Backyard Batting Cages

Here's a new low-cost batting cage for backyard use. The cage is 10 ft. high. The top of the cage is 10 ft. wide while the bottom of the cage is 13-1/2 ft. wide. It is available in five lengths. A net made from #21 nylon netting, dyed black and bonded, goes over the 3/4 in. diameter steel conduit frame. We supply the net and the fittings for making the frame. You buy the conduit locally in the electrical department of any large home supply store for about $5 to $6 per 10 ft. length. Fittings include rubber tips for each leg so the cage may be used inside or outside. The cage net rests on top of the outsides of the frame. A cage net and frame can be put up by two people in less than an hour — no holes to dig or concrete to pour.

Water Removal

Prevent cancelled events and reduce turf damage! SuperSoppers pick up water and carry it away. They work on any playing surface... outfields, greens, artificial turf, clay & asphalt tennis courts, soccer & football fields, even muddy infields (filter cloth recommended). Installation Tips

- 50 lb. test safety ties should be used on the top row and 120 lb. test on the bottom row to allow the top safety ties to break in a wind storm.
- 9 ft. windscreens should have wind vents to relieve wind pressure.
- Wind screens and privacy screening are usually ordered in lengths of 60 ft. or less for ease of installation. This also minimizes replacement cost if a portion of your wind screen is damaged.
- Hang windscreens so that the seams and hems face toward the fence. That way the smooth surface will face the field or court.

Knitted Poly Installation Instructions

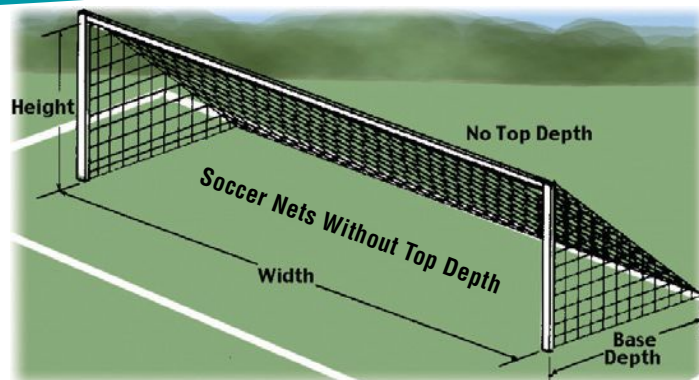

Knitted poly is becoming increasingly popular because of its long wear and relative low cost. The netting is generally lapped over a cable and hog ringed every mesh. It is then lifted with the cable into position on poles. The sides are then laced down the sides and across the bottom. The poles should not be more than 50 ft. apart. A typical 25' x 100' panel will measure approximately 8' x 135' before it is spread out. Installation instructions shipped with each order.

NEW STABILIZING TRAINING GOAL BASE

Now anchoring to the ground is much easier. The powder coated white ground base assembly lies flat on the ground (see goals at left). The ground stake is inserted through the middle of the base to anchor it to the ground. Then the upright is placed over a sleeve on the base assembly, resulting in a stable goal with no visible anchor to cause a tripping hazard.
