JUST IMAGINE ...

Cast Iron, a form of cookware developed over a millennia ago remains as popular today as when it was used to prepare meals for the Pilgrims, Lewis and Clark and President William McKinley in 1896, the year Joseph Lodge began our foundry.

Many of the pieces of Cast Iron cookware made in the Lodge Foundry over a century ago remain in use today (Lodge was sustainable before it was cool!). And Cast Iron is one of only two metals compatible with induction stovetops (How did those medieval metallurgists know that?).

Lodge, the sole U.S. manufacturer of Cast Iron Cookware and the oldest family-owned cookware company in the country, is based in the tiny town of South Pittsburg, TN (Population 3,300).

With the introduction of supposedly new "green" cookware, Lodge is ranked as the "Original Green Skillet" by Cook's Illustrated.

IMAGINE ADDING COLORS, AND EXCEEDING EXPECTATIONS ...

Lodge has expanded our brand with two lines of enamel-coated cast iron: the L Series, with vibrant colors, contemporary styling and stainless steel handles; and Color, featuring gradated colors and traditional design. Made to our exacting specifications in China, both lines offer superior cooking performance; at considerably lower prices than our French competitors.

The L Series and Lodge Color, like our foundry seasoned cast iron, have garnered praise from Cook's Illustrated, Fine Cooking, Good Housekeeping and many others.

FOREVER AND ALWAYS, REMEMBER THAT

In the Lodge Foundry, every half hour molten metal is tested to ensure proper metal chemistry ... and we don't pour metal until it's perfect. A constant is the use of Lodge Cast Iron in our own kitchens (always remember, honesty begins in the home). Tightly controlled metal chemistry and exacting mold tolerance deliver consistent product for even heating and superior cooking performance.

> Natural sand mold surface is ideal for our seasoned, ready to use finish.

Sturdy integral, ovenproof handles and assist handles provide life long durability.

Precision fit iron covers have integral, ovenproof handles.

Lodge Logic is electrostatically coated with a proprietary vegetable oil, and cured at high temperatures to allow the oil to deeply penetrate the surface of the cast iron.

The underside of optional iron covers are designed with self-basting tips allowing condensing liquid to fall onto food, retaining vitamins and moisture.

LODGE LOGIC and Pro-logic

American Made Since 1896

LODGE LOGIC

The introduction of Logic (foundry seasoned cookware) placed Lodge Cast Iron at the forefront of the cookware industry. Logic earned a 2003 Good Housekeeping "Good Buy Award," creating a new generation of cooks using traditionally designed cast iron, seasoned with a soy-based vegetable oil.

With Logic, cooks can prepare their favorite meals upon purchase and the healthy, easy release allows them to make low-fat meals day after day, generation after generation.

PRO-LOGIC

Contemporary in styling, with graceful rolled edges, curved lines and legendary cooking performance are the hallmarks of Pro-Logic by Lodge Cast Iron. Foundry seasoned, Pro-Logic Cookware is ready to use, right out of the box.

SKILLET UNDER GLASS WE'VE GOT A NEW RECIPE

Lodge Cast Iron now has glass lids for our 10-1/4 inch and 12 inch Foundry Seasoned Skillets, Deep Skillets, Dutch Ovens and Chicken Fryers.

It's okay to peek.

Glass lids offer a distinct advantage over iron lids: the ability to see recipes as they become delicious appetizers, meals and desserts!

It is the original non-stick skillet. It is the best thing for blackening fish. It can be used for every meal of the day, including desserts (people bake pies in them). It is safe to use on top of the stove, in the oven, on the grill, in a fireplace or even a campfire.

"Most people don't realize that when you cook with a cast iron wok, it imparts healthful amounts of dietary iron into your food. Iron supplements are difficult for the body to absorb, but the small amounts of iron you get from cooking in an iron pan are better absorbed in the body."

