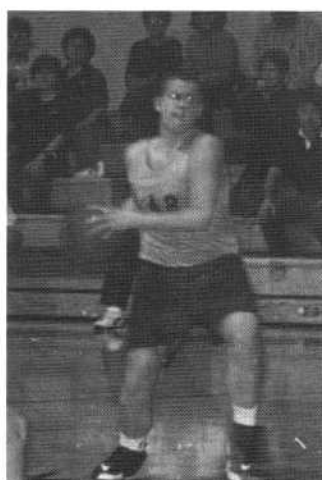

Jake Wright concentrates on his shot to help his team's score.

David Whitley dribbles down court to pass off to a teammate.

Daniel White looks for someone on his team to pass the ball to on the way to the basket.

Brandon Robinson dodges his opponents while dribbling the ball to his team's basket down court.

Dusty Taylor and Daniel White struggle to get the ball away from their opponents as Ben Washburn rushes in to help, and Jake Wright stands back to watch the action. The team played well all year to finish up with a great season.

Daniel White and Dusty Taylor double team the opposing player as Ben Washburn guards his man.

Amy Martin shoots for a two pointer as Jordan Jeffrey watches from behind.

Nothing But Air!

The PJH girls basketball team soars high above their opponents to play a great season.

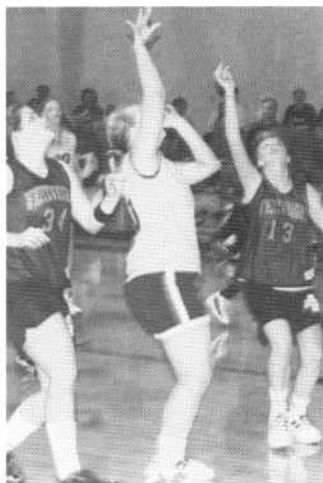

Ashley Weeks is going for the two pointer, but if she doesn't make the basket; Jessi French has her back and is determined to get the rebound. The girls used team work to get the job done because they knew that working together could help the team accomplish their goals.

Amy Martin struggles to get the ball from her rivals as Lacy Leonard comes to her rescue. This season all the girls showed off their excellent shooting skills taught to them by Coach Gilliam.

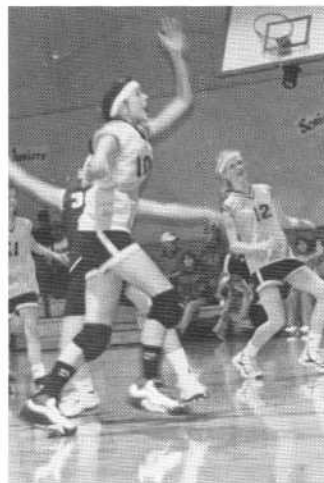

With her opponent hot on her trail, Tiffany Presley gets ready to pass the ball to Amanda Jansen. These two girls contributed a lot to the success of their team as did all the girls.

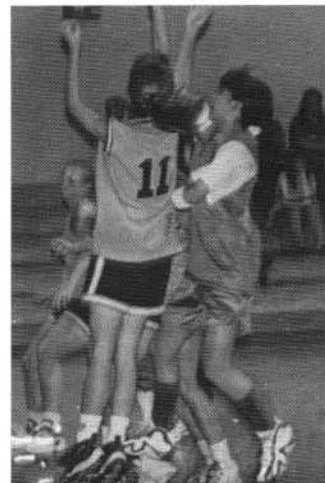

Amy Martin looks for someone to pass the ball to and finds that Haley Scoggins is open.

Haley Scoggins follows through on her shot in the Panthers game against Whitewright

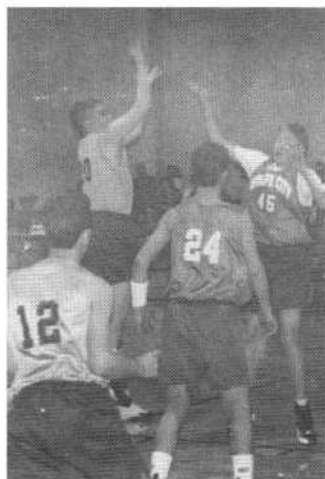

Jessi French hurls the ball at the basket as Amanda Jansen runs in to give her support.

Ashley Weeks jumps high above the crowd to beat her opponent to the rebound.

Josh Linder jumps up to shoot a basket while his opponent tries to block him.

Trenton Beeler wrestles the ball away from his opponent during the game.

T. J. Wilson races to the end of the court with the ball after a teammate's rebound.

Fighting for Victory

Although the eighth grade boys had a hard year, they never gave up in their fight for victory.

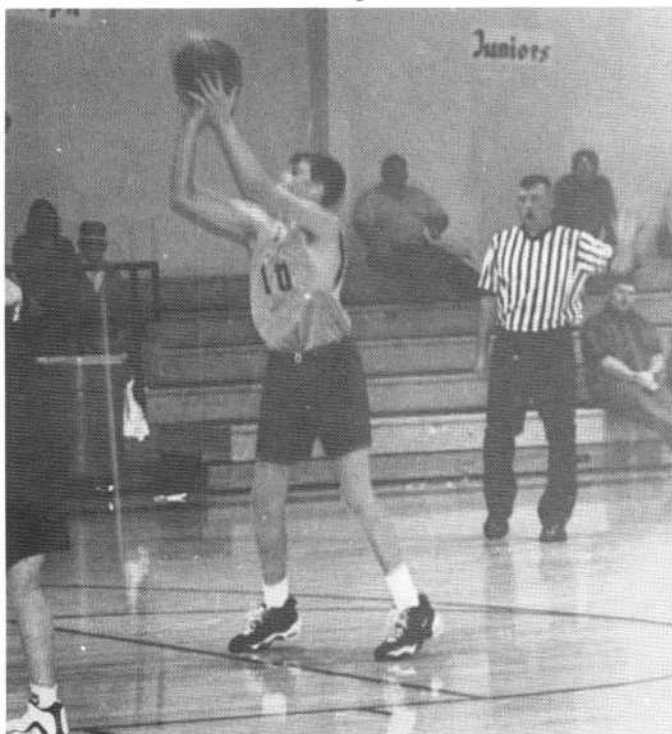

Surrounded by his opponents, Justin Kelley aims for the basket and shoots the ball.

Shane Stone out jumps his opponent to score a basket. Shane is a very important player for the 'A' team.

Taking his free throws, Jeremy Taylor concentrates hard on making each basket count. Making free throws helped the team's score and may have determined the outcome of the game.

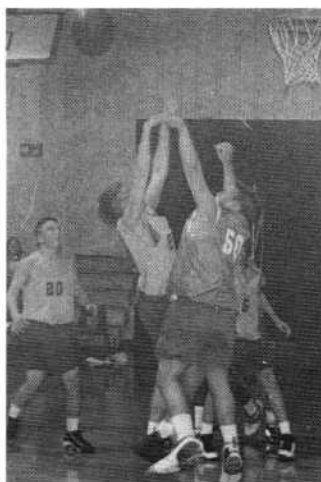

Zac Doty tries to dribble his way through the opponent as his team member Trenton Beeler waits for Zac to pass him the ball.

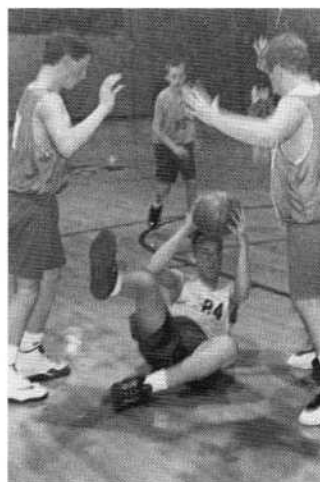

As a team member fell to the floor fighting off the opponent, John Ramsey and Brandon Singleton come to his rescue. The eighth grade 'A' team has worked exceptionally hard this season.

Catch it! Catch it!
John Ramsey reaches for the ball that his teammate threw.

Travis Trainor jumps to rebound the ball that his fellow teammate Josh Linder shoots while Phillip McGill backs him up.

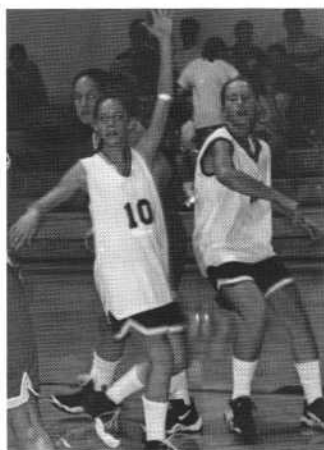

While battling with opponents over the ball, Travis Trainor falls to the floor and searches for someone to whom to pass the ball.

