

Some exciting changes are happening at Sullivan University starting in the Winter 2024 Quarter.

Beginning January 2, 2024, undergraduate and graduate students will no longer need to purchase books or parking passes. Instead, tuition will now cover the cost of textbooks and some other required course materials. This adjustment supports our efforts to alleviate one of the major challenges our students regularly experience - the need to purchase textbooks for every course.

We believe this change will ease some of the financial burden and provide students with the essential resources to support their studies with immediate access to their materials through Blackboard on the first day of class. Other benefits include compatibility across various devices, and the opportunity to make studies more accessible and convenient.

Dr. Tim Swenson
President
Sullivan University