LODGE LOGIC OUTDOORS

From colonial hearth fires to the campfires of Lewis and Clark, cast iron camp ovens fed the colonists, helped tame the wilderness, and did their share in settling the American West. Cast iron cookware has long been treasured as sought after heirlooms, so much so that, when Lewis and Clark returned from their journey west, their trusted cast iron pots were among the few items making it back to civilization.

Like whiskey and tall tales, Lodge Cast Iron improves with age. And, there are few companies who can boast that products they made over 100 years ago remain in use today – and are still in high demand. You just won't find anyone who knows camp oven cooking like Lodge. Our camp ovens have proven themselves with avid outdoorsmen and patio pioneers from Tennessee to Tokyo. When you create a meal in Lodge Cast Iron you create a memory that lasts a lifetime.

lid is flanged to contain hot coals on top so the oven can be used for baking, stewing, and roasting. The versatile lid can be inverted for use as a griddle.

TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY ELEGANCE, TIMELESS FUNCTION

Ever the leader in Cast Iron Cookware innovation, Lodge introduced the Signature Series: Seasoned Cast Iron with Stainless Handles in 2007.

Featuring an industry first cool-to-the-touch handles riveted to cast iron, the Signature Series 12-inch skillet won first place honors in the 2008 Housewares Association's Design Contest in the Cookware and Bakeware Category, and Best in Show for all 13 Categories.

Made in the United States, the Signature Series features stainless steel handles for our skillets and grill pans that remain cool when cooking on stovetop, enhancing the unparalleled performance of Lodge Cast Iron.

"And the much needed 'Helper Handle' on the far side of the pan makes it at last, easy to move the pan (Lodge Signature Series 10-inch skillet) around. Nice job updating and improving an industry classic." PUBLISHER'S PICK, KITCHENWARE NEWS.

LODGE L-SERIES

Lodge L-Series Porcelain Enamel on Cast Iron cookware is cast from molten iron in individual sand molds. After the porcelain (glass) is applied, the casting is baked at a high temperature bonding the glass to the casting. The process is repeated several times, first with a base coat, and then several coats of color porcelain. Lodge L-Series is made to our exact specifications in China. Traditional sand casting, may produce small surface cosmetic irregularities that will not affect the quality or cooking performance.

Superior quality and reasonable pricing makes every shopper's dream of owning enamel coated cast iron cookware come true.

An extra dash of style is added to our Patriot Red, Liberty Blue and Apple Green color palette, with "L" shaped stainless steel handles on Dutch Oven lids, providing a generous grip and perfect balance.

L-Series cookware can be used on all stovetops and in ovens, including induction, at temperatures below 500°F. The cookware should not be used in the microwave, or on outdoor grills/camp fires.

Product features include:

- Where the lid and pot meet, the visible black edge is matte black enamel undercoat, more chip resistant than the primary colors. The white enamel cooking surface is FDA approved.
- Porcelain enamel eliminates the need to "season" cast iron, creating a non-reactive surface perfect for all cooking techniques, as well as marinating, refrigerating or freezing.
- The corrosion resistant No. 304 stainless steel handles remain cool-touch while cooking stovetop at moderate heat.
- L-Series cookware has a limited lifetime warranty for home use.

Made in China.

LODGE ENAMEL The Color Series:

Porcelain Enamel on Cast Iron

LODGE COLOR SERIES NEW STAINLESS KNOBS AVAILABLE IN MAY

Lodge Color Porcelain Enamel on Cast Iron cookware is cast from molten iron in individual sand molds. After the porcelain (glass) is applied, the casting is baked at a high temperature bonding the glass to the casting. The process is repeated three times, first with a base coat, and then two coats of color porcelain. Lodge Color is made to our exact specifications in China. Traditional sand casting, may produce small surface cosmetic irregularities that will not affect the quality or cooking performance.

The porcelain surface eliminates the need to season cast iron.

The cast iron vessel has superior heat distribution and retention, evenly heating bottom, sidewalls, and even lid. Two layers of very hard, glossy porcelain enamel are chip resistant but not chip proof.