Everette Robinson fights his opponent off as he tries to recover the ball for his team, as Cody Carlisle shoves his way through.

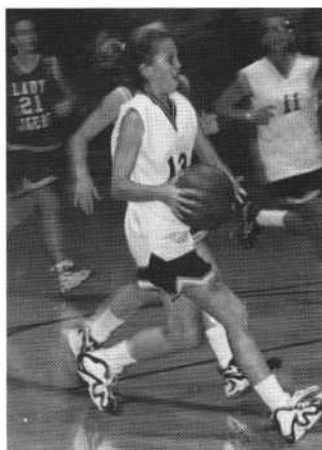

Jennifer Workman and Nerissa Willey use teamwork to keep their opponents from scoring. The JV girls used teamwork to win many of their games all year.

Erica Wimpee, Jessica Mortensen, and Vanessa Novak get a quick drink of water during one of the few breaks they had throughout the game.

Jessica Mortensen races to her end of the court to score points for her team. Members of the JV team practiced many hours to be the best they could be all year.

Shoot it! Bethany Ewton prepares to shoot the ball while she tries to avoid the opposing team's hands and defensive blocks.

SHOOT, BABY SHOOT!

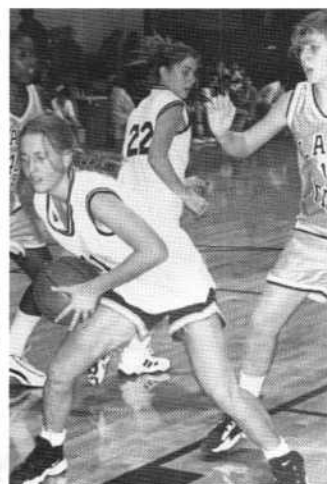

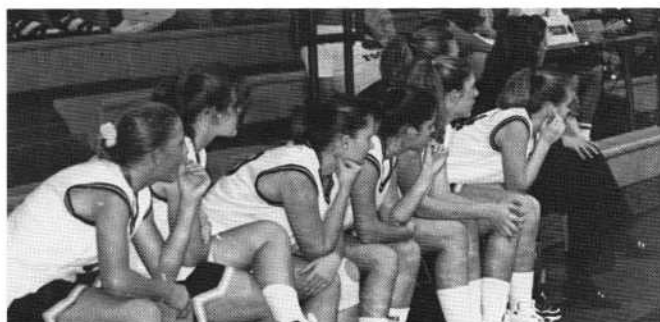

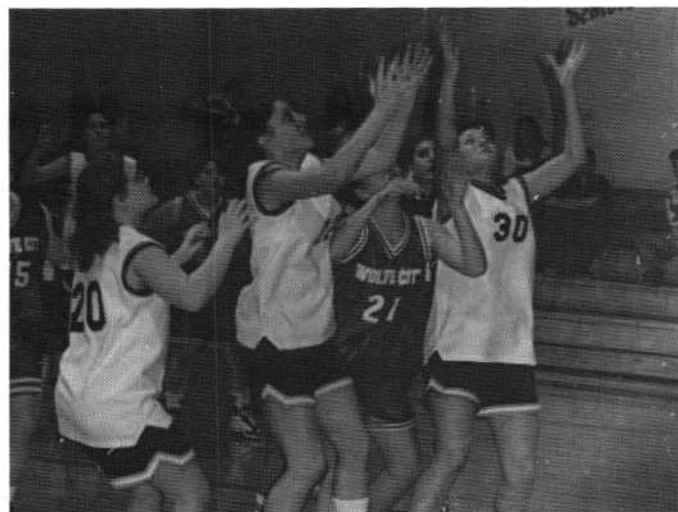

Get the ball! Jenny Hansen and Nerissa Willey work together to keep the ball while Dallas Taylor helps to keep the Lady Tigers caged up.

Bells JV Girls work together to play a JAMMIN' season!

Hmmm... Members of the JV Lady Panthers await their turn on the court to score points for their team and win the game. All of the girls worked hard to win the games and played to the best of their ability at every game.

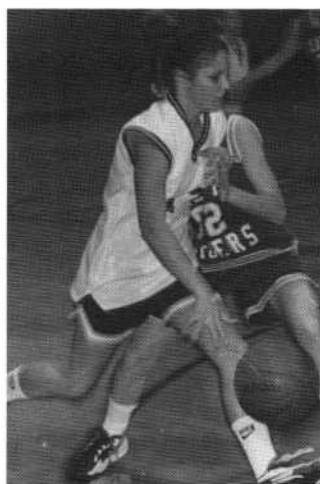

Kanda Kimball, Jenny Hansen, and Erica Wimpee use teamwork to get the ball into the hoop and score points for the JV Lady Panthers.

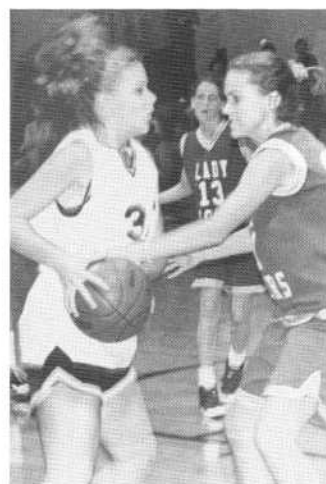

Nerissa Willey steps back to keep the ball from her opponent as she tries to advance down court to make a basket for her team.

Get the ball! Jessica Mortensen awaits the tip-off from her teammate, Christa Carpenter, to get the game underway.

Dallas Taylor dribbles the ball down court while trying to avoid members of the opposite team and score points for her team.

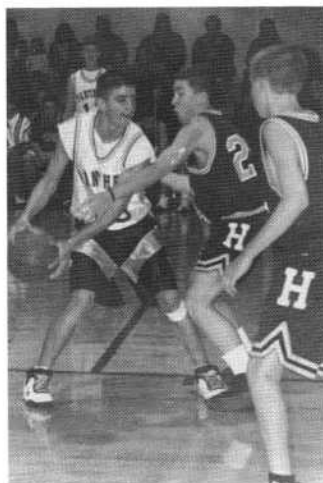

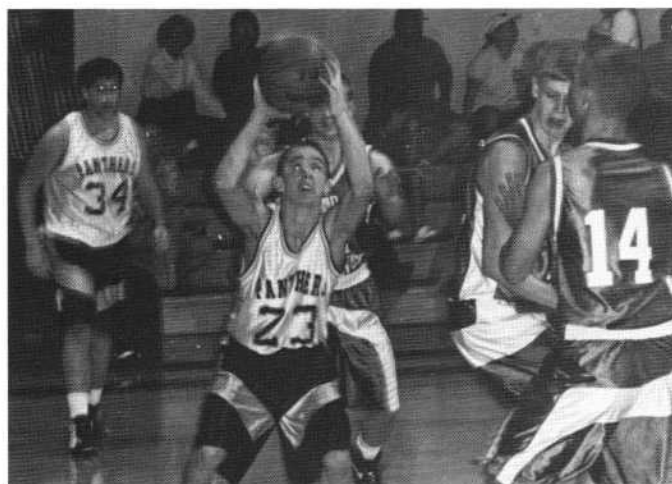

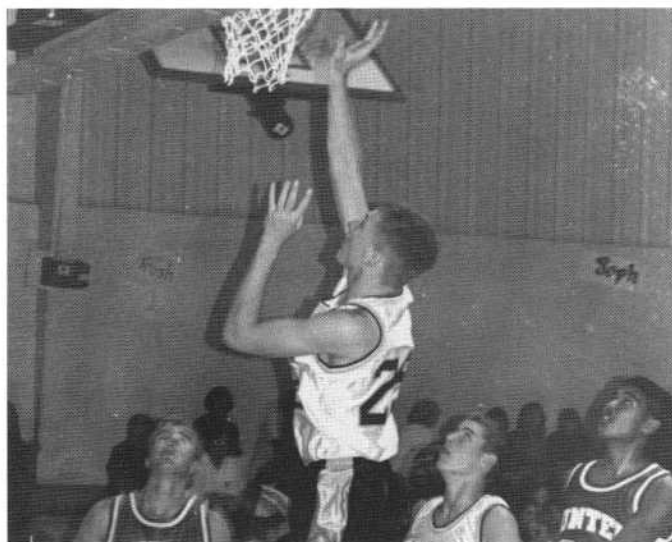

Callie Jeffrey tries to keep the ball in her possession so she can get it to the hoop.

