122. "When Gold Blossoms"

Minimum Bid $100

Buy Me Now Price $500

This is an original acrylic on canvas by Carmen L.N. Gambrell, owner, owner of Carmen's Gallery on Solomon's Island. She chose to donate this painting from her November 17 gallery show collection. The painting was untitled until Carmen opened the invitation for the Harvest Ball. "When Gold Blossoms" seemed the perfect title, and this painting had to be the one to go to this event! The remainder of the collection will be on display at the "Carmen's Coming Out" gallery exhibition opening at Carmen's Gallery next Saturday, November 17 from 6-9 p.m.

Carmen's Gallery

Minimum Bid $75

Buy Me Now Price $225

Spice up the party with Margaritas and other frozen drinks with this Bahamas frozen concoction maker. Create amazing tropical parties that will make your neighbors peek through the fence to see what all the commotion is about. Unlike conventional blenders that simply smash all the ice and mixed drink ingredients together, the 450-watt Margaritaville® Frozen Concoction™ Maker actually shaves ice and blends it carefully with your fresh juices, fruits and other ingredients to produce up to 36 ounces of restaurant-style frozen drinks. An automated setting is pre-programmed to shave and blend to perfection while manual settings allow you to customize your drinks to a texture befitting your personal taste. It comes with a retro-style plastic pitcher with marine detailing on the backslash.

Keir Associates

130. Blue Ridge Getaway

Minimum Bid $75

Buy Me Now Price $400

You'd never know that this little Christmas Wreath and wire "house" holds a combination of events in the Blue Ridge Parkway and Skyline Drive. Make a stop at Luray Caverns with these two admission tickets. Drive on further when you arrive at your lodging in Staunton, Virginia at The Stonewall Jackson Hotel & Conference Center. Named for General Stonewall Jackson, this hotel originally opened in 1924 and quickly became the gathering place for the Shenandoah Valley society.

Enjoy Christmas scents with your new Yankee Candle with festive holiday holder, take a soaking bath, and then head out again to the American Shakespeare Theatre where you will enjoy your two tickets to any Blackfriars Playhouse performance. Wake up refreshed and take time to see Staunton's other historic sites including Woodrow Wilson's Birthplace and presidential library and the R.R. Smith Center for History and Art, just to name a few. You might also want to see a glass blowing exhibit at Sunspots Studios. Or take an exciting ride with two passes to the Adventure Park from River Riders!

131. Café Terrace at Night

Minimum Bid $75

Buy Me Now Price $300

Café Terrace at Night, also known as The Café Terrace on the Place du Forum, is a colored oil painting by the Dutch artist Vincent van Gogh in Arles, France in mid-September 1888. This stands as one of the painter's most remarkable works. It is also, without question, one of the most famous produced in Van Gogh's brief but prolific career. This work is the first in a trilogy of paintings which feature starlit skies. Starry Night Over the Rhone came within a month, followed by the popular Starry Night painted the next year in Saint-Rémy. This matted and framed reproduction is a great way to exhibit one of Vincent van Gogh's great works!

290. Lardarius Webb Football

Minimum Bid $50

Buy Me Now Price $300

Lardarius "L-Dubbs" Webb is a cornerback for the Baltimore Ravens, and was selected in the 2009 NFL draft. He played for Nicholls State in college. Early in the 2011 season, injuries forced Webb into the starting lineup, where he excelled and demonstrated he was the team's most talented corner. Quarterbacks had an average rating of 55.6 when throwing the ball against him. In the 2012 offseason, Webb signed a 6 year extension, worth reportedly $50 million with more than $20 million guaranteed, with the Ravens as a restricted free agent. Webb had a strong start to the year before tearing his ACL against the Dallas Cowboys, ending his season with 25 tackles (24 solo), one interception and one forced fumble. In October, 2012, he was officially placed on injured reserve. You don't want to miss out on this autographed collectible for the Baltimore Ravens!