Hygienic porcelain enamel is non-reactive with food.

New oven-proof stainless knobs.

The excellent heat retention reduces the amount of energy needed for cooking.

- The black rim on the pot and lid as well as the cooking surface of the skillet is matte porcelain, not exposed cast iron.
 - Use for any cooking technique, as well as to marinate, refrigerate, and freeze.
 - Lodge Color Porcelain Enamel on Cast Iron cookware can be used on gas, electric, ceramic, and induction cooktops, as well as in the oven.
 - Limited Lifetime Warranty for home use.

Made in China.

LODGE GEAR Kitchen & Outdoor Accessories

LODGE KITCHEN GEAR

Our accessories include hot handle mitts for keeping hands protected from hot handles, splatter screens for protecting cook and counter top from hot grease, and tongs to protect sizzling seared meat or perfectly pan-fried chicken from being pierced and losing savory juices. Easily turn the Dutch oven into a deep fryer with one of three sizes of fry baskets, and add a deep fry thermometer for an assist with oil temperature maintenance. Our simple wooden scrub brush –with bristles stiff, but not too stiff – protects your cherished seasoned finish during after cooking clean-up.

LODGE OUTDOOR GEAR

From Boy Scouts, to hunting lodges and fishing banks, camp cooking is a Lodge specialty. Whether in the backyard or at the campsite, our charcoal starter (for ready coals in 10 minutes – no joke), our mansized red leather gloves for handling anything hot, and our tough, dishwasher safe, stainless barbecue tools, are the niftiest outdoor cooking tools around. For the true Dutch oven cook, we have lid lifters for carefully lifting charcoal laden lids, lid stands, Dutch oven tote bags for carrying and storing, 16" tongs for moving hot charcoal briquettes, and tripods for hanging Dutch ovens over a campfire. Our strong and durable Dutch oven cooking table with tall windscreens holds two Dutch oven stacks, makes cooking more convenient and protects the ground from fire.

"Least expensive pan. It's hand-wash only and this was the easiest pan to clean. In terms of flavor and visual appeal, we cast our vote for the pre-seasoned cast-iron and not just because it was the least expensive pan. It produced chicken with a deep sear and crispy exterior."

USE AND CARE: LODGE ENAMEL

THINGS TO KNOW BEFORE COOKING

Before using your cookware wash and dry.

The porcelain coating is very chip-resistant, but not chip-proof.

There's no exposed cast iron, even the matte black surfaces are porcelain. No seasoning required.

Use on any kitchen cooktop—even induction.

When using glass or ceramic cooktops always lift cookware to move. Particles can be trapped between cooktop and cookware; dragging or scooting can cause scratching.

Bake or Broil in any conventional or convection oven. The porcelain coated cast iron cookware and stainless steel handles are safe at any oven setting.

Do not use in microwaves.

LET'S COOK

Use for any cooking technique. Use to marinate and even refrigerate.

A light coat of vegetable oil is recommended for better cooking and easier cleaning.

When cooking stovetop use low to medium heat for best results.

Use nylon, silicone, or wood utensils. Metal utensils will scratch the glass surface.

CLEAN UP

Although Lodge enamel is dishwasher safe, hand washing in warm soapy water is recommended to preserve original finish.

If you've really burned something, boil 2 cups of water and 1/4 cup of baking soda in the cookware.

For stains, soak with a powdered oxygenated cleaner, such as Oxi-Clean (2 tablespoon of cleaner and 4 cups of water).

If necessary use nylon scrapers and scrubbers. No metal.

If the handles become loose-tighten the screws. Be gentle, it's glass.

USE AND CARE: SIGNATURE SERIES

CAST IRON

Before using your new foundry seasoned Lodge Cast Iron, rinse with hot water and dry thoroughly.

When cooking, use 1-2 tablespoons of vegetable oil.