Dedicated to the Game

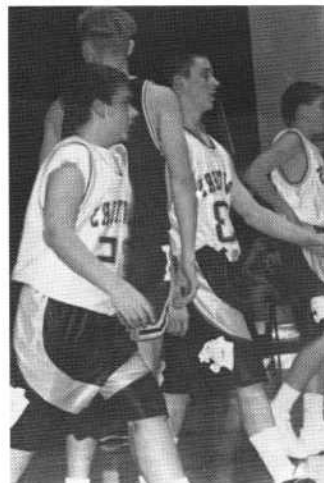

The JV boys stayed dedicated to the game through good times and bad.

Nathan Leonard gets a good lay up at the Gunter game. Nathan started out on the JV team at the first of this year and then was moved up to varsity. JV helped to better prepare the athletes so they may one day play on varsity.

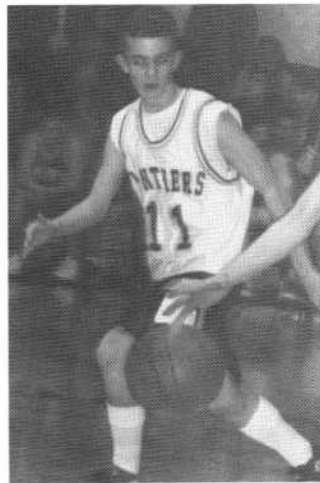

Justin Monroe tries to get off a shot before the opposing team can reach him. Justin helped the team to score many points and to win several games.

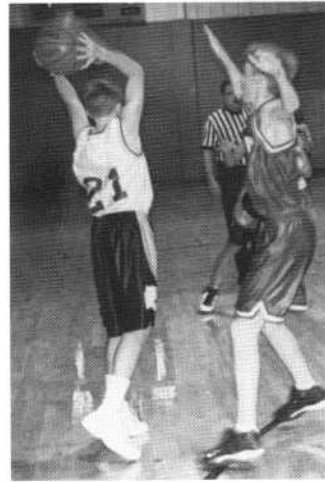

Under tight coverage Mark Traweek tries to slip past the opposing team.

Jordan Blount, Justin Monroe, and Brady Reeves walk back towards the bench during half time to talk to their coach.

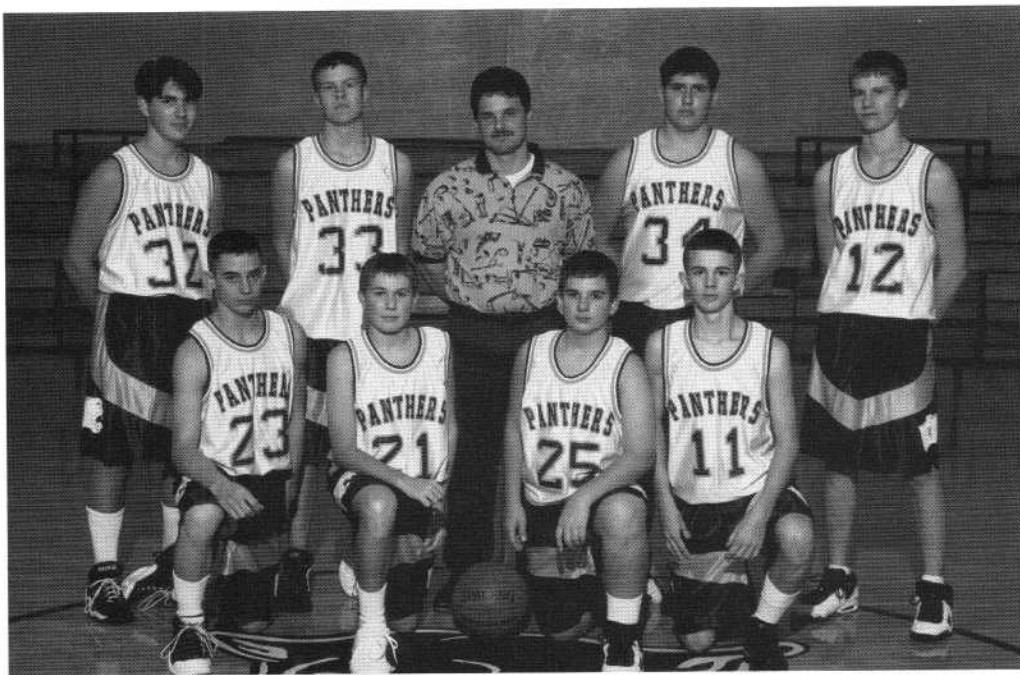

Brittian Bang tries to steal the ball from the other team to help his team score.

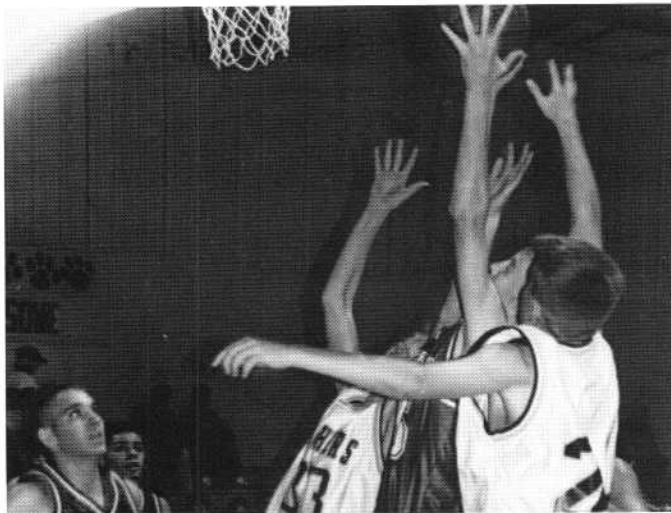

Brady Reeves searches for a fellow team member to pass the ball to since he is at a stopping point.

Troy Leonard and Shawn Cline go up to rebound the ball. Rebounds helped Bells JV to score many points.

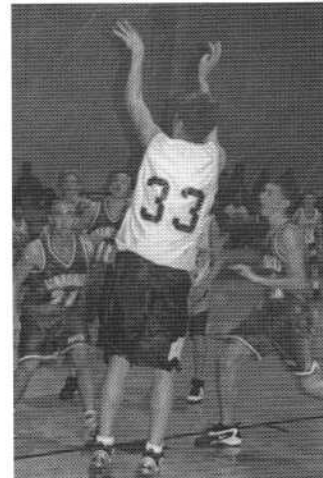

Troy Leonard rebounds the ball after a failed attempt to score points. Bells JV worked hard on their rebounding abilities so they could perform well in a game.

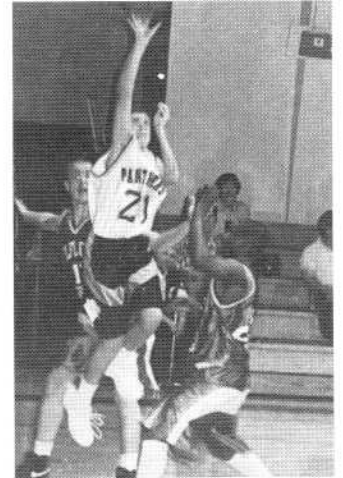

Troy Leonard, Mark Traweek, and Cole Kimberling wait to hear the referees decision of whose ball it is.

Mark Traweek rushes down the court in hopes of putting more points on the board for his team.

Shawn Cline shows off with a great two point shot.

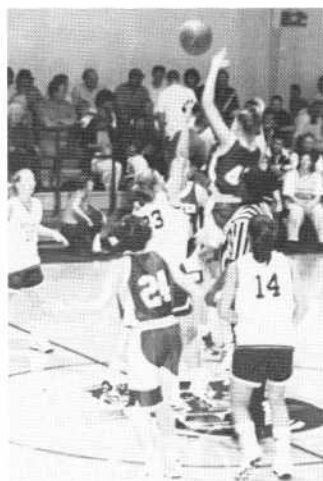

Brady Reeves shoots the ball in hopes of helping his team win.

Angie Youree looks for an open teammate to whom she will pass the ball.

Kim Anderson jumps as high as she can in the tip off against Gunter.

This is called a basketball. Mandy Lankford waited for the referee to get the ball.

Courtney Owens gets on the floor and tries to tie up the ball or gain possession.

Mollie Robinson, Angie Youree, Courtney Owens, and Jessica Jeffery hurry back down court to play defense. Defense is an essential key in the game of basketball. Against the Whitewright Tigers the Lady Panthers came up a bit shy of a win.

Airborne Ladies

You win some and you lose some, that's the way the game is played!

The Lady Panthers gave it their all but came up short of a title this year. Coach Gary Rowland coached a young learning team. The team had two seniors until an injury, one junior, four sophomores, and one freshman until another was called up from JV. They worked together as a team to upset some district rivalries.

Jessica Jeffery puts the ball on the floor and goes for the hoop. In this game despite all efforts the Lady Panthers couldn't pull it off against the Wolfe City Wolves.

