TECHNOLOGIC
ROKU

My family of four cut the cord over a year ago, and we love it! (We made the decision after the Hallmark Channel finally found its way to Sling TV.) Our first step was to replace the pricey cable boxes in the kids' rooms with Roku sticks. After realizing we could get all of our favorite networks through the right combination of streaming services, we cut cable entirely. Now, all our TVs have the same interface and, best of all, there's no extra equipment to watch in HD. —Mike Ankeney (left), Marketing Director