After cooking, clean cookware with hot water, using a non-metallic brush or nylon scrubber. If necessary use mild soap. Harsh detergents should never be used. Towel dry immediately.

While utensil is still warm, apply a very light coat of vegetable oil and wipe with paper towel to restore shine and protect seasoned finish.

Store in a cool, dry place. If your utensil has a lid, place a folded paper towel between lid and utensil to allow air circulation.

NEVER wash in dishwasher. Never use in the microwave.

STAINLESS STEEL

Handles are marine grade (304) stainless steel, for maximum durability.

To clean stainless steel handles, use a cloth with hot, soapy water. Rinse and dry immediately to avoid water spots. Use nylon scrubbers if necessary. Do not use steel wool.

It is normal for high heat to cause discoloration. Some foods may cause spotting. To clean use your favorite stainless steel cleaner.

USE AND CARE: GLASS COVERS

Glass covers are tempered glass for safety.

Glass covers are dishwasher safe.

Knobs are oven safe up to 400° F.

USE AND CARE: LODGE LOGIC & PRO•LOGIC

Hand wash. Dry immediately.

Rub with a light coat of vegetable oil after every use. How much oil? Enough to restore the sheen.

Why!? To keep the iron "seasoned" and protected from moisture.

SEASONING-IT ISN'T SALT AND PEPPER

"Seasoning" is a coat of vegetable oil baked onto the iron at a high temperature.

The resulting finish provides the easy release properties. The more you cook, the better it gets.

You may experience some sticking with new cookware so use a little oil when cooking.

"Seasoning" is not a chemical non-stick coating.

Because YOU create, maintain, and even repair the "seasoning," your cookware can last 100 years or more. Chemical non-stick coatings cannot be repaired, limiting their lifespan.

TO SOAP OR NOT TO SOAP

Mild soapy water is fine, if you dry and oil immediately. If "no soap" is too scary, consider that most cookware is 400°F in 4 minutes on medium heat. It's sterile at 212°F.

RUST ?? DON'T PANIC-IT'S NOT BROKEN

Without protective seasoning iron can rust.

It's really easy to fix. Scour the rust, rinse and dry, rub with a little vegetable oil.

Lots of rust? You may have to re-season, visit www.lodgemfg.com for directions. It's easy!

WHEN IT'S HOT, IT'S HOT

Lodge seasoned cast iron is right at home on any heat source, except the microwave. Use induction, ceramic, electric, gas cooktops, the grill, or even the campfire.

When using glass or ceramic cooktops always lift cookware to move. Particles can be trapped between cooktop and cookware; dragging or scooting can cause scratching.

THEY SAID IT...

"The gold standard in cast iron is the Lodge brand, starting at $9.95." PREVENTION MAGAZINE

"Cast-Iron Skillet (Lodge Logic 12-inch) It's not a specialty kitchen item, which means you can cook almost anything in it. It'll enrich your eggs and burgers and grilled cheese and fish fillets and rib eyes with the earned flavors of a well-used grill. It's impossible to break and can go in the oven. And it will last longer than you." Rated the #1 thing a man should own.

ESQUIRE

"So why, in this day of high-priced and scientifically manufactured cooking alloys, would anyone want something as old-fashioned as a cast-iron pan? Because it is the best pan around." FLORIDA TIMES-UNION "The cast-iron king is the American company Lodge, founded in 1896. To add to its green credentials, Lodge cookware is famously long-lasting. My mother has a set dating from around 1910; it is in perfect condition." THE LONDON TIMES

"If you're a fan of enameled cast iron (like the fancy French kind), check out Lodge Cast Iron. This Tennessee company has been making traditional skillets, Dutch ovens, and more for 114 years, but their colorful new cookware is the hottest thing on the market." SOUTHERN LIVING

"If you didn't inherit your cast iron, the Lodge Logic Series has the look of instant heirloom about it. And it's preseasoned to give you a non-stick, rust-free surface." HOUSE BEAUTIFUL