Angie Youree plays great defense on a Gunter Tiger opponent. Defense is a major skill needed to keep the other team from scoring.

Mollie Robinson dribbles the ball down the court. As a point guard she looks for open team members or a shot.

Courtney Owens posts up against a Lady Howe Bulldog and calls for the ball.

Christa Carpenter was blocking out two Wolfe City defenders in the hopes of getting the rebound.

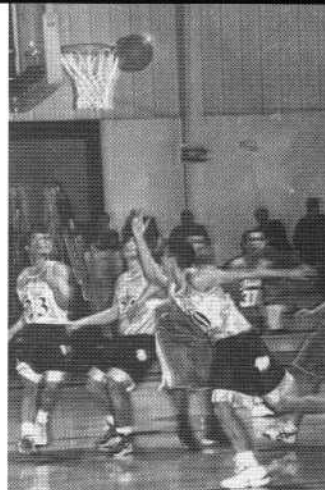

Jentry Jeffery and an opponent scramble to get a loose ball.

Nothing But Net!

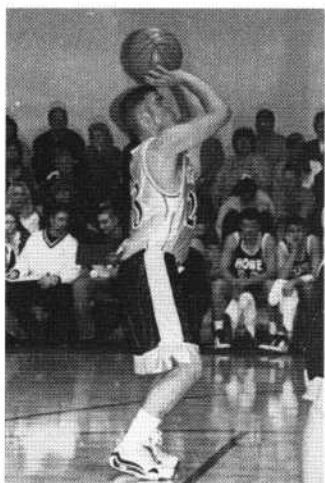

BOYS VARSITY BASKETBALL

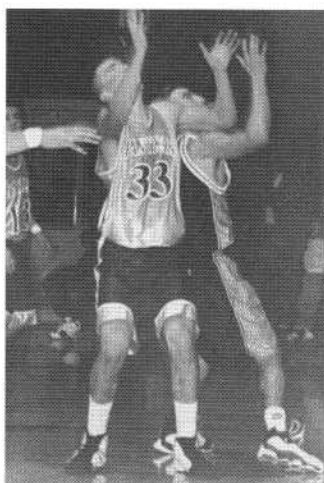

During a game against Howe, Jacob Ewton dribbles the ball towards the Bells' basket.

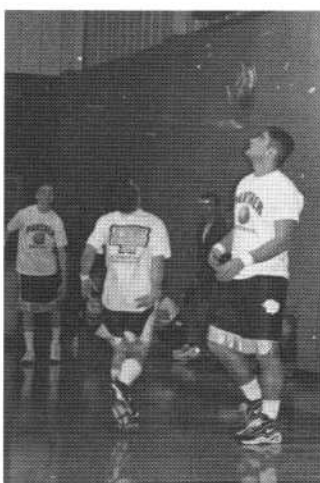

Jake Hartline takes a difficult shot while Eric Payne and Billy Pedigo wait for the ball to go in.

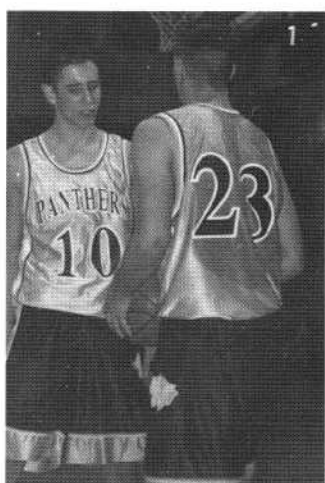

Eric Payne attempts his free throw after a foul has been called against the Howe Bulldogs.

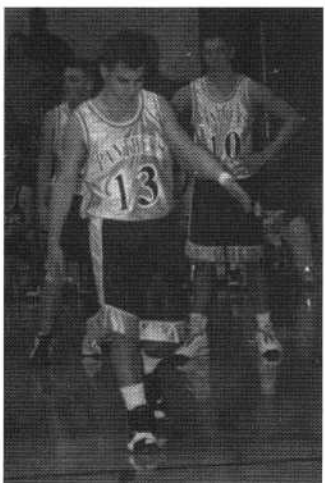

Joe Stern gets a little rough with his opponent while he tries to get his hands on the ball.

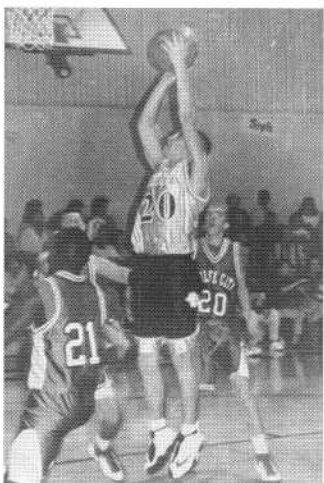

The team practices hard on shooting and dribbling skills before the game.

Jake Hartline and Eric Payne go over strategies before the game.

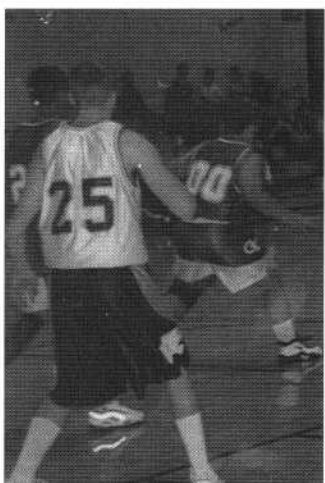

Joe-Allen Hitsman takes his place during a free throw.

Patrick Crites leaps high above his opponents to make two points.

Troy Leonard and Billy Pedigo watch with amusement as Jake Hartline soars through the air for a slam dunk.

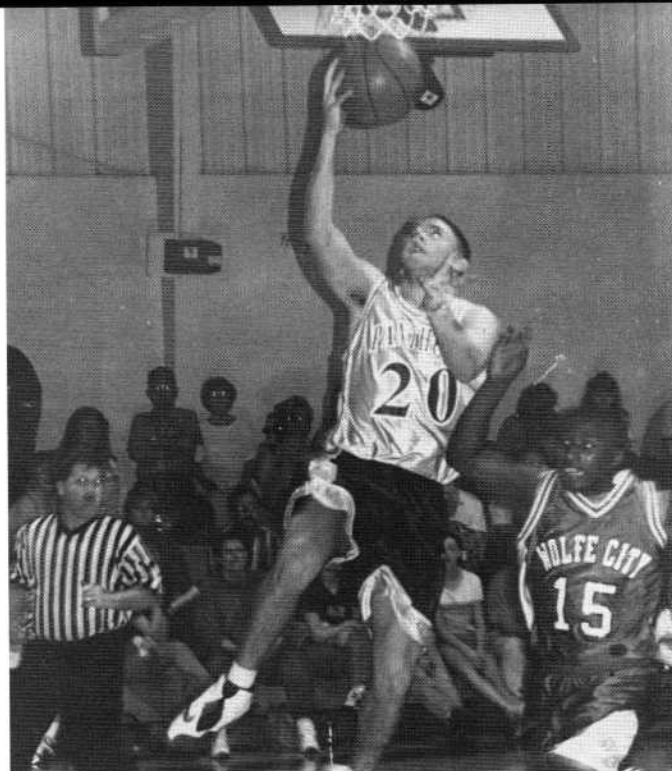

Through all his dedication and hard work, Troy Leonard earned himself a place on varsity.

It's a bird, it's a plane, no it's Patrick Crites! Patrick Crites dodges his opponents as he soars through the air to make extra points for the team. Patrick showed a lot of enthusiasm and devotion to the team during practice and games.

The members of the 1998-99 varsity boys basketball are (first row) Joe-Allen Hitsman, Dusty Watson, Eric Payne, Troy Leonard, Jacob Ewton; (second row) Coach Kevin Wilson, Jake Hartline, Billy Pedigo, Joe Stern, and Patrick Crites.

WOO-HAH! The team listens to the pep talk from Coach Wilson in their ritual huddle before the game. At the beginning of each game fans can hear their battle cry, woo-hah, ring through the gym.

Jake Hartline has a look of exhaustion on his face as he concentrates on getting the ball from his opponent. All year Jake gave his best to the team and entertained us all with his unique playing strategies.

