Keynote Speaker: Dr. Stephen D. Russell

Our keynote, Dr. Stephen D. Russell is Director of Science and Technology and CTO for SPAWAR and Director of the Science and Technology Department at the SPAWAR Systems Center Pacific (SSC Pacific) in San Diego, California. SSC has a rich history of over 76 years of developing new technical capabilities that push the frontiers of science for the benefit of the Navy, Nation and warfighter. There is no other location where computer scientists, microbiologists, electrical engineers, research psychologists, physicists, and mechanical engineers work side-by-side with warfighters to develop the capabilities of the future. Hear about the latest research in biologically-inspired cyber systems, autonomous systems, microbial fuel cells and much more.

Upkar Dhaliwal , 2015-2016 Chair
