

March 18, 2020

Considering the president's address on March 16, 2020, Queen City ISD will remain closed until Wednesday, April 1, 2020. Classes will resume that morning at 7:55 am!

This closure will include all school related activities.

In all reality, a much longer closure could be looming.

We are working hard to finalize plans and will communicate those plans to you as soon as they are completed.

During this closure we will continue to remain in constant contact with TEA, as well as monitor information from the CDC and DSHS.

Parents, thank you for your patience and support during this time. We are forging a new type of partnership and it is going to require us working together like we never have before.

Students, please know that we are thinking about you and working hard to do what is best. We know many of you are disappointed that events have been postponed and your life interrupted. But know, this too shall pass.

Lastly, thank you to our amazing staff who have been working so hard to get everything organized and will continue to do so!

We will have information released on our alternative instructional plans in the next 24-48 hours!

Stay positive and have faith!