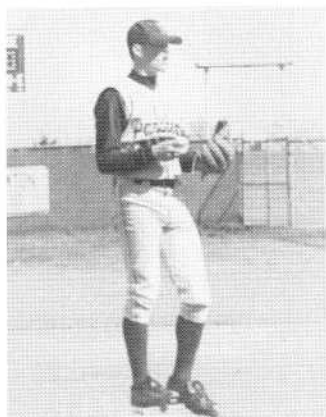

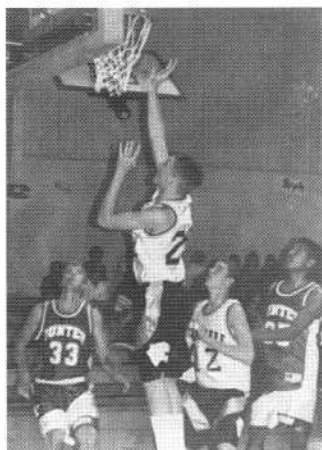

Joe-Allen tries to keep up with the opponent that he is guarding.

ALL- STARS

BHS students participate in sporting events year round

Jordan Jeffery competes in a junior high track meet. She did hurdles throughout the year.

Troy Leonard springs into the air to make two points for his team. Troy played on the varsity team as a freshman.

Mason Ewton waits on the catcher to give him a sign. Catcher Billy Pedigo's job was to relay a sign according to how the coaches wanted the ball pitched.

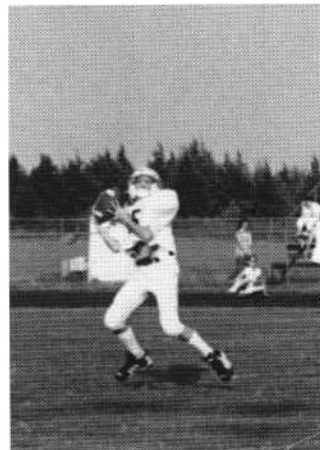

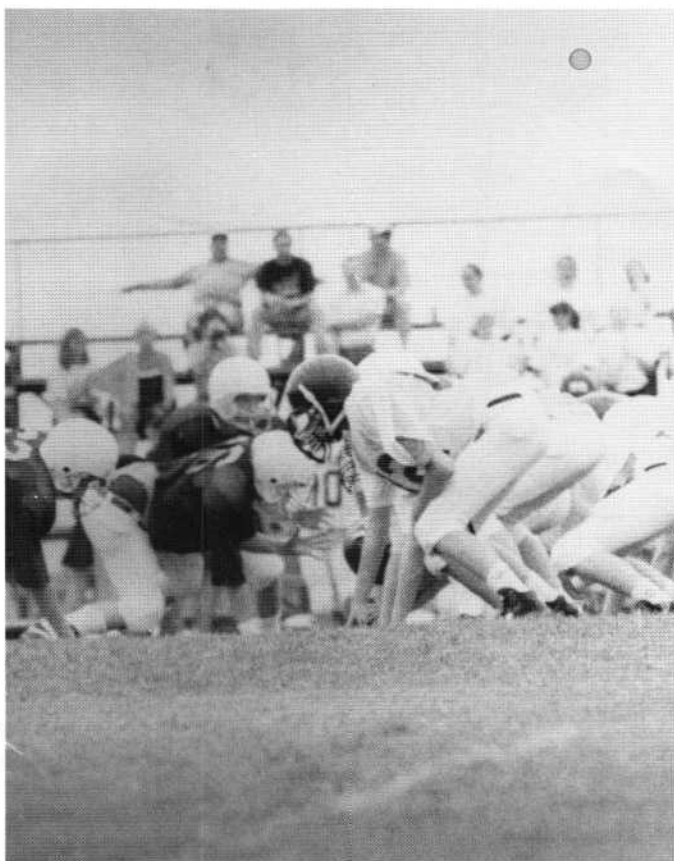

Casey Carr sprints the last part of the District Cross-Country Meet. The meet was held at Bells, and the Lady Panthers clinched a District title early in the year.

Dustin Burden closes his eyes as he swings at the ball. The baseball team was coached by Coach Rod Davis and Coach Charlie Means.

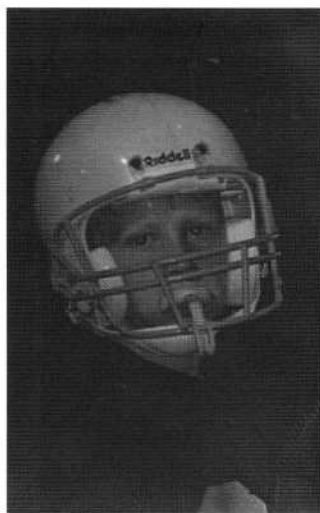

What a beautiful catch! Corey Roder a member of the eighth grade team catches a pass for a gain of yardage.

The eighth grade football team lines up at the line of scrimmage. They played hard all year as a team and were coached by Jeff Slagle.

Matt Montgomery turns around just in time to get his picture taken. Matt was a member of the eighth grade football team.

The junior high team runs through the bust-through before the game. The cheerleaders yelled chants and sometimes the parents made a spirit line.

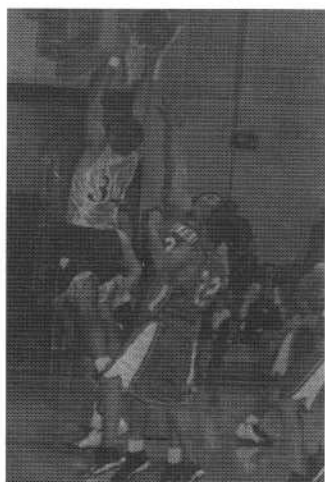

The varsity girls wait patiently to run out before the game. They worked hard all year as a team despite some ups and downs.

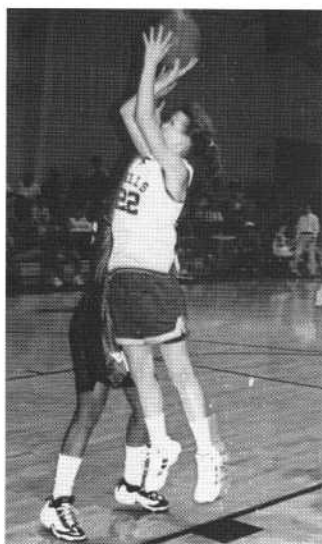

Jake Hartline leaps into the air in order to try and hinder the shooting abilities of his opponent. Eric Payne turned around to be sure this effort was going to work.

And More All-Stars

Billy Pedigo goes up for two points against Community. Billy was one of the key players for the Panthers under the goal.

Freshman Jessica Jeffrey shoots the ball over an opponent. She used her abilities and talents to score for her team.

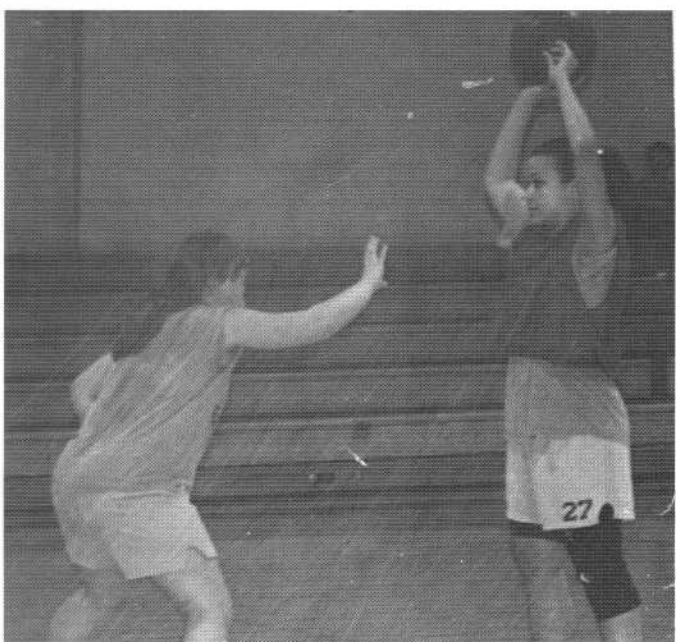

The baseball team is gathered at the plate to give high fives after a victory.

The drill team performed each and every pep rally in order to lift team spirits up before the ball game. The drill team was directed by Mrs. Linda Halliburton.

Dustin Burden was a key player for the Bells Panthers. Despite some injuries he kept on pushing himself to complete the year.

Angie Youree is guarded in practice by Kanda Kimball. Coach Gary Rowland had the JV practice against the Varsity.

Nathan Wilson races for the finish line. Nathan was very dedicated to helping his team earn the most points at a track meet.

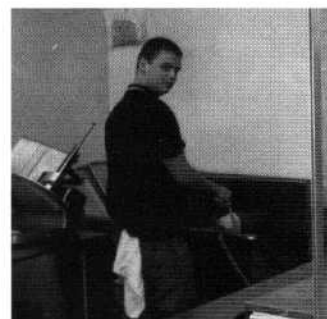

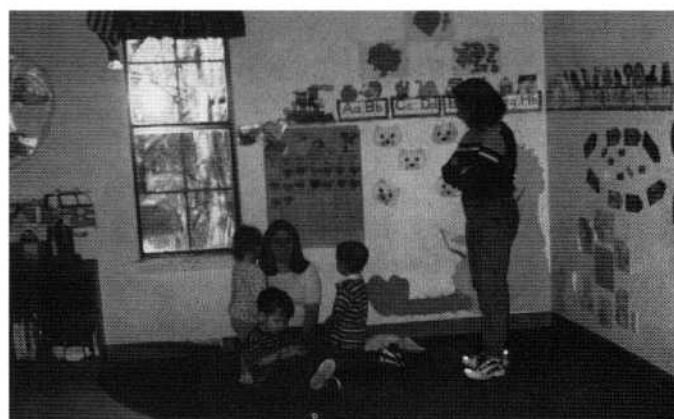

Kim Watson sweeps the school-age area at Little Kickers Daycare and Preschool in Bells. Kim fixed the afternoon snack and made sure that everything was clean at the end of the day.

Jennifer Montgomery smiles for customers as she works the cash register at J. C.'s. Jennifer was also responsible for making sure that the shelves were stocked.

Robert White washes out the sink after cutting meat to restock the cooler at K. C.'s. Robert also ran the register part of the time and stocked shelves.

Daniel Whitley tills the garden for Mr. Bill Meek. Daniel along with several other students helped Mr. Meek keep the school garden looking nice.

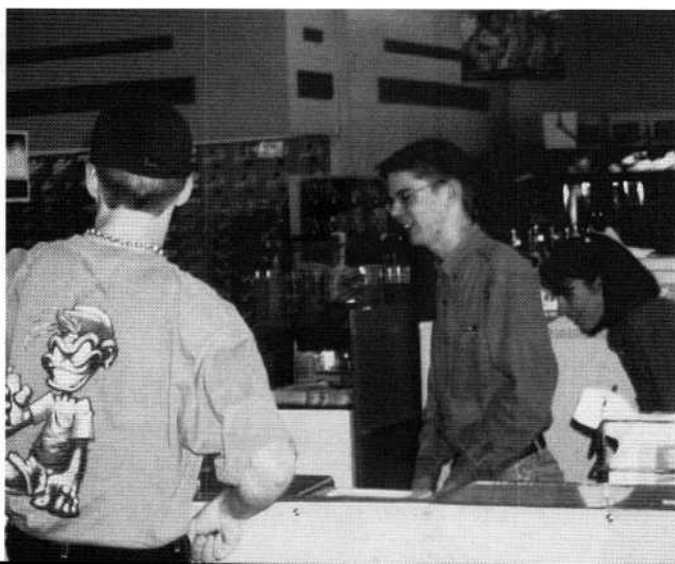

Jennifer Mortensen and Brandy Wilson work with the two year old class at Little Kickers. Brandy worked in the two year old class everyday, and Jennifer was a floater that went from room to room.

Facing the World

Without the help of those generous people who buy ads, the yearbook would not have the opportunity to be the best it can be.

Ross Chlapecka checks out a customer at K. C.'s in Bells. Ross always had a smile on his face.

Jake,

How can this be coming to an end? It seems only a few years ago we were starting kindergarten. As this part of your life comes to an end, more adventures are waiting around the corner. We are very proud of all you have accomplished but most of all, the pride comes from you being our son and brother.

We Love You Very Much,
Dad, Mom, and Andrea

It's Your Move

We gave you life, but we cannot live it for you.
We can tell you things, but we cannot make you learn.
We can give you directions, but we cannot always be there to lead.
We can allow you freedom, but we cannot account for your decisions.
We can take you to church, but we cannot make you believe.
We can teach you right from wrong, but we cannot decide for you.
We can teach you to share but cannot make you unselfish.
We can advise you about friends but cannot choose them for you.
We can teach you about sex but cannot keep you pure.
We can tell you about drink but cannot say "NO" for you.
We can warn you about drugs, but we cannot prevent your using them.
We can buy you beautiful things, but we cannot make you beautiful inside.
We can give you our love but cannot force you to accept it.

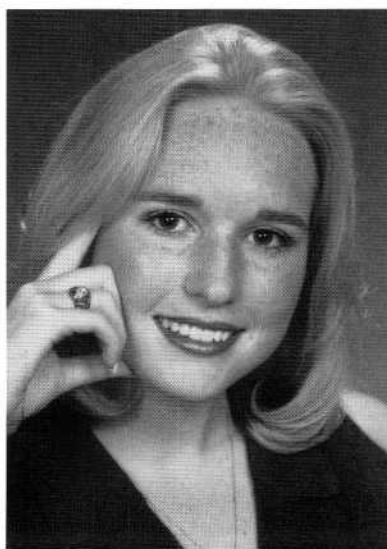

We are proud of you, Josh.
As much as we love you -- At some point out there -- You're on your own.
It's Your Move.

Having a daughter, well everyone knows
Means make-up and phone calls and yes
panty hose.
It means very much, if you must know the truth
Like holding a bicycle and wiggling a tooth.
Helping her color, teaching to share,
cutting the bubble gum out of her hair.
Lending the car and keeping quite calm, taking good pictures of the night of the prom.
It means being nice and all that stuff, though none of her boyfriends were quite good enough.
And now that she's ready for life on her own, it's telling yourself it's time to let go.
We Love you, Mom, Daddy Robert, Jared

Clay,

Football has been a part of your life from age one to eighteen as these pictures show.

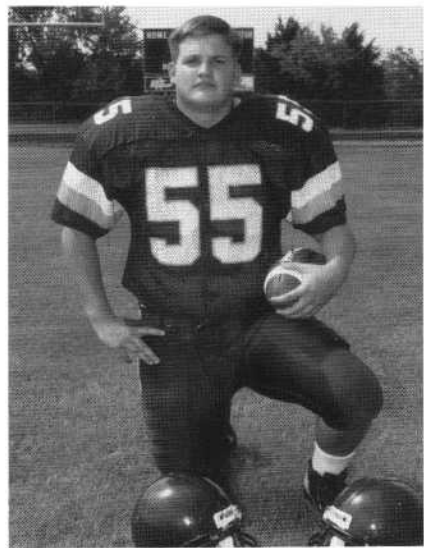

We are all proud of your determination to play football your Senior year, broken bones and all.

I guess we are most proud of your outstanding character and your desire to do everything you do to the best of your ability.

We know as you continue with your education and as you take your place in the adult world, you will continue to set high goals for yourself and will work hard to reach those goals.

As a family, we will always be there for you, but put your faith in the Lord to lead you each day.

Chad,

During your thirteen years at B. I. S. D., you have changed a great deal. Once a pesky little boy who drove both your teachers and parents crazy, you have become a mature young man who makes us very proud.

Through 4-H, FFA, UIL, and sports, you have faced many challenges, accomplished a great deal, and represented your school well. We could not have asked for a better son. You have proven yourself to be responsible, caring, and dedicated in all your chosen pursuits.

As you embark upon the next phase of your life, we wish you luck and happiness. Always remember, wherever you go, whatever you do, we will love you.

Brandy,
How you've changed over the years! You didn't always have a telephone attached to your ear, but you've stayed pretty, smart, and sweet. Stay that way and let God lead you through life. Be happy. We love you, Mom & Dad

Kim,

*Your life is like a book, with each day filling the pages.
Our wish is that you fill the new pages with your dreams.
Set your goals and reach for the stars as you start each new chapter.*

*We love you

Eric,

Graduating from high school, something you thought took forever to get here but for your dad and me came too soon.
You have been such a joy to us.
We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished.
Now you'll have new goals to reach for and challenges to overcome, and we will all be there to support and encourage
you. We love you very, very much!

Mom, Dad, & Kelly

Jake and Eric,
WOW! Graduation is near; you two have finally made it.

In the past 18 years, we have seen you change in many ways.
We have gone through your Punk
Rock stage and wanting to be in a band to getting in touch with your feminine side (A.K.A. Jacquelyn and Erica). However, some things never change; you two are still and always will be MAMA'S BOYS.

We have been through it all from Little League to lettering on Varsity. Win or lose, in our eyes you will always be the BEST. Through the many years of football, basketball, baseball, and track, we have been and still are very proud of your accomplishments. We used to laugh at the little contests you two would have, like who would get the most touchdowns or homeruns, or who could make a basket farther from the goal or who could get the best time, but that was just your way of pushing each other to keep you on your toes. You two are so very lucky to have each other and great classmates to back you up.

Remember guys, true friendship will last forever. The friends you have now you will carry with you wherever you may go. No matter which road each of you take, just remember that you will always be a special part of the other. Not only are you our brothers, but you also are our best friends, and we love you very, very much. We thank God for brothers like the two of you.

With all our love,
Andrea and Kelly

lieves..." MARK 9:23

Sara,
You are the light of our lives. You have been such a joy to watch grow for 18 years. We have watched you grow from such a small little girl to such a beautiful, strong, Christian Young Lady. You will always be Daddy's Girl. You and I have become good friends. You have always made us proud of you, and we know you always will. Always let God lead your way.

We Love You,

To Joe "Our Grandson;"

As the years have passed quickly by you have grown to be a wonderful young man. You have filled our lives with laughter, joy, and happiness--and a few "Thunder-Storms" along the way. As you graduate be proud of who you are and what you have accomplished, as we take great pride in you. Know that we will always be here to support you in whatever you choose to do "because we know you can do anything you want to do." May God bless and keep you always in his care.

With Love Always,
Nana and Papa

My Dearest Joe,
I remember the day I sat on the front porch and watched, as you ran to catch the school bus on your first day of school. I sat and wondered what life was to be for you. Now another turning point in your life, once again I wonder what life is to be for you now. The sky's the limit! You can have and be anything you want as long as you believe. And when things get tough and it's hard to believe, always remember we believe in you! Always keep the warmth and love in your heart, and you'll go far!

We Love You Always,
Mom, Casey, and Maranda

Only yesterday you were running after the car as we left you at Kindergarten.
 Now you're running up the last step of the Graduation Stage. Things really move a lot quicker than we thought.
 You turned around one day and there stood a beautiful, mature, and confident young woman.
 You have proven yourself able and ready to enter the new century with all the opportunities life has to offer. Always remain true, honest, and faithful to your beliefs and God will be there, by your side, all the way with you.
 You certainly started out with the right foot forward. We love you and will always be here for you. May God bless you every day of the rest of your life.
 We Love You Very Much.

Nate,
 This world is full of hard knocks. You have always sprung back when the hand you were dealt didn't always seem fair. The world you are about to enter is full of trying situations.
 As long as you keep God first and keep strong ties to family and friends, the challenges will not seem so hard. The one thing that has always been in your favor is that you're not afraid to stand on your own merit.
 Remember this milestone in your life.
 Cherish it and remember your friends and teachers that made this such a great event.
 We are so very proud of you and your many accomplishments. You truly are a special blessing to us. We love you dearly, and we will always be here for you, Nate Dogg.

Robert,

What a pleasure it has been to watch you grow into the man you have become. And what a real man you are! So giving and caring, so loving and tender, so full of laughter and yet not afraid to cry. Remember, this is just the beginning and there is a whole great, big world just waiting for you to experience. Keep always your faith in God and carry with you the love we have for you. You have made us all so proud!

David,

Congratulations! You have accomplished your first of many goals. Son, we are very proud of you. You have always been a great source of joy for us. Your hugs and smiles always show up when needed. You are a very special person, and I thank God for giving us a son as special as you. Remember to keep Christ first in your life and your rewards will be great. Always remember that we love you and that we will always be there for you no matter what. Good luck in the future in all you do. God bless you and keep you safe.

love. 1 Corinthians 13:13

God Bless You.

Congratulations Josh,
I am so proud of you. I pray
God will keep you safe and happy as you go through life.
You are such a handsome young man. You will always be the center of my life, and I love you AS BIG AS THE UNI-VERSE!

Love and Kisses, Honey
(You always gave me lots of these--always remember you never get too old for that.)

It seems like only yesterday . . .
My dreams were coming true.
A miracle of birth . . .
A precious Baby Boy.
My heart overflowed with love for You then,
as it does now.
The 'journey' . . .
has been what life is all about.
Lots of Love, laughter, sharing, caring and 'amazement.'
You continue to amaze me!
Intelligent, good-hearted, loving, Christian, humorous -- all the wonderful virtues I could ever hope for in a child . . . and more!
Thanks for the happiness You've brought into my life. I'm thankful to my Lord, for giving me You . . .
I've been blessed.
I'll Love You forever,
Mom

Before you were born, I was concerned whether I could love a child as other parents had expressed, but when I looked through that nursery glass, I knew a part of my heart was yours forever. I hope that hasn't caused me to over-shelter you, to spoil you, because I think it so important that you be independent. Think for yourself. Don't follow the crowd. Pray for wisdom.

Be strong. Have patience. Be kind.
Pray for discernment.

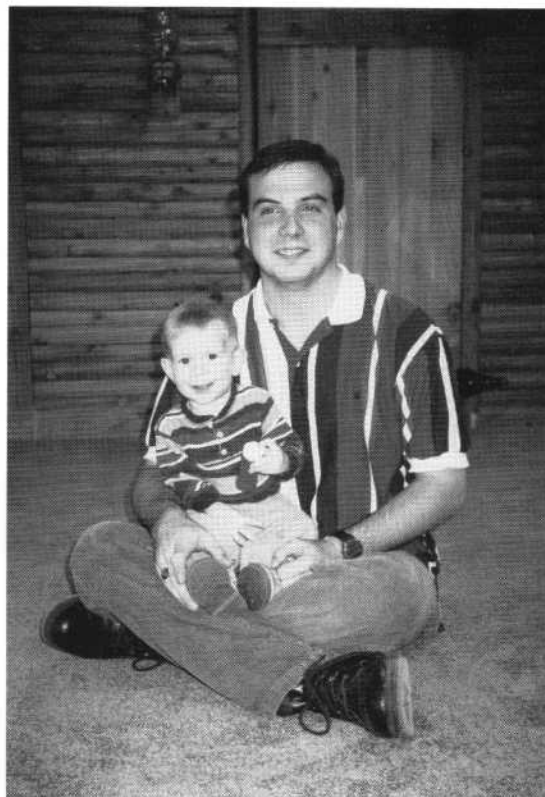

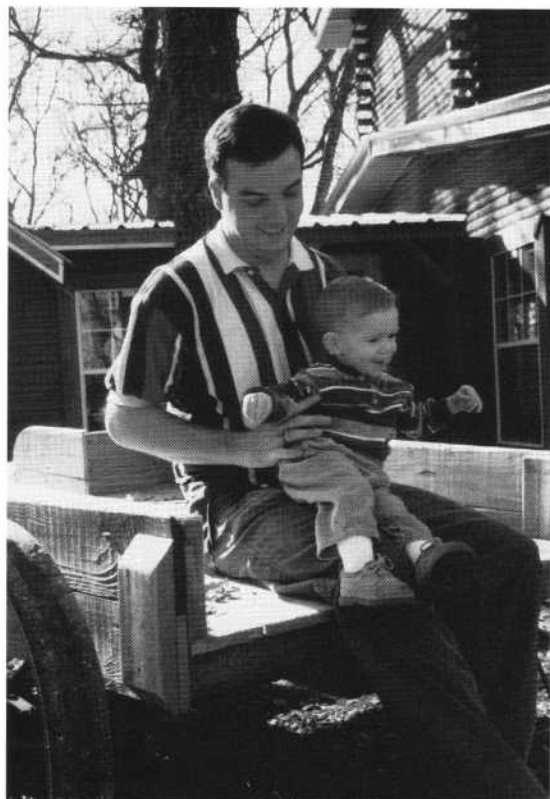

Be faithful. Work hard. Be humble.
Pray for forgiveness.

Love,

Your Dad

Dusty,
I used to ask Momma why do I have a little brother? I always asked if we could send you back. As we got older and stopped fighting so much, I realized you weren't so bad. Today, you are so independent and level-headed. Once you set your mind on something you always achieve it. Aaron and Dylan really admire their "Uncle Dusty", and although I never tell you Dusty, I love you, and we are all very proud of you. Congratulations.

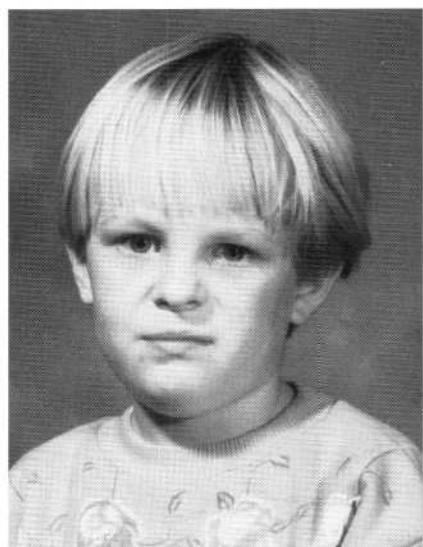

Love,
Stephanie, B. K., Aaron, & Dylan

Dusty,

Dad and I are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments from "Star Cashier" at WalMart to finally making the honor roll. You have really grown and matured this past year to be a fine outstanding young man. Always remember the values that you were taught and do the right thing. Your family is always here for you. Good luck in your future goals. Watch out, here he comes.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Alisha,

I sometimes call you Dawn, but you are my sunshine, my shining star, my beautiful daughter with a voice of an angel. Words can't express how proud I am of you. Be confident in yourself and your choices in life. Continue to use the talents God gave you. You have a beautiful voice--never quit singing. Your voice brings sunshine and happiness to a dark and sad world. I love you so much and will always be there for you. Whatever choices you make, I know they'll be wise ones. May God bless your life ahead with happiness, security, and peace for you have truly blessed my life because my children are my life.

We Love You

To the Love of My Life (Charles Matthew):

Although it's only been since February 27, 1998, I feel like I have known you forever. Our lives have grown together in many ways causing us to change for the better. If words could only describe the feelings I have for you then there would not be enough room in this entire book. As you and I grow older, mature, and continue in our pursuit for happiness, may our paths forever go on together. I love you and wish the best for you and us in the future. One last thing--Congratulations Baby! We're out of here!

Love always,
Brandy Lee

Sean Brown uses some of his free time in the library to study his homework. Throughout the year many students used the library as a nice quiet place to try and get some work done.

These juniors are full of spirit. Each week this rowdy crew could be seen in front of the junior section shouting to the cheers with the cheerleaders. The juniors showed their spirit buy making sign in their art class with Mrs. Wynema Adams.

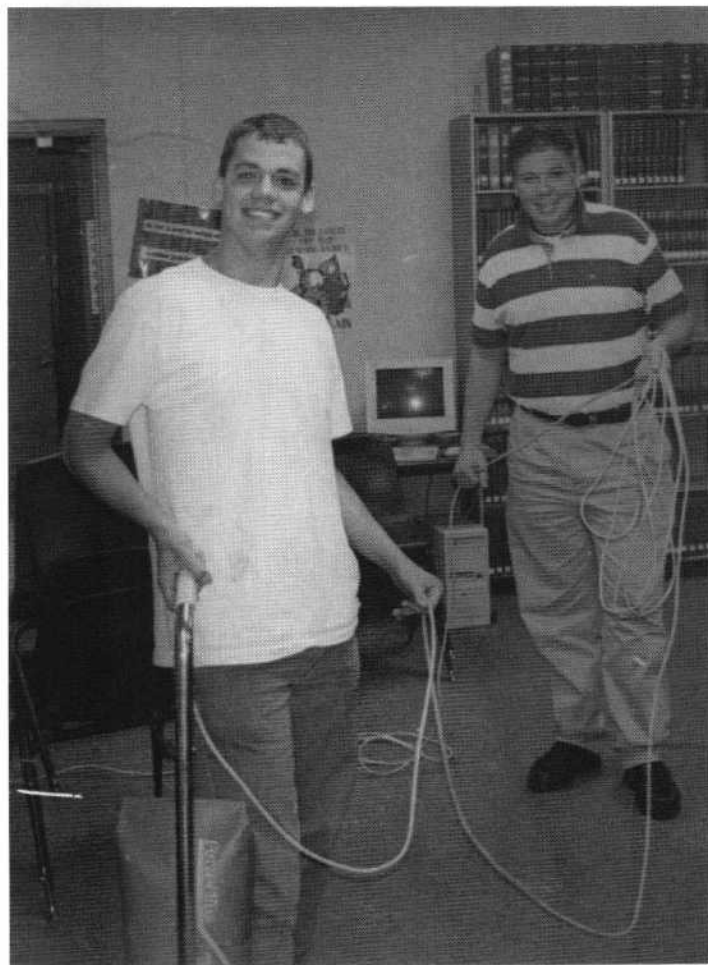

Joe-Allen Hitsman and Jake Hartline park their scooters as they arrive for basketball practice. Joe-Allen and Jake were seen speeding down the streets of Bells, Highway 69, and Ole Ambrose road as they rode the scooters. They had to leave the house extra early to make it to practice on time since the scooters had a maximum speed of thirty miles per hour.

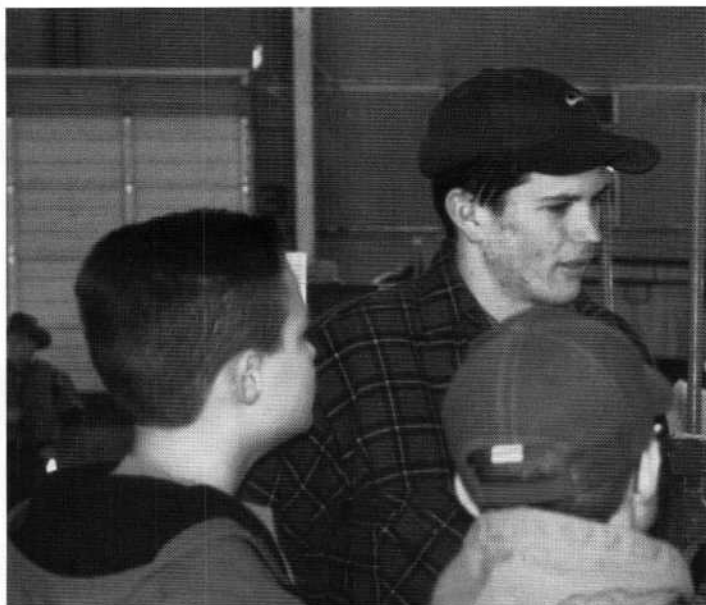

Mrs. Mary Youree, Mr. Joe Moore, and Mr. Morris Mortensen sit down to rest after helping get the show boxes set up and the cattle fed. When it is feeding time at a show, everybody works together in order to get the job done faster.

Robert White and Lee Fuqua vacuum the library for Mrs. Shirley Jones and Mrs. Patricia Neal. Robert and Lee worked as aides in the library during fourth period after football season was over.

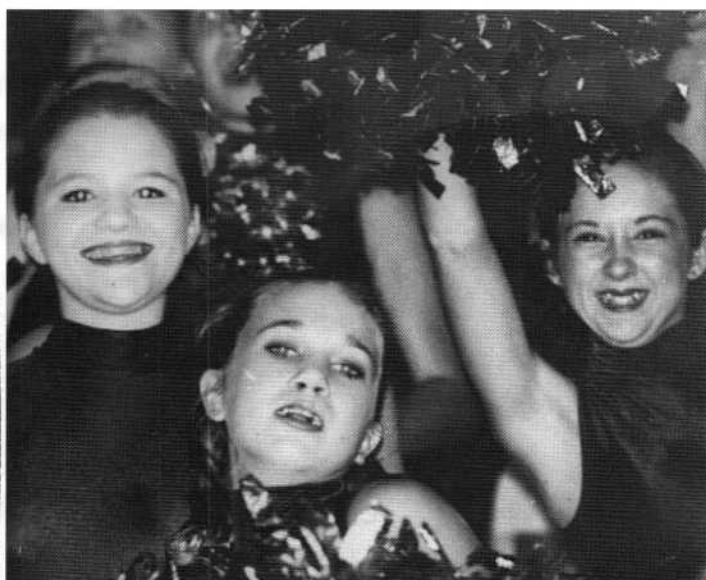

Mrs. Shari Adams shows her support for a drug free school at the Red Ribbon Week parade. Students and faculty were encouraged to wear red for this special event.

Greg Allenbaugh, Grant Moore, and Caleb Youree discuss the cattle at the Ft. Worth livestock show while waiting for Caleb's class to go into the ring. Caleb had a second place steer in the fourth class of exotic steers.

Lauren Garrison, Courtney Owens, and Susan Wright bunch together at a varsity football game while they try to keep warm in the cold drizzle. These three girls helped the varsity cheerleaders every Friday night as they beat the drums to the rhythm of the cheer.

Jennifer Halliburton discusses a problem she is having on her work sheets with English teacher Mrs. Trisha Meek. Mrs. Meek was always willing to help anybody who was having difficulty understanding an assignment.

Rachel Cork, Jessica Mortensen, and Patricia Anderson show their pearly whites while they cheer for the football team. The drill team members showed great dedication throughout the year from being at school by six in the morning to practice to performing in the rain.

Facing the Future

Bells I. S. D. is preparing for the future by upgrading their computer system and building a new elementary school down the road from the junior high and high school buildings.

Changing Faces OF The Panther

As another year comes to a close the faces at the Bells I. S. D. are ever-changing. There are new students registering for Pre-K and other classes regularly. The responsibilities of being a Senior have to be handed over to a new class. Many changes have been made throughout the year. A new elementary school has been planned. Powder puff football was brought back. Each new year promises to be another year of progress and new faces for Bells I. S. D.
